Hooked Rugs History And The Continuing Tradition:

Hooked Rugs Cynthia Fowler, 2017-07-05 Through a close look at the history of the modernist hooked rug this book raises important questions about the broader history of American modernism in the first half of the twentieth century Although hooked rugs are not generally associated with the avant garde this study demonstrates that they were a significant part of the artistic production of many artists engaged in modernist experimentation Cynthia Fowler discusses the efforts of Ralph Pearson and of Zoltan and Rosa Hecht to establish modernist hooked rug industries in the 1920s uncovering a previously undocumented history The book includes a consideration of the rural workers used to create the modernist narrative of the hooked rug as cottage industries were established throughout the rural Northeast and South to serve the ever increasing demand for hooked rugs by urban consumers Fowler closely examines institutional enterprises that highlighted and engaged the modernist hooked rugs such as key exhibitions at the Museum of Modern Art and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in the 1930s and 40s This study reveals the fluidity of boundaries among art craft and design and the profound efforts of a devoted group of modernists to introduce the general public to the value of modern art

Hooked Rugs of the Midwest Mary Collins Barile, 2013-05-28 The art of rug hooking which consists of pulling dyed and cut wool fabric pieces through a backing has typically been associated with New England the South and Canada Yet rugs from the American Midwest have contributed just as much to the development of the craft and its continuing popularity The story of hooked rugs in the Midwest is a ragbag blending of romance folklore myth and common sense told through the colors of barns and sky golden wheat farm ponds red clay red brick steel glass and fountains In this vividly illustrated history Mary Collins Barile shakes out the dust from the Midwestern hooked rug with the vigor its unique blend of utility and imagination deserves

"Women and the Material Culture of Needlework and Textiles, 1750-1950" Maureen Daly Goggin, 2017-07-05 Rejecting traditional notions of what constitutes art this book brings together essays on a variety of fiber arts to recoup women's artistic practices by redefining what counts as art Although scholars over the last twenty years have turned their attention to fiber arts redefining the conditions practices and products as art there is still much work to be done to deconstruct the stubborn patriarchal art craft binary With essays on a range of fiber art practices including embroidery knitting crocheting machine stitching rug making weaving and quilting this collection contributes to the ongoing scholarly redefinition of women's relationship to creative activity Focusing on women as producers of cultural products and creators of social value the contributors treat women as active subjects and problematize their material practices and artifacts in the complex world of textiles Each essay also examines the ways in which needlework both performs gender and in turn constructs gender Moreover in concentrating on and theorizing material practices of textiles these essays reorient the study of fiber arts towards a focus on process the making of the object including the conditions under which it was made by whom and for what purpose as a way to rethink the fiber arts as social praxis

Silk Stocking Mats Paula Laverty, 2005 Beginning in 1928 the Grenfell Mission sent out a call to socialites When your stockings run let them run to Labrador The creative recycling of tattered stockings dyed in soft hues is just one of many innovations that made Grenfell hooked mats highly collectible folk art In Silk Stocking Mats Paula Laverty chronicles the development of a local craft into an art form For generations Newfoundland women had augmented their family's unreliable fishing income with a matting season in February and March Through the Grenfell Mission's Industrial Department set up in 1909 to help develop cottage industries the mat industry became an increasingly important source of income reaching peak production in the late 1920s and early 1930s when the women's mats became renowned for their strong design meticulous craftsmanship and distinctive northern images chronicling life in the north Reindeer sled dog teams polar bears schooners outports and florals are but a few of the mat designs Silk Stocking Mats is the result of over seventeen years of exhaustive research and draws on personal interviews with older women who recall their hooking days the study of hundreds of archival documents and careful examination of countless Grenfell hooked mats Laverty's book is beautifully illustrated with photographs and descriptions including rare and unusual as well as common mat designs

War Imagery in Women's Textiles Deborah A. Deacon, Paula E. Calvin, 2014-07-02 Through the centuries women have used textiles to express their ideas and political opinions creating items of utility that also function as works of art Beginning with medieval European embroideries and tapestries such as the Bayeux Tapestry this book examines the ways in which women around the world have recorded the impact of war on their lives using traditional fabric art forms of knitting sewing quilting embroidery weaving basketry and rug making Works from the United States Canada Latin America Asia the Middle and Near East and Oceania are analyzed in terms of content and utility and cultural and economic implications for the women who created them are discussed Traditional women's work served to document the upheaval in their lives and supplemented their family income By creating textiles that responded to the chaos of war women developed new textile traditions modified old traditions and created a vehicle to express their feelings
