The Economics of Cooperative Education Yasushi Tanaka,2014-10-24 A considerable number of higher educational institutions in North America Oceania and Europe offer what are known as cooperative education work integrated learning work placements sandwich courses or internships to provide pragmatic experience to students and its popularity is spreading to many higher educational institutions in the world Alongside such development the rising needs for theoretical research and objective assessment are felt among those academics and practitioners involved in these programmes The book offers a rigorous theoretical framework based on the human capital theory of labour economics and econometric analysis which are well established concepts in the field of economics with an objective quantitative methodology to analyze and assess cooperative education programmes Health Economics Peter Zweifel,Friedrich Breyer,Mathias Kifmann,2009-07-14 Health Economics presents a systematic treatment of the economics of health behavior and health care delivery Appropriate both for advanced undergraduate and graduate students of economics this text provides the background required to understand current research presenting theoretical models as well as empirical evidence and summarizing key results Without neglecting ethical concerns modern microeconomic theory is applied to formulate theoretical implications and predictions Issues discussed include the economic valuation of life and health moral hazard in health care utilization supplier induced demand the search for remuneration systems with favorable incentives risk selection in health insurance markets and technological change in medicine Patterns of Technological and Non-Technological Innovation in the Italian Food and Food Retail Industries Eleonora Bartoloni, Maurizio Baussola, 2013-11-17T00:00:00+01:00 Innovation patterns in the food and food retail industries have been analyzed and compared with the more general patterns found in the manufacturing and wholesale retail sectors We find that the food industry despite its relevance within manufacturing is still characterized by a lower propensity to innovate This fact is particularly relevant if one considers that technological innovation may have significant effects on firms performance and thus it may affect their future growth perspectives This is crucial in the current Italian economic framework which is characterized by a general decrease in internal demand and by a sharp decrease in families real disposable income In this context food industry firms may be able to expand their production by creating new opportunities with new and better goods and or by increasing their export capacity We suggest that technological and non technological patterns of innovation should be considered simultaneously as the former typically implies the acquisition of internal to the firm capabilities brought about by other activities aimed at improving the internal organization or at gaining a better understanding of market evolution
