Handbook Of Critical Issues In Goal Programming:

Handbook of Critical Issues in Goal Programming C. Romero, 2014-06-28 Goal Programming GP is perhaps the oldest and most widely used approach within the Multiple Criteria Decision Making MCDM paradigm GP combines the logic of optimisation in mathematical programming with the decision maker's desire to satisfy several goals The primary purpose of this book is to identify the critical issues in GP and to demonstrate different procedures capable of avoiding or mitigating the inherent pitfalls associated with these issues The outcome of a search of the literature shows many instances where GP models produced misleading or even erroneous results simply because of a careless formulation of the problem Rather than being in itself a textbook Critical Issues in Goal Programming is designed to complement existing textbooks It will be useful to students and researchers with a basic knowledge of GP as well as to those interested in building GP models which analyse real decision problems

Goal Programming Techniques for Bank Asset Liability Management Kyriaki Kosmidou, Constantin Zopounidis, 2004-07-21 Other publications that exist on this topic are mainly focused on the general aspects and methodologies of the field and do not refer extensively to bank ALM On the other hand the existing books on goal programming techniques do not involve the ALM problem and more specifically the bank ALM one Therefore there is a lack in the existing literature of a comprehensive text book that combines both the concepts of bank ALM and goal programming techniques and illustrates the contribution of goal programming techniques to bank ALM This is the major contributing feature of this book and its distinguishing characteristic as opposed to the existing literature This volume would be suitable for academics and practitioners in operations research management scientists financial managers bank managers economists and risk analysts The book can also be used as a textbook for graduate courses of asset liability management financial risk management and banking risks

Decision Making: Recent Developments and Worldwide Applications Stelios H. Zanakis, Georgios Doukidis, Constantin Zopounidis, 2013-04-17 This chapter describes a study conducted at the Swinburne University of Technology in Australia in their School of Business The study was to explore the applicability of a judgment analytic decision support system to the assessment of the likelihood of an applicant being selected for admission to the School's Graduate Certificate in Business Administration GCBA program The likelihood of a program administrator selecting a particular applicant is directly linked to the assessment of the likelihood of that applicant's success in the GCBA program The purpose of this study in effect was to analyze the administrative judgment process in assessment of an applicant's likelihood of success in the program

THE PROCESS OF HUMAN JUDGMENT

Human judgment is a process through which an individual uses social information to make decisions The social information is obtained from an individual's environment and is interpreted through the individual's cognitive image of the environment The cognitive image provides a representation of the environment based on past experiences and training and essentially predisposes the person to respond to social information in predictable ways An individual's policies or beliefs about the environment represent these patterns Human judgments are based then upon one's interpretation of available information They are probability statements about one's environment and how one reacts to it This condition leads to the human judgment process being inherently limited It is fundamentally a covert process It is seldom possible for an individual to accurately describe his or her judgment process accurately

Mathematical Models for Decision Making with Multiple Perspectives Maria Isabel Gomes, Nelson Chibele Martins, 2022-08-04 This book brings together in a single volume the fields of multicriteria decision making and multiobjective optimization that are traditionally covered separately Both fields have in common the presence of multiple perspectives of looking at and evaluating decisions to be taken but they differ in the number of available alternatives Multicriteria approaches deal with decision processes where a finite number of alternatives have to be evaluated while in multiobjective optimization this number is infinite and the space of alternatives continuous This book is written for students of applied mathematics engineering and economics and management with no assumed previous knowledge on the subject as well as for practitioners in industry looking for techniques to support decision making The mathematical formalism is very low so that all materials are accessible to most readers Nonetheless a rich bibliography allows interested readers to access more technical literature The textbook is organized in eleven chapters each corresponding to a class of about two hours A comprehensive set of examples is presented allowing for a didactic approach when presenting the methodologies Each chapter ends with exercises that are designed to develop problem solving skills and to promote concepts retention
