Hospice Or Hemlock Hospice Or Hemlock:

Hospice Or Hemlock? Constance E. Putnam, 2002 Hospice or Hemlock? Constance Putnam, 2002-10-30 End of life decision making is often viewed from an academic perspective which can obscure the debate's central human concerns This guide introduces general readers to people with personal stakes in the right to die conundrum Putnam provides practical assistance to readers and their loved ones simultaneously incorporating the abstract and theoretical analysis essential to examining how we die in contemporary Western society She also presents the backgrounds of the Hospice and Right to Die Hemlock Movements To elucidate the human side of the debate Putnam profiles and interviews six important figures Dame Cicely Saunders founder of the modern Hospice Movement Derek Humphry founder of The Hemlock Society in the U S Herbert Cohen an early leader in euthanasia circles in The Netherlands Timothy Quill whose assistance in a patient suicide resulted in a case before the U S Supreme Court Joanne Lynn founder of Americans for Better Care for the Dying Jack Kevorkian profiled but unavailable for interview Another unique feature of this book is the application of philosopher Judith Jarvis Thomson's general theory of rights to the very specific right to die Pointing to potential compatibilities between the two positions she concludes that heroic compassion does not require a final choice between Hospice and Hemlock there may be room enough for both Retrieving the Natural Law J. Daryl Charles, 2008-04-14 J Daryl Charles argues that a traditional metaphysics of natural law lies at the heart of the present reconstructive project and that a revival in natural law thinking is of the highest priority for the Christian community as we contend in rather than abdicate the public square Nowhere is this more on display than in the realm of bioethics where the most basic moral questions human personhood human rights versus responsibilities the reality of moral evil the basis of civil society are being debated from publisher description The Politics of Physician Assisted Suicide Nina Clark, 2014-02-25 First published in 1997 Nina Clark offers a pithy and valuable record of the political battles so far over voluntary medically hastened death The purpose of the study is to examine the different ways in which the American political system has responded to the issue of patient autonomy to explore its viability as an object of direct democracy and to study the political activity and attitudes of individuals in relation to physician assisted suicide particularly the elderly Mourning in the Anthropocene Joshua Trey Barnett, 2022-08-01

Enormous ecological losses and profound planetary transformations mean that ours is a time to grieve beyond the human Yet Joshua Trey Barnett argues in this eloquent and urgent book our capacity to grieve for more than human others is neither natural nor inevitable Weaving together personal narratives theoretical meditations and insightful readings of cultural artifacts he suggests that ecological grief is best understood as a rhetorical achievement As a collection of worldmaking practices rhetoric makes things matter bestows value directs attention generates knowledge and foment feelings By dwelling on three rhetorical practices naming archiving and making visible Barnett shows how they prepare us to grieve past present and future ecological losses Simultaneously diagnostic and prescriptive this book reveals rhetorical practices that set our ecological grief into motion and illuminates pathways to more connected caring earthly coexistence Routledge Handbook of Art, Science, and Technology Studies Hannah Rogers, Megan Halpern, Dehlia Hannah, Kathryn de Ridder-Vignone, 2021-12-22 Art and science work is experiencing a dramatic rise coincident with burgeoning Science and Technology Studies STS interest in this area Science has played the role of muse for the arts inspiring imaginative reconfigurations of scientific themes and exploring their cultural resonance Conversely the arts are often deployed in the service of science communication illustration and popularization STS scholars have sought to resist the instrumentalization of the arts by the sciences emphasizing studies of theories and practices across disciplines and the distinctive and complementary contributions of each The manifestation of this commonality of creative and epistemic practices is the emergence of Art Science and Technology Studies ASTS as the interdisciplinary exploration of art science This handbook defines the modes practices crucial literature and research interests of this emerging field It explores the questions methodologies and theoretical implications of scholarship and practice that arise at the intersection of art and STS Further ASTS demonstrates how the arts are intervening in STS Drawing on methods and concepts derived from STS and allied fields including visual studies performance studies design studies science communication and aesthetics and the knowledge of practicing artists and curators ASTS is predicated on the capacity to see both art and science as constructions of human knowledge making Accordingly it posits a new analytical vernacular enabling new ways of seeing understanding and thinking critically about the world This handbook provides scholars and practitioners already familiar with the themes and tensions of art science with a means of connecting across disciplines It proposes organizing principles for thinking about art science across the sciences social sciences humanities and arts Encounters with art and science become meaningful in relation to practices and materials manifest as perceptual habits background knowledge and cultural norms As the chapters in this handbook demonstrate a variety of STS tools can be brought to bear on art science so that systematic research can be conducted on this unique set of knowledge making practices The Right to Die Anne Wallace Sharp, Robert Taylor, 2009-04-03 Doctor assisted suicide is legal in Oregon Washington Colorado California Washington D C and Vermont As of January 2016 991 patients have died by taking legally backed drugs under supervision in Oregon according to CNN This timely edition examines issues surrounding the right to die The book takes a critical look at topics such as euthanasia assisted suicide the refusal of medical treatment and life sustaining treatment True Compassion Constance Elizabeth Putnam, Tufts University. Interdisciplinary Program, 1999 An interdisciplinary exploration of some of the key issues surrounding end of life decisions this work is aimed at helping individuals sort out how to approach questions about death and what it is appropriate to expect from one's physician in the way of assistance when death is near Death with Dignity Robert Orfali, 2011 In this book the author makes a case for legalized physician assisted dying Using the latest data from Oregon and the Netherlands he puts a new slant on perennial debate topics such as slippery slopes the integrity of medicine and sanctity of life This book provides an in depth look at how we die in America today It examines the shortcomings of our end of life system You will learn about terminal torture in hospital ICUs and about the alternatives hospice and palliative care The author scrutinizes the good the bad and the ugly He provides a critique of the practice of palliative sedation The book makes a strong case that assisted dying complements hospice By providing both Oregon now has the best palliative care system in America This book above all may help you or someone you care about navigate this strange landscape we call end of life It can be an informed guide to a good death in the age of hospice and high tech medical intervention

The Anticipatory Corpse Jeffrey P. Bishop, 2011-09-19 In this original and compelling book Jeffrey P Bishop a philosopher ethicist and physician argues that something has gone sadly amiss in the care of the dying by contemporary medicine and in our social and political views of death as shaped by our scientific successes and ongoing debates about euthanasia and the right to die or to live The Anticipatory Corpse Medicine Power and the Care of the Dying informed by Foucault's genealogy of medicine and power as well as by a thorough grasp of current medical practices and medical ethics argues that a view of people as machines in motion people as in effect temporarily animated corpses with interchangeable parts has become epistemologically normative for medicine The dead body is subtly anticipated in our practices of exercising control over the suffering person whether through technological mastery in the intensive care unit or through the impersonal quasi scientific assessments of psychological and spiritual medicine The result is a kind of nihilistic attitude toward the dying and troubling contradictions and absurdities in our practices Wide ranging in its examples from organ donation rules in the United States to ICU medicine to spiritual surveys to presidential bioethics commissions attempting to define death and to high profile cases such as Terri Schiavo's The Anticipatory Corpse explores the historical political and philosophical underpinnings of our care of the dying and finally the possibilities of change This book is a ground breaking work in bioethics It will provoke thought and argument for all those engaged in medicine philosophy theology and health policy

Final Acts Nan Bauer Maglin, Donna Marie Perry, 2010 For those who yearn for some measure of control over death Final Acts offers insight and hope Writing in a style free of technical jargon the contributors discuss documents that should be prepared health proxy do not resuscitate order living will power of attorney decision making over medical interventions life support hospice and palliative care aid in dying treatment location speaking for those who can no longer express their will and the roles played by religion custom family friends caretakers money the medical establishment and the government

A Chosen Death Lonny Shavelson, 1995 Featuring moving accounts of terminally ill people who have faced the choice of ending their own lives this book adds a profound human dimension to the debate over assisted suicide

Playing God Gerald A. Larue, 1996 Offers readers a spiritual resource guide they can use to make their own informed moral stand in the issue of euthanasia

Burdened Agency Travis Pickell, 2024-08-15 Travis Pickell explores the paradoxes of choice in modern dying and the ways Christian theology can aid in navigating the relationship between moral agency and dignity at the end of life Burdened Agency addresses the problem of death and dying through Christian theology and ethics In previous centuries death was something that simply happened to us To choose how or when one died was the exception not the rule However due to advances in modern medicine individuals are increasingly required to make concrete choices about the nature and timing of death Modernity with its emphasis on individualism complicates this further because we are increasingly bereft of cultural and religious guidance regarding death This gives rise to the phenomenon of burdened agency the predicament of having to make such difficult choices with so little to help us This engaging book offers a historical and philosophical account of the origins of our situation of burdened agency as well as a Christian solution to the problems that it raises Looking to theologians such as Karl Rahner Karl Barth and Stanley Hauerwas Pickell devises a radically countercultural approach to death and dying rooted in Christian theological commitments and enacted in the practices of baptism Eucharist and prayer

Paranoid Science Antony Alumkal, 2019-04-01 Explores the Christian Right's fierce opposition to science explaining how and why its leaders came to see scientific truths as their enemy For decades the Christian Right's high profile clashes with science have made national headlines From attempts to insert intelligent design creationism into public schools to climate change denial efforts to cure gay people through conversion therapy and opposition to stem cell research the Christian Right has battled against science How did this hostility begin and more importantly why has it endured Antony Alumkal provides a comprehensive background on the war on science how it developed and why it will continue to endure Drawing upon Richard Hofstadter's influential 1965 essay The Paranoid Style in American Politics Antony Alumkal argues that the Christian Right adopts a similar paranoid style in their approach to science Alumkal demonstrates that Christian Right leaders see conspiracies within the scientific establishment with scientists not only peddling fraudulent information but actively concealing their true motives from the American public and threatening to destroy the moral foundation of society By rejecting science Christian Right leaders create their own alternative reality one that does not challenge their literal reading of the Bible While Alumkal recognizes the many evangelicals who oppose the Christian Right's agenda he also highlights the consequences of the war on reality both for the evangelical community and the broader American public A compelling glimpse into the heart of the Christian Right's anti science agenda Paranoid Science is a must read for those who hope to understand the Christian Right's battle against science and for the scientists and educators who wish to stop it
