Cheng Ho and Islam in Southeast Asia Tan Ta Sen, 2003-08-01 Tan Ta Sen has modestly suggested that as a book to illustrate the peaceful impact of culture contact he is concerned to show how such cultural influences not only led to transmissions conversions and transferences involving Inner Asian Muslims from China and Yunnan Muslims Chams Javanese Malays Arabs and Indians but also enabled many Chinese in the Malay world to retain their non Muslim cultural traits In placing Cheng Ho's voyages in this context the author offers a fresh perspective on a momentous set of events in Chinese maritime history Professor Wang Gungwu National University of Singapore Tan Ta Sen's book on Cheng Ho and Islam in Southeast Asia is not the first one on the subject but it is the first book that puts Cheng Ho's voyages in the larger context of the culture contacts in China and beyond He has garnered numerous sources from published documents to architectural sites and buildings to support his arguments He has done much more than previous scholars writing on this subject Professor Leo Suryadinata Chinese Heritage Centre Singapore This long awaited book is welcomed by the academic community Tan Ta Sen has used historical facts to strengthen the argument on the existence of the Third Wave i.e. the Chinese Wave in the spread of Islam in the Southeast Asian region Until now we only know two major waves i.e. the India Gujarat Wave and the Middle East Wave through the development of trade relations Professor A Dahana University of Indonesia Jakarta

China's Civil Service Reform Wang Xiaoqi, 2012-05-04 A market economy and a more liberal society have brought great challenges to China's outdated governance structure and personnel management To improve decision making in government and reshape the management system in face of a more complex economy post Mao authorities have implemented a number of administrative reforms including civil service reform which emphasized on selecting and promoting public officials based on their capability and work performance Thousands of positions have been filled since the civil service system was implemented nationwide in 1993 The Chinese civil service reform is of far reaching significance because it had the potential to be a departure from the established structure of cadre personnel management system developed in the 1950s However after several years of policy development scholars observe that the new reforms have done little to undermine the old cadre system Is this true Or does this conclusion over simplify the complicated implementation of the reforms This book examines the implementation and performance of the on going civil service reforms in China Using the principal agent framework the author draw upon key case studies showing how the reforms affect civil servants incentives and behavior in the local context and the Chinese leadership's control over the bureaucracy China's reform experience speaks directly to many Asian countries facing urgent need to improve state capacity as the global financial crisis unfolds

Getting Schools to Work Better Yifei Yan, 2024-03-15 Yifei Yan's ambitious multi method case study of government middle schools in Beijing and Delhi provides fresh insights into how educational accountability can be designed to work in part and as a whole Getting schools to work better is a challenge just about everywhere Many policy experts prescribe measures for strengthening school accountability either through government command and control or through alternative market and societal actors In challenging this conventional wisdom this book examines how China and India are tackling the challenge with a specific focus on supporting teachers along with traditional accountability strengthening measures The book draws implications from its case studies for how education systems can be designed towards the fulfilment of Sustainable Development Goal 4 It further develops the concept of Accountability 3 0 to elucidate a novel and more holistic reconceptualisation of the appropriate means needed to fulfil multiple purposes of accountability in which providing support to frontline workers is viewed as an integral component This book will appeal to a wide spectrum of scholars and practitioners in the fields of comparative education public administration public policy and development studies among others It will be especially interesting to those from the developing world facing similar accountability challenges as described Chapter 1 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license      The Herald of Asia ,1923
