disorder Mothers care for the emotional physical and spiritual needs of their children but who cares for them Cathy Robinson watched her daughter starve herself until she was near death The resulting helplessness was almost too much for a mother to bear Making matters worse was the feeling that she was utterly alone in her guilt and pain She needed others to identify with and help her through this difficult time A Melody of Hope Surviving Your Daughter s Eating Disorder features inspirational true stories written by mothers of daughters who have recovered from eating disorders they seek to provide encouragement hope and support to mothers beginning their journey Told with breathtaking honesty and insight these stories represent some of the many experiences shared by these mothers For a mother coming to terms with her daughter s illness these stories represent a welcome community of understanding There are very few books that feature families and fewer still recounting success stories Far too many are stories written about the tragedy a family experiences when a family member dies as a result of the disorder not about the much larger community that experiences success Hope is what people need during those periods when it seems the disorder will never be overcome and hope is what this book offers Bryan Gusdal MA Program founder director Westwind Eating Disorder Recovery Centre Brandon Manitoba
