|---------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. Would it make any sense to build space programs and rockets?     | That U.S. support them economically (training, fuel, etc.)                                          | None listed                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 2. Would anyone benefit from the rockets and satellites they built? | They would certainly gain access to rockets that were better. They would also have delivery of aid. | They might develop better in case of emergency. They would have better knowledge than the Soviets about American things, planned actions, the conduct of American foreign policy. |
| 3. Would anyone disagree with this?                                 | Not Eisenhower.                                                                                     | Others might be people worried about independence and who disagreed.                                                                                                              |
| 4. Would what the Americans asked make sense to the Soviets?        | Yes. The governments had no money. There was no industrial activity.                                | Yes. American people were surprised and would not take a revolution like them.                                                                                                    |

2. Suppose the agreement simply to get satellites was enough.

What other advantages would it have?

It might be that the satellites were really better.

It would be easy. The governments the satellites were created.

It is possible that the satellites were not just money and satellites.
