Part I – A Well-Baby Exam

Robert handled three-month-old Hayden's carrier and held open the door for his wife, Carrie. "Any particular concerns about Hayden today?" asked Dr. O'Dell as they entered the examination room.

As she lifted Hayden from the carrier, Carrie said, "I don't think that Hayden is growing as fast as James did. And she might be running a slight fever."

Dr. O'Dell examined Hayden and checked her computer files. "Hayden's temperature is somewhat elevated, and her skin is damp, and her pulse is higher than I'd like."

She tilted the screen so both parents could see. "From this graph, it appears that Hayden is falling behind her expected weight curve. Are you still breastfeeding her? Breast-fed babies tend to have slightly lower body weights."

"We shifted to formula after the first month, so that makes two months on formula now," replied Carrie.

"Does she eat well?"

"No problem with that. She's always hungry," Carrie answered, as Hayden pumped small fists in the air and screeched in agreement. "And fussy."

Robert added, "I'm worried about Carrie, too. She has some of the same symptoms as Hayden. And she's not sleeping well either."

Carrie smiled tiredly, pushing back a strand of hair. "Hot and bothered seems to be my middle name these days."

"Demands of a new baby can be exhausting, as you know. Some irritability can be expected," Dr. O'Dell glanced at Robert, "especially if you aren't getting enough sleep."

"Robert helps out," Carrie said quickly. "Lots of things bug me right now, that's all. I'm sure it's nothing."

"But it's got to be something," insisted Robert. "Carrie's always complaining about how warm the house is, and she's lost weight."

"Robert!" "Carrie, I'm worried!"

Dr. O'Dell shifted from Hayden to examining Carrie. After collecting her vital signs, Dr. O'Dell manipulated the glands in Carrie's throat area and frowned. "You do seem to share several of Hayden's symptoms, like her elevated body temperature and rapid pulse, but I'm more concerned about this thyroid enlargement. How much do you know about the thyroid gland and how it operates?"

Both parents shook their heads, as Hayden gurgled.

"Hayden wants to know too," Carrie said, trying to lighten the mood.

Dr. O'Dell smiled. "You know how much I like my patients to have background knowledge, but the thyroid situation is pretty complicated. I'll just stick to the main points today to get you up to insecurity and human displacement While we seek to reconcile more than human relations and responsibilities in the Anthropocene we also struggle to accommodate social justice and the increasingly global desire for economic development These and other challenges fundamentally alter the way social scientists relate to communities and the environment This book takes as its point of departure today s pressing environmental challenges particularly the loss of biodiversity and the role of communities in protected areas conservation In its chapters the authors discuss areas of tension between local livelihoods and international conservation efforts between local communities and wildlife and finally between traditional ways of living and modernity The central premise of this book is while these tensions cannot be easily resolved they can be better understood by considering both social and ecological effects in equal measure While environmental problems cannot be seen as purely ecological because they always involve people who bring to the environmental table their different assumptions about nature and culture so are social problems connected to environmental constraints While nonhumans cannot verbally bring anything to this negotiating table aside from vast material benefits that society relies on the distinct perspective of this book is that there is a need to consider the role of nonhumans as equally important stakeholders albeit without a voice This book develops an argument that human environmental relationships are set within ecological reality and ecological ethics and rather than being mutually constitutive processes humans have obligate dependence on nature not vice versa This would enable an ethical position encompassing the needs of other species and giving simultaneous without one being subordinated to another consideration to justice for humans and non humans alike The book is accessible to both social scientists and conservation specialists and intends to contribute to strengthening interdisciplinary collaborations in the field of conservation
