The Vietnam War, 1954–1975

Lesson 2 Vietnam Divides the Nation

Review Questions: Outlining

DIRECTIONS: Read the lesson and complete the outline below. Refer to your textbook to fill in the blanks.

I. The Antiwar Movement Emerges

- A. As the Vietnam War dragged on, support waned because many believed that the Johnson administration was not telling the truth about the war.
- B. Many Americans believed a credibility gap existed because of inconsistencies between what was shown by media and what the administration said about the war.
- C. Students and teachers at universities held teach-ins to explain why they opposed the war, while many protesters focused on what they thought was an unfair draft system. Most of the soldiers were working-class and minority youths.
- D. As the war went on, many young men burned their draft cards while an estimated 500,000 refused to go.

Many soldiers argued that if they were old enough to fight, they were old enough to vote. The 26th amendment gave 18-year-olds the

- a. right to vote in federal and state elections supported the war and those who opposed the war.

B. 1968: The Peace Year

- A. Senator Eugene McCarthy opposed the war and South Vietnamese lost the war. This election, called the Tet Offensive, was reported. Americans, however, were alarmed that an enemy might launch a large-scale attack.

On March 25, 1968, Johnson declared the nation with the announcement that he would not seek reelection.

His announcement marked the nation turning away from the war.

- B. Bobby Kennedy was appointed to be in the lead for the Democratic Party nomination for president.

- C. In the presidential election of 1968, Republican candidate Richard Nixon was elected because he promised to bring peace to the country.

Alexander, 2007-04-01 Twenty second century historians will note that a new World War began on 9 11 2001 In reality it began much earlier Competing value systems and the lust for natural resources will precipitate an inevitable clash of civilizations Currently we face elusive foes foes who play by other rules and in fact we are already engaged in brutal truly asymmetric conflict with varied forms of fighting terrorism is but an isolated part The increasing number of polymorphic hostilities requires revolutionary and unconventional responses Special operations are the norm Nanoscale biological and digital technologies have transformed how we fight future wars Tactical lasers that zap pinpoint targets at twenty kilometers are being developed as is the millimeter wave Active Denial System that causes intense pain to those exposed The Mother of all Bombs has been dropped as have thermobaric weapons that destroy caves and bunkers Robots roam the battlefield while exotic sensors catalogue nearly every facet of our lives Paralyzing electrical shock weapons are in the hands of police Even phasers on stun are closer than you think Winning the War details the technologies and concepts necessary to ultimately determine the outcome of this global conflict Via realistic scenarios from recovering tourists kidnapped by terrorists to bringing down drug cartels in the Amazon and even preventing Armageddon in the Middle East Winning the War provides an insider s view into how these futuristic weapons will be used and into the complexities of modern warfare Bold and controversial measures are prescribed including the essential nature of absolute domination of space Winning the War makes clear that drastic and innovative actions will be necessary to ensure our national survival Precision-guided Munitions and Human Suffering in War James E. Hickey, 2016-04-08 James Hickey proceeds from the premise that throughout history humans have demonstrated a proclivity for using violence against one another as a means to achieve an end means enabled in many respects by the technologies available at the time Advancing technology has often been a prime enabler of ever increasing levels of violence and attendant human suffering At a few junctures in history however certain technologies have seemingly provided the armed forces that possess them the ability to fight wars with decreasing levels of violence and suffering Today precision guided munitions PGMs with their high degree of discrimination and accuracy again hold such promise This book seeks to answer the question Do PGMs mitigate suffering in war and have these weapons changed the way decisions regarding war and peace have been made Answering this question helps us understand possible shifts in emphasis in modern warfare both in terms of methods employed and of the greater concern placed on limiting human suffering during conflict This book will help students of ethics just war and military history and senior military and civilian leaders to understand the possible outcomes and wider implications of their strategic choices to use such technology Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications United States.
