language ideologies in multilingual communities Although the vast majority of the world's speech communities are multilingual much of sociolinguistics ignores this internal diversity This volume fills this gap investigating social and linguistic dimensions of variation and change in multilingual communities Drawing on research in a wide range of countries Canada USA South Africa Australia Papua New Guinea Solomon Islands Vanuatu it explores connections between the fields of creolistics language dialect contact and language acquisition how the study of variation and change particularly in cases of additive bilingualism is central to understanding social and linguistic issues in multilingual communities how changing language ideologies and changing demographics influence language choice and or language policy and the pivotal place of multilingualism in enacting social power and authority and a rich array of new empirical findings on the dynamics of multilingual speech communities
