Naydan, 2016-05-23

Rhetorics of Religion in American Fiction considers the way in which contemporary American authors address the subject of belief in the post 9 11 Age of Terror Naydan suggests that after 9 11 fiction by Mohsin Hamid Laila Halaby Philip Roth Don DeLillo John Updike and Barbara Kingsolver dramatizes and works to resolve impasses that exist between believers of different kinds at the extremes These impasses emerge out of the religious paradox that shapes America as simultaneously theocratic and secular and they exist for instance between liberals and fundamentalists between liberals and certain evangelicals between fundamentalists and artists and between fundamentalists of different varieties Ultimately Naydan argues that these authors function as literary theologians of sorts and forge a relevant space beyond or between extremes They fashion faith or lack thereof as hybridized and hence as a negotiation among secularism atheism faith fundamentalism and fanaticism In so doing they invite their readers into contemplations of religious difference and new ways of memorializing 9 11

American Literature in Transition, 1950-1960 Steven Belletto, 2017-12-28 American Literature in Transition 1950 1960 explores the under recognized complexity and variety of 1950s American literature by focalizing discussions through a series of keywords and formats that encourage readers to draw fresh connections among literary form and concepts institutions cultures and social phenomena important to the decade The first section draws attention to the relationship between literature and cultural phenomena that were new to the 1950s The second section demonstrates the range of subject positions important in the 1950s but still not visible in many accounts of the era The third section explores key literary schools or movements associated with the decade and explains how and why they developed at this particular cultural moment The final section focuses on specific forms or genres that grew to special prominence during the 1950s Taken together the chapters in the four sections not only encourage us to rethink familiar texts and figures in new lights but they also propose new archives for future study of the decade Encyclopedia of the American Short Story Abby H. P. Werlock, 2015-04-22

The Great American Novel Philip Roth, 2022-09-21 From the Pulitzer Prize winning author of American Pastoral a richly imagined novel featuring America's only homeless big league baseball team in history delivers shameless comic extravagance Roth gleefully exploits our readiness to let baseball stand for America itself The New York Times Gil Gamesh the only pitcher who ever literally tried to kill the umpire The ex-con first baseman John Baal The Babe Ruth of the Big House who never hit a home run sober If you've never heard of them or of the homeless baseball team the Ruppert Mundys it's because of the Communist plot and the capitalist scandal that expunged the entire Patriot League from baseball memory In this ribald wickedly satiric novel Roth turns baseball's status as national pastime and myth into an occasion for unfettered picaresque farce replete with heroism and perfidy ebullient wordplay and a cast of characters that includes the House Un-American Activities Committee

Postmodern Suburban Spaces Joseph George, 2016-10-20 This book reevaluates fiction devoted to the postwar American suburb examining the way these works imagine suburbia as a communal structure designed to advance a particular American identity Postmodern Suburban Spaces surveys works by both canonical chroniclers of the middle class experience such as Richard Yates and John Cheever and those who reflect suburbia's demographic reality including Gloria Naylor and Chang-rae Lee to uncover a surprising reconfiguration of the suburban experience Tracing major forms of suburban associations racial divisions property lines the family and ethnic fealty these works depict a different mode of interaction than the stereotypical white picket fences Joseph George draws from philosophers such as Emmanuel Levinas and Roberto Esposito to argue that these fictions assert a critical hospitality that frustrates the limited forms of association on which suburbia is based This fiction in turn posits an ethical form of community that comes about when people share space together

Just Literature Tzachi Zamir, 2019-11-20 In Just Literature Tzachi Zamir introduces the idea of philosophical criticism as an innovative approach to interpreting literary texts Throughout the book Zamir uses the theme of justice as a case study for this new critical approach By using philosophical criticism Zamir posits that a stronger grasp of the idea of justice can increase one's understanding of literature and thus its value He offers philosophical readings of works by Dante Shakespeare Toni Morrison J M Coetzee and Philip Roth to explore the relationship between aesthetic and epistemic value Zamir argues that while literature and philosophy remain separate entities examining the two in tandem may help inform the study of both Offering an inventive twist on an established dynamic this book is essential reading for any student or scholar of literature or philosophy
