origins characteristics and consequences Debating Genocide begins with an introduction to the concept of genocide It then examines the colonial genocides at the end of the 19th and start of the 20th centuries the Armenian Genocide of 1915 16 the Nazi Final Solution the Nazi genocide of the Gypsies mass murder in Cambodia under the Khmer Rouge the genocides in the 1990s in the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda and the genocide in Sudan in the early 21st century It also includes a thematic chapter which covers gender and genocide as well as issues of memory and memorialisation Finally the book considers how genocides end as well as the questions of resolution and denial with Lisa Pine examining the debates around prediction and prevention and the R2P Responsibility to Protect initiative This book is crucial for any students wanting to understand why genocides have occurred why they still occur and what the key historical discussions around this subject entail Genocidal Conscription Christopher Harrison,2023-07-03 Genocidal Conscription examines how some states have employed mandatory military service as a tool to capture and kill the victims of genocide by recruiting the perpetrators from other minorities and shifting blame away from the state The book highlights several unique intersections that connect military history Holocaust studies and genocide The study details an original framework that encompasses intentions and outcomes of wartime casualties Clausewitzian wastage and genocidal massacres Christopher Harrison traces and compares how two genocidal regimes at war the Ottoman Empire during World War One and Axis era Hungary in World War Two implemented certain policies of military service to capture and destroy their targets amidst the carnage of modern warfare Following this historical comparative study the author then summarizes relevant implications and ongoing concerns The conclusion includes insights into conscription by contemporary authoritarian regimes By examining these histories and crises the book suggests that several states are at risk of carrying out genocidal conscription today While difficult and unlikely due to political disincentives the implication of this analysis considers reforms which may prevent states from repeating similar policies and actions again Teaching about Genocide: Insights and Advice from Secondary Teachers and Professors Samuel Totten,2018-12-14 This book presents the insights advice and suggestions of secondary level teachers and professors in relation to teaching about various facets of genocide The contributions are extremely eclectic ranging from the basic concerns when teaching about genocide to a discussion as to why it is critical to teach students about more general human rights violations during a course on genocide and from a focus on specific cases of genocide to various pedagogical strategies ideal for teaching about genocide Remnants Elyse Semerdjian,2023-08-15 A groundbreaking and profoundly moving exploration of the Armenian genocide told through the traces left in the memories and on the bodies of its women survivors Foremost among the images of the Armenian Genocide is the specter of tattooed Islamized Armenian women Blue tribal tattoos that covered face and body signified assimilation into Muslim Bedouin and Kurdish households Among Armenians the tattooed survivor was seen as a living ethnomartyr or alternatively a national stain and the bodies of women and children figured centrally within the Armenian communal memory and humanitarian imaginary In Remnants these tattooed and scar bearing bodies reveal a larger history as the lived trauma of genocide is understood through bodies skin and in what remains of those lives a century afterward bones With this book Elyse Semerdjian offers a feminist reading of the Armenian Genocide She explores how the Ottoman Armenian communal body was dis membered disfigured and later re membered by the survivor community Gathering individual memories and archival fragments she writes a deeply personal history and issues a call to break open the archival record in order to embrace affect and memory Traces of women and children rescued during and after the war are reconstructed to center the quietest voices in the historical record This daring work embraces physical and archival remnants the imprinted negatives of once living bodies as a space of radical possibility within Armenian prosthetic memory and a necessary way to recognize the absence that remains Documenting the Armenian Genocide Thomas Kühne, Mary Jane Rein, Marc A. dynamics of political change in the post Soviet space The comprehensive and integral approach to the issue of analysing and interpreting collective memory through the prism of its representation presented in the form of an anthropological story based on case studies may also be of interest to those not associated with institutional Academia Song of the Land
