Lucy's Story Autism And Other Adventures:

Lucy's Story Lucy Blackman, 2001 Born with Autism Lucy could not understand much of what was said around her As an adult she still barely speaks But her ambition was to write a book Through writing at high school she started to understand her own autism She eventually came to type on a computer with no physical support to complete her BA Hons in Literary Studies

Lucy's Story Lucy Blackman, 1999 Autism and Other Adventures Lucy Blackman, 2024-04-13 Born with autism Lucy could not understand much of what was said around her Her own language came later from newspapers and books She created stories and poems in her head from the words she had read As an adult she still barely speaks In 1987 early in her teens Lucy started to use a keyboard with someone touching her arm but that was not a substitute for ordinary speech Lucy's language had developed in a world of her own making in which she had never passed on information to someone else Even today she does not answer questions in the same way as other people Lucy's ambition was to write a book She went to High School She wrote letters and essays learnt how to explain herself and began to create characters in her stories While writing she started to understand her own autism and through that understanding she came to type on a computer with no physical support to complete her B A Hons in Literary Studies and later her M A Lucy continues to write both prose and poetry but also has reached out in her daily life to be involved with other disability services in Queensland Australia where she now lives Autism and Other Adventures Lucy's Story is an essential resource for anyone interested in autism sensory issues augmentative and alternative communication AAC and especially the rapidly expanding world of keyboard use among the autism community It is also an intriguing humorous poignant and exciting autobiography

Autism and the Myth of the Person Alone Douglas Biklen, 2005-08 The prevailing view of autism and disability is redefined in this beautifully written book Girls Growing Up on the Autism Spectrum Shana Nichols, 2009-01-15 This book covers the concerns faced by girls with ASDs and their parents from periods and puberty to friendships and fitting in Looking at these issues within the context of specific areas of difficulty for girls with ASDs the authors provide families with the knowledge and advice they need to help the whole family through the teenage years Big Mother Jasun

Horsley, 2023-10-31 A bold examination of artificial intelligence consciousness technology and the human urge to return to the womb The thesis of Big Mother begins with the premise that our disembodiment as a species is being engineered and that at the same time we are engineering it through technology It proposes that the primary driving force of human civilization is the desire to create through technology a replica of the mother's body and then disappear into it Taking us into the uncanny valley where neurodiversity linguistics consciousness technology demonology Rudolf Steiner Philip K Dick Norman Bates Ted Bundy transgenderism liquid modernity identity politics the surveillance state virtual reality transhumanism Satanism medical totalitarianism and a new world religion of scientism collide Big Mother explores the technologically assembled and technocratically imposed architecture of illusion in which the modern human being is increasingly lost inside and points the way back to our original soul natures Play and Friendship in Inclusive Autism Education Carmel Conn, 2016-02-12 Taking an innovative approach to autism and play this practical text focuses on the particular form play and friendship takes for children with autism and their peers Autistic children have clear preferences for play with sensory perceptual experience remaining a strong feature as they develop Play and Friendship in Inclusive Autism Education offers a framework for supporting children's development through play with step by step guidance on how to facilitate the playful engagement of children with autism Up to date research findings and relevant theoretical ideas are presented in an accessible and practical way highlighting what theory means to ordinary practice in schools whilst focusing on practical knowledge in autism education Split into five chapters this book covers some of the main issues surrounding inclusive education and play discourses and definitions of play the difference between play and playfulness autism play and the inclusion agenda in education the nature of sensory perceptual experience in children's play cultures effective ways of supporting children's friendships With practical guidance on how to support children with autism through play this book will be essential reading for teachers learning support assistants SENCos and play workers as well as professionals working in an advisory capacity Students studying courses that cover autism will also find Play and Friendship in Inclusive Autism Education a valuable resource

Understanding and Working with the Spectrum of Autism Wendy Lawson, 2001-03-15 To many of the people the processes by which those with autism make sense of the world around them may seem mysterious In this book Lawson demonstrates these processes using comparisons from the non ASD world to help professionals families and carers to relate to and communicate with people with ASD better The Minor Gesture Erin Manning, 2016-05-19 In this wide ranging and probing book Erin Manning extends her previous inquiries into the politics of movement to the concept of the minor gesture The minor gesture although it may pass almost unperceived transforms the field of relations More than a chance variation less than a volition it requires rethinking common assumptions about human agency and political action To embrace the minor gesture's power to fashion relations its capacity to open new modes of experience and manners of expression is to challenge the ways in which the neurotypical image of the human devalues alternative ways of being moved by and moving through the world in particular what Manning terms autistic perception Drawing on Deleuze and Guattari's schizoanalysis and Whitehead's speculative pragmatism Manning's far reaching analyses range from fashion to depression to the writings of autistics in each case affirming the neurodiversity of the minor and the alternative politics it gestures toward Cognitive Disability and Its Challenge to Moral Philosophy Eva Feder Kittay, Licia Carlson, 2010-05-18 Through a series of essays contributed by clinicians medical historians and prominent moral philosophers Cognitive Disability and Its Challenge to Moral Philosophy addresses the ethical bio ethical epistemological historical and meta philosophical questions raised by cognitive disability Features essays by a prominent clinician and medical historians of cognitive disability and prominent contemporary philosophers such as Ian Hacking Martha Nussbaum and Peter Singer

Represents the first collection that brings together philosophical discussions of Alzheimer's disease intellectual developmental disabilities and autism under the rubric of cognitive disability Offers insights into categories like Alzheimer's mental retardation and autism as well as issues such as care personhood justice agency and responsibility The Passionate Mind Wendy Lawson, 2011 Lawson lays out her theory of Single Attention and Associated Cognition in Autism Whereas neurotypical people easily shift their attention from one interest to another those on the autism spectrum tend to focus on a single theme When this learning style is understood individuals on the autism spectrum can achieve their full potential

Dasha's Journal T. O. Daria, 2008 Just a few weeks old Dasha the cat found herself in a family with an autistic child The feline perspective provides a new outlook on autism conditions challenging long established stereotypes and analysing controversies in the field with an unbiased attitude and humour Adolescent Literacies Kathleen A. Hinchman, Deborah A. Appleman, 2017-10-25 Showcasing cutting edge findings on adolescent literacy teaching and learning this unique handbook is grounded in the realities of students daily lives It highlights research methods and instructional approaches that capitalize on adolescents interests knowledge and new literacies Attention is given to how race gender language and other dimensions of identity along with curriculum and teaching methods shape youths literacy development and engagement The volume explores innovative ways that educators are using a variety of multimodal texts from textbooks to graphic novels and digital productions It reviews a range of pedagogical approaches key topics include collaborative inquiry argumentation close reading and composition The Little Class with the Big Personality Fran Hunnisett, 2005 Annotation Professional but readable overview of an early years class for children with autism Provides both teacher's viewpoint and parents perspectives Celebrates the personalities of children with autism Autobiography on the Spectrum Beth A. Myers, 2019-05-24 Autobiography on the Spectrum challenges prevailing notions about autism by offering a critically unconventional perspective the viewpoint of adolescents who are themselves on the spectrum Examining a year long inquiry Myers highlights the autobiographical works of the students through writing photography poetry art and more She argues that autistic youth are not being accurately depicted in current research not because they are unable to represent their own experiences but because their experiences are not always valued In contrast this book explores how autistic youth can and do represent themselves and shows educators how to create a space for the voices of these students Offering a deep look into a world that is rarely seen Autobiography on the Spectrum is a critical resource for teacher preparation and professional learning in any field that interacts with individuals with autism or other disabilities A powerful counternarrative to deficit perspectives that characterize autism in terms of deficiency and disease Curt Dudley Marling professor emeritus Boston College This book needs to be in the hands of teachers everywhere Douglas Biklen dean emeritus Syracuse University School of Education and co producer of Academy Award nominated documentary Autism is a World This important book illustrates many ways educators can expand how they listen to autistic children and adolescents Paula Kluth consultant author and independent scholar Theory of Mind and the Triad of Perspectives on Autism and Asperger Syndrome Olga Bogdashina, 2006 Inspired by the often uncomfortable interplay between autistic individuals parents and professionals in understanding autistic spectrum conditions Olga Bogdashina uses the concept of Theory of Mind ToM to consider these groups different and often conflicting perspectives ToM is the ability to imagine and make judgements about what others feel and think its absence in autistic individuals is called mindblindness This book addresses the mindblindness of people united in their interest in autism but divided by their different angles and perspectives Divided into four parts the book first defines autism then the views of the three main groups working with it autistic individuals parents and professionals under the headings of classifications diagnosis causes development theories and treatment By comparing and reconciling the different perspectives in this way the book helps each group to understand and predict each other s responses and behaviours This enlightening and innovative book offers a unique way of stepping in each other s shoes and is a valuable resource for all people living or working with autism Becoming a Professional Parent Olga Bogdashina, 2022-05-15 The first part of the series Becoming a Professional Parent covers a range of sensory perceptual issues provides ideas and tips how to help the child and will help those who live with and or work with autistic children The author both a parent and a professional uses examples from her own life and combining with research to be able to give parents the know how and relevant knowledge when it comes to sensory issues Inclusive Pedagogies for Early Childhood Education Carmel Conn, Alison Murphy, 2022-03-30 This essential textbook explores inclusive pedagogies by presenting theoretical viewpoints and research on everyday practices in early childhood education that affirm diversity in relation to learning disability and culture The authors consider the pedagogical practices involved in supporting educational inclusion for young children The book focuses on key issues in relation to inclusive pedagogy including young children s learning subjectivities socio material realities of learning in early childhood contexts and perspective taking of children and adults in relation to learning and difference The book draws together findings from experts who are employing innovative methods for research in early childhood education including conversation analysis phenomenological enquiry and participant ethnography in order to create new knowledge and understanding about how young children are and feel themselves to be included This textbook will be essential reading for students and practitioners alike The book is particularly pertinent for undergraduate and postgraduate students studying early years as well as courses which focus on education or teaching or inclusion The Routledge Companion to Literature and Disability Alice Hall, 2020-04-28 The Routledge Companion to Literature and Disability brings together some of the most influential and important contemporary perspectives in this growing field The book traces the history of the field and locates literary disability studies in the wider context of activism and theory It introduces debates about definitions of disability and explores intersectional approaches in which disability is understood in relation to gender race class sexuality nationality and ethnicity Divided broadly into sections according to literary genre this is an important resource for those interested in exploring and deepening their knowledge of the field of literature and disability studies Discourses of Care Amy Holdsworth, Karen Lury, Hannah Tweed, 2020-05-28 Bringing together scholars from film and television studies media and cultural studies literary studies medical humanities and disability studies Discourses of Care collectively examines how the analysis of media texts and practices can contribute to scholarship on and understandings of health and social care and how existing research focusing on the ethics of care can inform our understanding of media Featuring a critical introductory essay and 13 specially commissioned original chapters this is the first edited collection to address the relationship between media and the concept and practice of care and caregiving Contributors consider the representation of care and caregiving through a range of forms and practices the television documentary photography film non theatrical cinema tabloid media autobiography and public service broadcasting and engage with the labour as well as the practical and ethical dimensions of media production Together they offer an original and wide ranging exploration of the various ways in which media forms represent articulate and operate within caring relationships and practices of care whether this is between individuals communities as well as audiences and institutions
