Wodehouse, 2014-01-27 A gentleman called to see you when you were out last night sir said Mrs Medley my landlady removing the last of the breakfast things Yes I said in my affable way A gentleman said Mrs Medley meditatively with a very powerful voice Caruso Sir I said did he leave a name Yes sir Mr Utridge Oh my sainted aunt Sir Nothing nothing Thank you sir said Mrs Medley withdrawing from the presence Utridge Oh hang it I had not met him for years and glad as I am as a general thing to see the friends of my youth when they drop in for a chat I doubted whether I was quite equal to Utridge at the moment A stout fellow in both the physical and moral sense of the words he was a trifle too jumpy for a man of my cloistered and intellectual life especially as just now I was trying to plan out a new novel a tricky job demanding complete quiet and seclusion It had always been my experience that when Utridge was around things began to happen swiftly and violently rendering meditation impossible Utridge was the sort of man who asks you out to dinner borrows the money from you to pay the bill and winds up the evening by embroiling you in a fight with a cabman I have gone to Covent Garden balls with Utridge and found myself legging it down Henrietta Street in the grey dawn pursued by infuriated costermongers I wondered how he had got my address and on that problem light was immediately cast by Mrs Medley who returned bearing an envelope It came by the morning post sir but it was left at Number Twenty by mistake Oh thank you Thank you sir said

Mrs Medley I recognised the handwriting The letter which bore a Devonshire postmark was from an artist friend of mine one Lickford who was at present on a sketching tour in the west I had seen him off at Waterloo a week before and I remember that I had walked away from the station wishing that I could summon up the energy to pack and get off to the country somewhere I hate London in July The letter was a long one but it was the postscript which interested me most By the way at Yeovil I ran into an old friend of ours Stanley Featherstonehaugh Ukridge of all people As large as life quite six foot two and tremendously filled out I thought he was abroad The last I heard of him was that he had started for Buenos Ayres in a cattle ship with a borrowed pipe by way of luggage It seems he has been in England for some time I met him in the refreshment room at Yeovil Station I was waiting for a down train he had changed on his way to town As I opened the door I heard a huge voice entreating the lady behind the bar to put it in a pewter and there was S F U in a villainous old suit of grey flannels I ll swear it was the one he had on last time I saw him with pince nez tacked on to his ears with ginger beer wire as usual and a couple of inches of bare neck showing between the bottom of his collar and the top of his coat you remember how he could never get a stud to do its work He also wore a mackintosh though it was a blazing day He greeted me with effusive shouts Wouldn t hear of my standing the racket Insisted on being host When we had finished he fumbled in his pockets looked pained and surprised and drew me aside Look here Licky old horse he said you know I never borrow money It s against my principles But I must have a couple of bob Can you my dear good fellow oblige me with a couple of bob till next Tuesday I ll tell you what I ll do In a voice full of emotion I ll let you have this producing a beastly little threepenny bit with a hole in it which he had probably picked up in the street until I can pay you back This is of more value to me than I can well express Licky my boy A very very dear friend gave it to me when we parted years ago It s a wrench Still no no You must take it you must take it
