Governing With The News Governing With The News:

Governing with the News Timothy E. Cook, 1998-02-17 From the opening decades of the republic when political parties sponsored newspapers to current governmental practices that actively subsidize the collection and dissemination of the news the press and the government have been far from independent Unlike those earlier days however the news is no longer produced by a diverse range of individual outlets but is instead the result of a collective institution that exercises collective power In explaining how the news media of today operate as an intermediary political institution akin to the party system and interest group system Cook demonstrates how the differing media strategies used by governmental agencies and branches respond to the constitutional and structural weaknesses inherent in a separation of powers system Cook examines the news media's capacity to perform the political tasks that they have inherited and points the way to a debate on policy solutions in order to hold the news media accountable without treading upon the freedom of the press Governing with the News

Timothy E. Cook, 2005 The ideal of a neutral objective press has proven in recent years to be just that an ideal In Governing with the News Timothy E. Cook goes far beyond the single claim that the press is not impartial to argue that the news media are in fact a political institution integral to the day to day operations of our government This updated edition includes a new afterword by the author which pays close attention to two key developments in the twenty first century the accelerating fragmentation of the mass media and the continuing decline of Americans confidence in the press Provocative and often wise Cook who has a complex understanding of the relationship between governing and the news provides a fascinating account of the origins of this complicity James Bennet Washington Monthly Governing with the News addresses central issues of media impact and power in fresh illuminating ways Cook mines a wealth of historical and organizational literature to assert that the news media are a distinct political institution in our democratic system Robert Schmuhl Commonweal Governing With the News, Second Edition

Timothy E. Cook, 2012-08-06 The ideal of a neutral objective press has proven in recent years to be just that an ideal In Governing with the News Timothy E. Cook goes far beyond the single claim that the press is not impartial to argue that the news media are in fact a political institution integral to the day to day operations of our government This updated edition includes a new afterword by the author which pays close attention to two key developments in the twenty first century the accelerating fragmentation of the mass media and the continuing decline of Americans confidence in the press Provocative and often wise Cook who has a complex understanding of the relationship between governing and the news provides a fascinating account of the origins of this complicity James Bennet Washington Monthly Governing with the News addresses central issues of media impact and power in fresh illuminating ways Cook mines a wealth of historical and organizational literature to assert that the news media are a distinct political institution in our democratic system Robert Schmuhl Commonweal The Algorithmic Distribution of News James Meese, Sara Bannerman, 2022-09-22 This volume explores how governments policymakers and newsrooms have responded to the algorithmic distribution of the news

Contributors analyse the ongoing battle between platforms and publishers evaluate recent attempts to manage these tensions through policy reform and consider whether algorithms can be regulated to promote media diversity and stop misinformation and hate speech Chapter authors also interview journalists and find out how their work is changing due to the growing importance of algorithmic systems Drawing together an international group of scholars the book takes a truly global perspective offering case studies from Switzerland Germany Kenya New Zealand Canada Australia and China The collection also provides a series of critical analyses of recent policy developments in the European Union and Australia which aim to provide a more secure revenue base for news media organisations A valuable resource for journalism and policy scholars and students Governing the Algorithmic Distribution of News is an important guide for anyone hoping to understand the central regulatory issues surrounding the online distribution of news

News Media Coverage of the Vice-Presidential Selection Process Christopher J. Devine, 2023-04-01 This book provides the first systematic empirical analysis of the media's approach to US vice presidential selection or the veepstakes In their news coverage Devine finds that media outlets typically treat vice presidential selection as little more than a game by focusing on how potential running mates might help to win the election rather than how they might help the next president to govern Based on an original content analysis of hundreds of veepstakes profiles from 2000-2020 this book quantifies the news media's relative emphasis on various selection criteria in general and across different electoral circumstances The analysis suggests that journalists generally fail to serve the public interest by emphasizing electoral over governing considerations However Devine also points to positive examples of media coverage that help the public to evaluate potential running mates governing credentials and suggests ways in which scholars journalists and citizens might encourage media outlets to provide more substantive responsible coverage of the vice presidential selection process in future elections
