The Selected Works of James Oliver Curwood James Oliver Curwood, There are not many who will remember him as Thomas Jefferson Brown For ten years he had been mildly ashamed of himself and out of respect for people who were dead and for a dozen or so who were living he had the good taste to drop his last name The fact that it was only Brown didn't matter Tack Thomas Jefferson to Brown he said and you've got a name that sticks It had an aristocratic sound and Thomas Jefferson with the Brown cut off was still aristocratic when you came to count the red corpuscles in him In some sort of way he was related to two dead Presidents three dead army officers a living college professor and a few common people He was legitimately born to the purple but fate had sent him off on a curious ricochet in a game all of its own and changed him from Thomas Jefferson Brown into just plain Thomas Jefferson without the Brown He was one of those specimens who when you meet them somehow make you feel there are a few lost kings of the earth as well as lost lambs He was what we called a first sighter that is you liked him the instant you looked at him You knew without further acquaintance that he was a man whom you could trust with your money your friendship anything you had He was big with a wholesome brown face blond hair and gray eyes that seemed always to be laughing and twinkling even when he was hungry He carried about with him a load of cheerfulness so big that it was constantly spilling over on other people There was a time when Thomas Jefferson Brown had little white cards with his name on them That was when he went to college and his lungs weren't so good It was then that some big doctor told him that if he wanted to live to have grandchildren the best thing for him to do was to tramp it for a time live out of doors sleep out of doors do nothing but breathe fresh air and walk That doctor was Fate playing his game behind a pair of spectacles and a bumpy forehead He saved Thomas Jefferson Brown all right but he turned him into plain Thomas Jefferson For Thomas Jefferson Brown never got over taking his medicine He kept on tramping He got big and broad and happy Somewhere perhaps in a barn he caught a microbe that made him dislike ordinary work He would set to and help a farmer saw wood all day just for company and grub but you couldn't hire him to go into an office or settle down to anything steady for twenty five dollars a day He had a scientific name for the thing that was in him the wanderlust bug I think he called it and he said it was better than the Chinese lady bugs that the government imports to save California fruit The nearest Thomas Jefferson ever came to going back to Thomas Jefferson Brown was when he took a job at braking on the Southern Pacific That held him for three days less than two weeks

The Honor of Her People James Oliver Curwood, 2015-02-11 This early work by James Oliver Curwood was originally published in 1920 and we are now republishing it with a brand new introductory biography The Honor of Her People is a short story which explores some complex relationships in this romantic adventure James Oliver Jim Curwood was an American action adventure writer and conservationist He was born on 12th June 1878 in Owosso Michigan USA In 1900 Curwood sold his first story while working for the Detroit News Tribune and after this his career in writing was made By 1909 he had saved enough money to travel to the Canadian northwest a trip that provided the inspiration for his wilderness adventure stories The success of his novels afforded him the opportunity to return to the Yukon and Alaska for several months each year allowing Curwood to write more than thirty such books Curwood's adventure writing followed in the tradition of Jack London Like London Curwood set many of his works in the wilds of the Great Northwest and often used animals as lead characters Kazan Baree Son of Kazan The Grizzly King and Nomads of the North Many of Curwood's adventure novels also feature romance as primary or secondary plot consideration This approach gave his work broad commercial appeal and helped drive his appearance on several best seller lists in the early 1920s His most successful work was his 1920 novel The River's End The book sold more than 100 000 copies and was the fourth best selling title of the year in the United States according to Publisher's Weekly He contributed to various literary and popular magazines throughout his career and his bibliography includes more than 200 such articles short stories and serializations Curwood was an avid hunter in his youth however as he grew older he became an advocate of environmentalism and was appointed to the Michigan Conservation Commission in 1926 The change in his attitude toward wildlife can be best expressed by a quote he gave in The Grizzly King that The greatest thrill is not to kill but to let live Despite this change in attitude Curwood did not have an ultimately fruitful relationship with nature In 1927 while on a fishing trip in Florida Curwood was bitten on the thigh by what was believed to have been a spider and he had an immediate allergic reaction Health problems related to the bite escalated over the next few months as an infection set in He died soon after in his nearby home on Williams Street on 13th August 1927
