Hooked Buddhist Writings On Greed Desire And The Urge To Consume:

Hooked! Stephanie Kaza, 2005 At one time or another most of us have experienced an all consuming desire for a material object a desire so strong that it seems like we couldn't possibly be happy without buying this thing Yet when we give in to this impulse we often find ourselves feeling frustrated and empty Advertisers of course aim to hook us in this way and from a global perspective our tendency to get hooked fuels the rampant over consumption that is having a devastating impact on the world's stability and on the environment According to the contributors to this unique anthology Buddhism can shed valuable light on our compulsions to consume Craving and attachment how they arise and how to free ourselves of them are central themes of Buddhist thought Mindfully Green Stephanie Kaza, 2008-11-11 With all the attention on living sustainably the one thing missing from the conversation is how to find a personal connection with green living that will sustain us on our green path While practical approaches to an eco responsible lifestyle offer important first steps it is critical that we ground these actions in broader understanding so that we can effect real change in the world In this book Stephanie Kaza describes what she calls the green practice path She offers a simple Buddhist inspired philosophy for taking up environmental action in real practical and effective ways Discover new ways to think more deeply about your impact on the natural world engage in environmental change and make green living a personal practice based in compassion and true conviction Zen Ecology Christopher Ives, 2025-03-11 Discover a way of living that can help you slow down and stay grounded and at the same time reduce your ecological impact and engage more fully with the climate crisis It may seem as though living ecologically and engaging in activism sacrifices our own enjoyment and happiness on the altar of doing the right thing In this book professor naturalist and Buddhist author Christopher Ives offers an alternative a way of living that can actually be more fulfilling than the modern consumerist lifestyle Rather than deprivation it can bring us richness In Zen Ecology Chris outlines his environmental ethic as a series of concentric circles beginning with ourselves and then moving outward into our communities all the while focusing on spaciousness mindfulness generosity and contentment At the individual level we deal with distraction clutter and ecological harm Here Chris offers ways to help us pay attention simplify our lives and lower our impact Then we explore how to envision our home as a place of the Way with Zen monastic life as a model for this without having to be a monk Next we realize our embeddedness in nature and emplace ourselves in community with others including other forms of life Finally we build on this basis to engage in activism to create a world that is more supportive of ecological health and spiritual fulfillment In this way we avoid the two extremes of apathy and burnout and uncover a way of living that is simple joyful embedded in nature connected to others in community and supportive of collective action Without Buddha I Could Not Be a Christian Paul F. Knitter, 2013-01-01 An honest unflinching tale of re finding one's faith from one of the world's most famous theologians Without Buddha I Could Not Be a Christian narrates how esteemed theologian Paul F. Knitter overcame a crisis of faith by looking to Buddhism for inspiration From prayer to how Christianity views life after death Knitter argues that a Buddhist standpoint can encourage a more person centred conception of Christianity where individual religious experience comes first and liturgy and tradition second Moving and revolutionary this book will inspire Christians everywhere

The Art of Flourishing Jeffrey B. Rubin, PhD, 2011-06-07 We all want more love in our lives especially when the world requires more from us every day Lasting intimacy a close and enduring relationship with someone we love who cherishes us is an indispensable source of strength resilience and hope one that we especially turn to in challenging times But too often being in an intimate relationship means we have to compromise or lose vital aspects of ourselves How can we avoid sacrificing our own self care to get the love we want In this original surprising and deeply revealing exploration of the self and relationships Dr Jeffrey Rubin brings the art of flourishing to life The idea is startlingly simple self care is the foundation of intimacy and intimacy is the culmination of self care The Art of Flourishing provides the reader with the tools necessary to thrive to live a life of meaning passion and fulfillment An expert on both Eastern meditative and Western psychotherapeutic traditions Dr Rubin draws on the best practices of each to create a new and accessible path to living authentically His unique synthesis provides a remarkably lucid guide for handling our emotions wisely discovering our purpose and uncovering barriers to intimacy the hidden emotional weeds that kill passion such as conflicts over communication and power boundaries and sexuality Drawing from case examples and personal experiences Rubin explains how to remove these obstacles to nurture empathy and mutual respect Creating and cultivating a garden of love enables us to grow as individuals and nourish our connections with others It widens our horizon of possibility deepens our humanity and helps us flourish which is a priceless gift to the world

Green Buddhism Stephanie Kaza, 2019-03-12 At a time of growing environmental crisis a pioneer of Green Buddhist thought offers challenging and illuminating perspectives With species rapidly disappearing and global temperatures rising there is more urgency than ever to act on the ecological crises we face Hundreds of millions of people around the world including unprecedented numbers of Westerners now practice Buddhism Can Buddhists be a critical voice in the green conversation Leading Buddhist environmentalist Stephanie Kaza has spent her career exploring the intersection of religion and ecology With so much at stake she offers guidance on how people and communities can draw on Buddhist concepts and practices to live more sustainable lives on our one and only home

Constructing a Relational Cosmology Paul O. Ingram, 2006-08-01 This collection of five essays is both a dialogical engagement with and critical assessment of Nancy R Howell s book Constructing a Relational Cosmology The collection includes three essays written from a Whiteheadian process perspective by Marit A Trelstad Kathlyn A Breazeale and Marjorie Hewitt Suchocki one from the perspective of narrative theology Lisa Stenmark and one from the Soto Zen Buddhist perspective Stephanie Kaza Howell responding as a Whiteheadian feminist philosopher of religion takes the critiques and suggestions of her dialogical partners with the utmost seriousness as her foundation for suggesting new directions for ecofeminist thought an example of what Whiteheadians call the process of creative transformation

The Oxford

Handbook of Religion and Ecology Roger S. Gottlieb, 2006-11-09 Ecologically oriented visions of God the Sacred the Earth and human beings The proposed handbook will serve as the definitive overview of these exciting new developments Divided into three main sections the books essays will reflect the three dominant dimensions of the field Part I will explore

Grounding Religion Whitney A. Bauman, Richard Bohannon, Kevin J. O'Brien, 2017-04-11 Now in its second edition Grounding Religion explores relationships between the environment and religious beliefs and practices Established scholars introduce students to the ways in which religion shapes human earth relations Case studies discussion questions and further reading enrich students experience This edition features updated content including revisions of every chapter and new material on natural disasters gender and sexuality race and ethnicity climate change food technology and hope and despair I can only conclude that this book will trigger your mind The assignments for students are appealing and all the books mentioned will make your book loving heart sing Susanne Van Doorn MindFunda

Teaching Buddhism Todd Lewis, Gary Delaney DeAngelis, 2017 Buddhist studies is a rapidly changing field of research constantly transforming and adapting to new scholarship This creates a problem for instructors both in a university setting and in monastic schools as they try to develop a curriculum based on a body of scholarship that continually shifts in focus and expands to new areas Teaching Buddhism establishes a dialogue between the community of instructors of Buddhism and leading scholars in the field who are updating revising and correcting earlier understandings of Buddhist traditions Each chapter presents new ideas within a particular theme of Buddhist studies and explores how courses can be enhanced with these insights Contributors in the first section focus on the typical approaches figures and traditions in undergraduate courses such as the role of philosophy in Buddhism Nagarjuna Yogacara Buddhism tantric traditions and Zen Buddhism They describe the impact of recent developments like new studies in the cognitive sciences on scholarship in those areas Part Two examines how political engagement and ritual practice have shaped the tradition throughout its history Focus then shifts to the issues facing instructors of Buddhism dilemmas for the scholar practitioner in the academic and monastic classroom the tradition s possible roles in teaching feminism and diversity and how to present the tradition in the context of a world religions course In the final section contributors offer stories of their own experiences teaching paying particular attention to the ways in which American culture has impacted them They discuss the development of courses on American Buddhism using course material on the family and children the history and trajectory of a Buddhist Christian dialog and Buddhist bioethics environmentalism economic development and social justice In synthesizing this vast and varied body of research the contributors in this volume have provided an invaluable service to the field

The Psychology of Buddhism in Conflict Studies Padmasiri de Silva, 2017-11-10 This book provides an interdisciplinary discussion of conflict studies drawing on perspectives from psychology and Buddhist studies The author combines current research in psychology conflict and management studies as well as moral narratives drawn from religious and cultural contexts to offer useful guidance on dealing with conflict and dichotomies Drawing on a vast corpus of Buddhist literature this book examines complex teachings ideas and doctrines to bring insight to how individuals and societies might lead peaceful and balanced lifestyles In this ground breaking study Padmasiri De Silva insists that the social studies need to develop dialectical methods and understanding in addition to the objective and analytical collection of facts Chapters cover an array of subjects including economics ecology human wellbeing prison reform dialectical behaviour therapy multiculturalism and peace studies Loving Waters Across Religions McAnally, Elizabeth, 2019-02-20 McAnally presents an academically rigorous spiritually rich approach to the myriad global issues related to water The author draws from Christianity's sacramental consciousness of baptism loving service of the Yamuna River in Hinduism and the compassionate wisdom of the bodhisattva to develop an integral approach to water ethics Building on but distinct from the foundation laid by Christiana Zenner's Just Water this book is a welcome addition to the growing field of concern surrounding global water crises Prophetic Wisdom Charles R. Strain, 2024-06-01 Classical Buddhism lacked an understanding of systemic injustice and its contribution to collective suffering Despite the teaching of impermanence classical Buddhist schools viewed social institutions as given and offered no path to social transformation Today Buddhists are shaped by multiple religious and secular traditions including those stemming from the Hebrew prophets The prophetic tradition offers a socially and religiously powerful concept the concept of justice that reconfigures the Buddhist dharma In a time of unparalleled peril Buddhists are challenged as never before to turn wisdom into strategic action to foster systemic social change Compassion is not enough Prophetic Wisdom shows how Engaged Buddhists can expand their understanding of the causes of collective suffering and develop nonviolent means for social transformation through a dialectic of love power and justice It concludes by confronting the poison of racism in the American body politic

Roaming Free Like a Deer Daniel Capper, 2022-03-15 By exploring lived ecological experiences across seven Buddhist worlds from ancient India to the contemporary West Roaming Free Like a Deer provides a comprehensive critical and innovative examination of the theories practices and real world results of Buddhist environmental ethics Daniel Capper clarifies crucial contours of Buddhist vegetarianism or meat eating nature mysticism and cultural speculations about spirituality in nonhuman animals Buddhist environmental ethics often are touted as useful weapons in the fight against climate change However two formidable but often overlooked problems with this perspective exist First much of the literature on Buddhist environmental ethics uncritically embraces Buddhist ideals without examining the real world impacts of those ideals thereby sometimes ignoring difficulties in terms of practical applications Moreover for some understandable but still troublesome reasons Buddhists from different schools follow their own environmental ideals without conversing with other Buddhists thereby minimizing the abilities of Buddhists to act in concert on issues such as climate change that demand coordinated large scale human responses With its accessible style and personhood ethics orientation Roaming Free Like a Deer should appeal to anyone who is concerned with how human beings interact with the nonhuman environment

Religion and Cooperative Economics Jamin Andreas Hübner, 2025-07-09 This volume looks at the intersection between religion and cooperative economics through the lens of economic justice It covers world religious traditions and gives particular focus to cooperative organization the social and economic problems of capitalism and the earliest Christian tradition of the Jesus movement It also examines religious and theological discourse in contemporary defenses of neoliberal capitalism and contemporary advocates of cooperatives The book serves to unfold both how and why cooperative economics can and should supplant traditional employer employee relationships a pillar of modern capitalism and revive interest in cooperation worker solidarity and significant social and political reforms

The World Market and Interreligious Dialogue Catherine Cornille, Glenn Willis, 2011-09-06 The fair and equitable distribution of wealth and the cultivation of proper attitudes toward material goods and economic development concern all religious traditions alike In so far as the dynamics of the world market or the global economic system transcend the competency and control of any particular religion dialogue between religions as well as between religionists and economists becomes both possible and necessary This volume brings together religious thinkers from various traditions as well as economists to reflect on the possibilities and the challenges of such dialogue

The Christian Consumer Laura M. Hartman, 2011-11-29 Be it fair trade coffee or foreign oil our choices as consumers affect the well being of humans around the globe not to mention the natural world and of course ourselves Consumption is a serious ethical issue and Christian writers throughout history have weighed in discussing topics such as affluence and poverty greed and gluttony and proper stewardship of resources These voices are often at odds however In this book Laura M Hartman formulates a coherent Christian ethic of consumption imposing order on the debate by dividing it into four imperatives Christians are to consume in ways that avoid sin embrace creation love one's neighbor and envision the future An adequate ethics of consumption she argues must include all four considerations as tools for discernment even when they seem to contradict one another The book includes discussions of Christian practices such as fasting gratitude solidarity gift giving Sabbath keeping and the Eucharist Using exemplars from the Christian tradition and practical examples from everyday life The Christian Consumer offers a thoughtful guide to ethical consumption
