

Love Maps Questionnaire

*Adapted from John Gottman,
The Seven Principles for Making Marriage
Work*

By giving honest answers to the following questions, you will get a sense of the quality of your current love maps. For the most accurate reading of how your marriage is doing on this first principle, both of you should complete the following.

Read each statement and circle T for "true" or F for "false."

1. I can name my partner's best friends. T F
2. I can tell you what stresses my partner is currently facing. T F
3. I know the names of some of the people who have been irritating my partner lately. T F
4. I can tell you some of my partner's life dreams. T F
5. I am very familiar with my partner's religious beliefs and ideas. T F
6. I can tell you about my partner's basic philosophy of life. T F
7. I can list the relatives my partner likes the least. T F
8. I know my partner's favourite music. T F
9. I can list my partner's three favourite movies. T F
10. My spouse is familiar with my current stresses. T F
11. I know the three most special times in my partner's life. T F
12. I can tell you the most stressful thing that happened to my partner as a child. T F
13. I can list my partner's major aspirations and hopes in life. T F
14. I know my partner's major current worries. T F
15. My spouse knows who my friends are. T F
16. I know what my partner would want to do if he or she suddenly came into a lot of money. T F
17. I can tell you in detail my first impressions of my partner. T F
18. Periodically I ask my partner about his or her world right now. T F
19. I feel that my partner knows me pretty well. T F
20. My spouse is familiar with my hopes and aspirations. T F

Scoring: Give yourself one point for each "true" answer.

10 or above: This is an area of strength for your marriage. You have a fairly detailed map of your spouse's everyday life, hopes, fears, and dreams. You know what makes your spouse "tick."

Below 10: Your marriage could stand some improvement in this area. Perhaps you never had the time or the tools to really get to know each other. Or perhaps your love maps have become outdated as your lives have changed over the years. In either case, by taking the time to learn more about your spouse now, you'll find your relationship becomes stronger.

The Family Systems Test (FAST) Thomas M. Gehring, Marianne Debry, Peter K. Smith, 2013-02-01 The Family System Test FAST developed by Thomas M Gehring is an important new tool for investigating family relations Based on the structural systemic theory of families it is a figural technique for representing emotional bonds cohesion and hierarchical structures in the family or similar social systems In this unique volume the editors draw on current theory and research in family or similar social systems together with a variety of empirical studies that have used the FAST to provide a comprehensive overview and assessment of the test and its use in various clinical research contexts The book is divided into four sections each focusing on a different aspect of the FAST Part 1 describes the concepts and psychometric properties of the FAST within the context of theoretically and empirically relevant aspects of the field of family psychology as a whole Special emphasis is given to systematic structural approaches to assessing individual and family functioning Part II focuses on the use of the FAST in developmental research For example the the FAST has been used to show how family constructs are influenced by age type of family and situation Part III deals with cross cultural issues and compares the interpersonal constructs of Japanese and Chinese families to Western families Finally Part IV addresses the applications of the FAST in clinical setting in diagnosis of biopsychosocial problems and planning and evaluation of clinical interventions The result is a book that helps to bridge the gap between theory practice and research It will be essential reading for users of the FAST and all clinicians and researchers who work in family relations and development

The Seven Principles for Making Marriage Work John Gottman, Ph.D.,2002-02-04 Just as Masters and Johnson were pioneers in the study of human sexuality so Dr John Gottman has revolutionized the study of marriage As a professor of psychology at the University of Washington and the founder and director of the Seattle Marital and Family Institute he has studied the habits of married couples in unprecedented detail over the course of many years His findings and his heavily attended workshops have already turned around thousands of faltering marriages This book is the culmination of his life s work the seven principles that guide couples on the path toward a harmonious and long lasting relationship Straightforward in their approach yet profound in their effect these principles teach partners new and startling strategies for making their marriage work Gottman helps couples focus on each other on paying attention to the small day to day moments that strung together make up the heart and soul of any relationship Being thoughtful about ordinary matters provides spouses with a solid foundation for resolving conflict when it does occur and finding strategies for living with those issues that cannot be resolved. Packed with questionnaires and exercises whose effectiveness has been proven in Dr. Gottman's workshops, The Seven Principles for Making Marriage Work is the definitive guide for anyone who wants their relationship to attain its highest potential. The Seven Principles for Making Marriage Work is the result of Dr. John Gottman's many years of closely observing thousands of marriages. This kind of longitudinal research has never been done before. Based on his findings, he has culled seven principles essential to the success of any marriage: Maintain a love map, Foster fondness and admiration, Turn toward instead of away, Accept influence, Solve solvable conflicts, Cope with conflicts you can't resolve, Create shared meaning. Dr. Gottman's unique questionnaires and exercises will guide couples on the road to revitalizing their marriage or making a strong one even better.

Changing Roles for a New Psychotherapy John G. Miller, 2013. In this text, readers are taken beyond the standard medical model of diagnosis and treatment by drawing on the roles of other professions. Miller examines 11 different occupations and explores what each field has to offer to psychotherapy to help enhance therapeutic possibilities.

The Marriage Clinic John M. Gottman, 2016-12-19. The Marriage Clinic presents a complete marital therapy program based on John Gottman's much heralded research on marital success and failure. Here, one will find not only a wide range of succinct and useful assessment procedures but also a highly specific research-based and modularized treatment program. In addition, there are dozens of questionnaires and interview protocols to be used in both assessment and intervention. In prospective long-term research with over 700 couples, Gottman has discovered certain factors that distinguish happy, stable couples from both unstable, ultimately divorcing couples and stable but unhappy couples. These findings, which are explained here in understandable, nontechnical language, form the basis of his Sound Marital House theory of marriage, which guides the new therapy. This therapy has two goals: changing the marital friendship and teaching couples to regulate conflict. Despite the high aims of much marital therapy, Gottman found that most marital conflicts involve fundamentally unresolvable relationship issues called perpetual problems. He shows how therapists can help spouses move from gridlock to dialogue on these issues. Solvable problems can be resolved more easily when the couple has a strong marital friendship. He gives therapists the tools to teach spouses five fundamental skills to develop and strengthen their friendship: softened start-up, accepting influence, repair, and de-escalation, compromise, and physiological soothing. Gottman compares his clinic to a restaurant where clients are offered a menu of treatment formats from psychoeducation for specific issues to extended therapy to repair a badly damaged marital friendship. Therapists too can choose among the questionnaires and strategies for those that fit the needs of particular couples. Whatever their choice, they will find that their practice is greatly enriched by the scientifically based offerings of The Marriage Clinic.
