Black Mothers and Attachment Parenting Patricia Hamilton, 2022-06-14 Drawing on black feminist theorizing this outstanding work examines black mothers engagements with attachment parenting and shows how it both undermines and reflects neoliberalism

Lullabies and Poems for Children Diana Secker Larson, 2002-04-30 In this enchanting and comprehensive collection the lullabies we all were rocked to sleep with such as Rock a Bye Baby and Hush Little Baby Don t You Cry mingle with traditional lullabies from around the world Here are beautiful lyrics to sing or read to little ones from Shakespeare s lullaby for the fairy queen Titania to Brahms s Lullaby and from Gershwin s Summertime to Langston Hughes s lovely lullaby for a night black baby Here too are poems for children that range from tender to nonsensical from quiet to raucous from Walter de la Mare to T S Eliot to Lewis Carroll Edward Lear and Ogden Nash Whether the intent is to soothe or to amuse there s something here for every mood every child and the child in every adult A delightful gift perfect collection

The Collected Poems of Langston Hughes Langston Hughes, 1995-10-31 The definitive sampling of a writer whose poems were at the forefront of the Harlem Renaissance and of modernism itself and today are fundamentals of American culture OPRAH Magazine Here for the first time are all the poems that Langston Hughes published during his lifetime arranged in the general order in which he wrote them Lyrical and pungent passionate and polemical the result is a treasure of a book the essential collection of a poet whose words have entered our common language The collection spans five decades and is comprised of 868 poems nearly 300 of which never before appeared in book form with annotations by Arnold Rampersad and David Roessel Alongside such famous works as The Negro Speaks of Rivers and Montage of a Dream Deferred The Collected Poems includes Hughes s lesser known verse for children topical poems distributed through the Associated Negro Press and poems such as Goodbye Christ that were once suppressed

The Collected Works of Langston Hughes: The poems, 1921-1940 Langston Hughes, Dolan Hubbard, Leslie Catherine Sanders, Steven Carl Tracy, 2001 The sixteen volumes are published with the goal that Hughes pursued throughout his lifetime making his books available to the people Each volume will include a biographical and literary chronology by Arnold Rampersad as well as an introduction by a Hughes scholar lume introductions will provide contextual and historical information on the particular work Reading for the Body Jay Watson,2012-08-01 DIVJay Watson argues that southern literary studies has been overidealized and dominated by intellectual history for too long In Reading for the Body he calls for the field to be rematerialized and grounded in an awareness of the human body as the site where ideas including ideas about the U S South itself ultimately happen Employing theoretical approaches to the body developed by thinkers such as Karl Marx Colette Guillaumin Elaine Scarry and Friedrich Kittler Watson also draws on histories of bodily representation to mine a century of southern fiction for its insights into problems that have preoccupied the region and nation alike slavery Jim Crow and white supremacy the marginalization of women the impact of modernization the issue of cultural authority and leadership and the legacy of the Vietnam War He focuses on the specific bodily attributes of hand voice and blood and the deeply embodied experiences of pain illness pregnancy and war to offer new readings of a distinguished group of literary artists who turned their attention to the South Mark Twain Jean Toomer Zora Neale Hurston William Faulkner Richard Wright Katherine Anne Porter Bobbie Ann Mason and Walker Percy In producing an intensely embodied U S literature these writers Watson argues were by turns extending and interrogating a centuries old tradition in U S print culture in which the recalcitrant materiality of the body serves as a trope for the regional alterity of the South Reading for the Body makes a powerful case for the body as an important methodological resource for a new southern studies div In the African-American Grain John F. Callahan,2001 In the African American Grain is a powerful exploration of the impact of African American oral storytelling techniques on modern and contemporary fiction Reading literature in the call and response tradition John F Callahan shows how African American writers including Charles Chesnutt Jean Toomer Zora Neale Hurston Ralph Ellison Ernest Gaines and Alice Walker have used the forms and forces of this uniquely participatory discourse to establish not only a potential relationship between storyteller and audience but also a potential for change In a new preface Callahan comments on how the tradition of call and response has continued to develop among African American writers as well as writers of other backgrounds The Collage Aesthetic in the Harlem Renaissance Rachel Farebrother,2016-12-05 Beginning with a subtle and persuasive analysis of the cultural context Farebrother examines collage in modernist and Harlem Renaissance figurative art and unearths the collage sensibility attendant in Franz Boas s anthropology This strategy makes explicit the formal choices of Harlem Renaissance writers by examining them in light of African American vernacular culture and early twentieth century discourses of anthropology cultural nationalism and international modernism At the same time attention to the politics of form in such texts as Toomer s Cane Locke s The New Negro and selected works by Hurston reveals that the production of analogies juxtapositions frictions and distinctions on the page has aesthetic historical and political implications Why did these African American writers adopt collage form during the Harlem Renaissance What did it allow them to articulate These are among the questions Farebrother poses as she strives for a middle ground between critics who view the Harlem Renaissance as a distinctive and necessarily subversive kind of modernism and those who foreground the cooperative nature of interracial creative work during the period A key feature of her project is her exploration of neglected connections between Euro American modernism and the Harlem Renaissance a journey she negotiates while never losing sight of the particularity of African American experience Ambitious and wide ranging Rachel Farebrother s book offers us a fresh lens through which to view this crucial moment in American culture

A Book of Lullabies ,1925 The Harlem Renaissance Harold Bloom,2004 Harlem in the 1920s and 30s was the epicenter of a flourishing in African American literature with the poetry and prose of Langston Hughes Zora Neale Hurston Gwendolyn Brooks and Claude McKay to name a few This volume examines the defining themes and styles of African American literature during this period which laid the groundwork for contemporary African American writers

Mary Turner and the Memory of Lynching Julie Buckner Armstrong,2011 Mary Turner and the Memory of Lynching traces the reaction of activists artists writers and local residents to the brutal lynching of a pregnant woman near Valdosta Georgia In 1918 the murder of a white farmer led to a week of mob violence that claimed the lives of at least eleven African Americans including Hayes Turner When his wife Mary vowed to press charges against the killers she too fell victim to the mob Mary s lynching was particularly brutal and involved the grisly death of her eight month old fetus It led to both an entrenched local silence and a widespread national response in newspaper and magazine accounts visual art film literature and public memorials Turner s story became a centerpiece of the Anti Lynching Crusaders campaign for the 1922 Dyer Bill which sought to make lynching a federal crime Julie Buckner Armstrong explores the complex and contradictory ways this horrific event was remembered in works such as Walter White s report in the NAACP s newspaper the Crisis the Kabnis section of Jean Toomer s Cane Angelina Weld Grimk s short story Goldie and Meta Fuller s sculpture Mary Turner A Silent Protest against Mob Violence Like those of Emmett Till and Leo Frank Turner s story continues to resonate on multiple levels Armstrong s work provides insight into the different roles black women played in the history of lynching as victims as loved ones left behind and as those who fought back The crime continues to defy conventional forms of representation illustrating what can and cannot be said about lynching and revealing the difficulty and necessity of confronting this nation s legacy of racial violence

Black Women as Custodians of History: Unsung Rebel (M)Others in African American and Afro-Cuban Women's Writing Paula Sanmartin, 2014-03-28 This book is an essential addition to the study of comparative black literature of the Americas it will also fill the gap that exists on theoretical studies exploring black women s writing from the Spanish Caribbean This book examines literary representations of the historic roots of black women s resistance in the United States and Cuba by studying the following texts by both African American and Afro Cuban women from four different literary genres autobiographical slave narrative contemporary novel on slavery testimonial narrative and poetry Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl 1861 by the African American former slave Harriet Jacobs Dessa Rose 1986 by the African American writer Sherley Ann Williams Reyita sencillamente testimonio de una negra cubana nonagenarian Simply Reyita Testimonial Narrative of a Nonagenarian Black Cuban Woman 1996 written transcribed by the Afro Cuban historian Daisy Rubiera Castillo from her interviews with her mother Mar a de los Reyes Castillo Bueno Reyita and a selection of poems from the contemporary Afro Cuban poets Nancy Morej n and Georgina Herrera The study argues that the writers participate in black women s self inscription in the historical process by positioning themselves as subjects of their history and seizing discursive control of their hi stories Although the texts form part of separate discourses the book explores the commonalities of the rhetorical devices and narrative strategies employed by the authors as they disassemble racist and sexist stereotypes re constructing black female subjectivity through an image of active resistance against oppression one that authorizes unconventional definitions of womanhood and motherhood The book shows that in the womens revisions of national history their writings also demonstrate the pervasive role of racial and gender categories in the creation of a discourse of national identity while promoting a historiography constructed within flexible borders that need to be negotiated constantly The study s engagement in crosscultural exploration constitutes a step further in opening connections with a comparative literary study that is theoretically engaging in order to include Afro Cuban women writers and Afro Caribbean scholars into scholarly discussions in which African American women have already managed to participate with a series of critical texts The book explores connections between methods and perspectives derived from Western theories and from Caribbean and Black studies while recognizing the black women authors studied as critics and scholars In this sense the book includes some of the writers own commentaries about their work taken from interviews many of them conducted by the author Paula Sanmart n herself as well as critical essays and letters Black Women as Custodians of History adds a new dimension to the body of existing criticism by challenging the ways assumptions have shaped how literature is read by black women writers Paula Sanmart n s study is a vivid demonstration of the strengths of embarking on multidisciplinary study This book will be useful to several disciplines and areas of study such as African diaspora studies African American studies Afro Latin American and Afro Caribbean studies women s studies genre studies and slavery studies

Frontiers Calling Clarence E. Stalcup, 2009-02 In this trilogy Grandma Mary Spurgeon's family advanced from 1719 indentured service to large Tennessee plantation ownership Her antislavery family departed on a flatboat and her fears were climaxed facing Indians on Iowa's rugged frontier Grandpa Bole an industrious lad emigrated to America following Ireland's Great Potato Famine Grandma Elizabeth Garvin lost her Irish mother in fire was beaten by a mean stepmother and sent to Canada Enduring death of two husbands she found peace in Iowa's horse and buggy days My father Big John Stalcup traces his roots to Johan Anderson an impetuous Swedish youth who came to America in 1641 Matured and name changed to Stallcop he was deeply involved in the development of New Sweden British policies drove his descendants from the Delaware Valley Big John's branch of Stalcups migrated in steps to the untamed Iowa frontier There Swedes English and Irish merged into one unique family Eighty one year old Clarence E Stalcup is the son of a pioneer father who was born in a log cabin Clarence began life in a Christian home and grew up in the difficult days of the Great Depression and World War Two After High School and service in the army Clarence spent some time in dairy related work He farmed most of his life but before retiring he was a counselor in group homes for mentally challenged men and delinquent youths He was a deacon Sunday School superintendent and teacher for many years He recently lost most of his sight and resigned from teaching He and his wife were long time children or youth leaders Their spiritual example is reflected in their six children and twenty nine grandchildren Clarence's family genealogical efforts have focused on human interest events and the historical setting in which they occurred Come Hither Walter De la Mare, 1928
