the Past, Inscribing the Future Nancy K. Florida,1995 Located at the juncture of literature history and anthropology Writing the Past Inscribing the Future charts a strategy of how one might read a traditional text of non Western historical literature in order to generate with it an opening for the future This book does so by taking seriously a haunting work of historical prophecy inscribed in the nineteenth century by a royal Javanese exile working through this writing of a colonized past to suggest the reconfiguration of the postcolonial future that this history itself apparently intends After introducing the colonial and postcolonial orientalist projects that would fix the meaning of traditional writing in Java Nancy K Florida provides a nuanced translation of this particular traditional history a history composed in poetry as the dream of a mysterious exile She then undertakes a richly textured reading of the poem that discloses how it manages to escape the fixing of tradition Adopting a dialogic strategy of reading Florida writes to extend as the work's Javanese author demands this history's prophetic potential into a more global register Babad Jaka Tingkir the historical prophecy that Writing the Past Inscribing the Future translates and reads is uniquely suited for such a study Composing an engaging history of the emergence of Islamic power in central Java around the turn of the sixteenth century Babad Jaka Tingkir was written from the vantage of colonial exile to contest the more dominant dynastic historical traditions of nineteenth century court literature Florida
