Politics in Malaysia Edmund Terence Gomez, 2007-04-11 Examining some of the most critical issues in Malaysian politics today including human rights law and democracy gender and Islam this book explores the contours of the contemporary landscape of Malaysian politics focusing especially on politics among the majority ethnic Malay community In particular the book explains why changes in patterns of political mobilization and the rhetoric of the dominant parties particularly the PAS and UMNO have been so limited despite the overt and growing dissatisfaction shown by Malaysians with the state of their political system and the ability of these parties to represent their interests It considers the recent history of events and discourses within Malaysian society and UMNO and PAS and goes on to analyze why important transitions have occurred in society yet political parties have not adapted themselves to these changes and remained reticent about instituting meaningful reforms involving these matters

Why should the university or college student study political science What good will it do him or her in later life Will it help the student in getting a job in getting ahead First of all it should be made clear that the primary objective of this political study is citizenship training Its aim is to better the condition of human beings by helping them to realise their rights and obligations However the good citizen who behaves and votes regularly is no longer good enough Mere innocence virtue and good intentions will not help societies develop and move in the right direction Students must also be citizens who are knowledgeable They must know how their governments operate what interests and forces are behind particular policies what the results of such policies are likely to be who their elected representatives are and what they stand for The governance and political study enables students to understand the processes and institutions of societal decision making Such an understanding often includes knowing who makes the decision for what reason and in whose interest as well as how decisions can be encouraged modified or prevented by citizens as a member of any social systems The purpose of governance and political study is not limited to the provision of relevant information Students can follow a career as a professional politician Even though the said knowledge is not required to enter the political field but it is considered an asset if one has adequate grounding in this area This book has been blended by three authors in order to make it more effective and relevant to the current issues so that it can be understood by the readers efficiently Finally they can work within government bureaucracies such as ministry or a state department especially those dealing with public planning national integration political development national unity policy making and diplomatic services

The Public Sphere and Media Politics in Malaysia Mohd Azizuddin Mohd Sani, 2009-01-14 This book analyses Malaysian media from the Jurgen Habermas perspectives of the public sphere especially from the aspects of bourgeois public sphere mass press the commercialisation of the press and refeudalisation Malaysia has also faced all of those aspects However the highlight of this book is the process called defeudalisation The 2008 General Election has shown that a new public sphere of cyberspace or the Internet and the mobile phone was accessed and utilised significantly and was enough to be used by the opposition in influencing the public to vote them It became one of the major factors in determining the result of the election which is for the first time the opposition denying the ruling government a two third majority in the parliament and taking control or governing of five states This new and influential public sphere in Malaysia has reversed the Habermas argument of refeudalisation to a process called Defeudalisation However in creating a civil public sphere for the people to deliberate views this book also argues that Malaysia needs a responsible media or freedom of the press with social responsibility This book urges Malaysia to accept the idea or theory of social responsibility and the concept of public journalism in the public sphere This book is suitable for all interested politicians journalists academia and students of politics media studies laws and Malaysian studies in the issues of media politics free press and the role of media in Malaysian society as well as those interested in civil liberties democratisation political theory media theory law and Malaysian studies

Distributive Politics in Malaysia Hidekuni Washida, 2018-10-11 The election on 9 May 2018 ended six decades of rule by the ruling coalition in Malaysia Barisan Nasional or BN formerly the Alliance Despite this result the BN's longevity and resilience to competition is remarkable This book explores the mechanisms behind the emergence endurance fight for survival and decline of the party's dominance Using a systematic analysis of key resources budgets posts and seats Washida challenges the conventional argument that a punitive threat to exclude opposition supporters from distributive benefits sustained the loyalty of the masses as well as the elites He also calls into question whether the mere existence of party organization in and of itself enables leaders to credibly commit to power sharing Instead he posits a theory of mobilization agency in which a party leader needs to design an effective incentive mechanism In addition he explains how the BN had manufactured legislative dominance by tactical gerrymandering and malapportionment The insights drawn from the Malaysian case can help deepen our understanding of the rise and fall of authoritarian parties and distributive politics in general Chapters 1 and 7 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Government and Society in Malaysia Harold Crouch, 2019-01-24 The Malaysian political system incorporates a mix of democratic and authoritarian characteristics In this comprehensive account Harold Crouch argues that while they may appear contradictory the responsive and the repressive features of the system combine in an integrated and coherent whole Consistently dominated by the Malay party UMNO which represents the largest ethnic group the Malaysian government requires the support of its Chinese Indian and East Malaysian minorities to retain control The need to appeal to a politically and ethnically divided electorate restrains the arbitrary exercise of power by the ruling coalition As a result the government responds to popular aspirations particularly since a split in the dominant Malay party in the 1980s Yet it also controls the electoral process ensuring victory in all national elections Communal social and economic factors have all contributed in rather ambiguous ways to shaping the Malaysian political system Communal tensions change in the class structure and the consequences of economic growth have generated pressures in both democratic and authoritarian directions The government has been remarkably stable despite sharp ethnic divisions and Crouch suggests it is unlikely to move swiftly toward full democracy in the near future

Islam, Politics and Youth in Malaysia Dominik Mueller, 2014-03-05

Providing an ethnographic account of the Islamic Party of Malaysia PAS and its Youth Wing Dewan Pemuda PAS this book analyses the genesis and role of Islamic movements in terms of their engagement in mainstream politics It explores the party's changing approach towards popular culture and critically investigates whether the narrative of a post Islamist turn can be applied to the PAS Youth The book shows that in contrast to the assumption that Islamic marketization and post Islamism are reinforcing each other the PAS Youth has strategically appropriated and integrated Islamic consumerism to pursue a decidedly Islamist or pop Islamist political agenda The media savvy PAS Youth elites which are at the forefront of implementing new outreach strategies for the party categorically oppose tendencies of political moderation among the senior party Instead they are most passionately calling for the establishment of a Syariah based Islamic order for state and society although these renewed calls are increasingly expressed through modern channels such as Facebook YouTube rock music celebrity advertising branded commodities and other market driven forms of social movement mobilization A timely and significant contribution to the literature on Islam and politics in Malaysia and beyond this book sheds new light on widespread assumptions or even hopes of post Islamism It is of interest to students and scholars of Political Religion and Southeast Asian Politics
