New Perspectives on Conflict and Ireland in the Nineteenth Century Paul Huddie, Cathal Billings, Arlene Crampsie, 2025-07-07. Conflict is a well-trodden theme in the study of nineteenth century Ireland and the Irish. While this is especially clear in the more traditional fields of politics, religion, and the military, conflict was equally manifest in every arena of Irish people's lives both in Ireland and abroad, including in areas such as gender, class, culture, and identity in domestic or personal spaces, institutional life, education, and medicine. Yet despite a broad and multi-disciplinary historiography, this is the first book to focus solely on this rich theme. New Perspectives on Conflict and Ireland in the Nineteenth Century brings together a group of scholars based around the world and in multiple disciplines who engage with the manifestations, representations, and histories of conflict pertaining to Ireland and Irish people throughout the long nineteenth century.

The Irish Diaspora in Britain, 1750-1939 Donald MacRaild, 2010-11-24. This established study focuses on the most important phase of Irish migration, providing analysis of why and how the Irish settled in Britain in such numbers. Updated and expanded, the new edition now extends the coverage to 1939 and features new chapters on gender and the Irish diaspora in a global perspective.

Ireland's Great Hunger David A. Valone, 2009-12-21. The papers collected in this volume are a product of the second conference on Ireland's Great Hunger held at Quinnipiac University in 2005. That conference focused on the themes of representation and preservation, brought together forty-five scholars from around the world to discuss various aspects of the Famine and its aftermath. Following the conference, the complete An Gorta Mór collection of Quinnipiac's famine commemorative art was placed on display for the first time in the University's Alumni Hall. The An Gorta Mór collection is on permanent display in the University's Arnold Bernhard Library and in other buildings across the University's Mount Carmel campus. This volume, focused on the theses of relief, representation, and remembrance, contains essays from a broad range of disciplines, including works of history, literary criticism, anthropology, and art history.
