

The background of the cover is a dark, textured space filled with various microscopic organisms. Numerous yellow, rod-shaped bacteria are scattered throughout. A complex network of thin, blue, branching filaments, resembling a biofilm or a neural network, is spread across the upper and middle portions. In the center, there is a large, glowing blue, irregularly shaped mass that looks like a cell or a cluster of cells. At the bottom, there are green, cloud-like or smoke-like structures. A solid red circle is partially visible in the bottom left corner.
