Hadith Muhammads Legacy In The Medieval And Modern World Foundations Of Islam:

Hadith Jonathan A.C. Brown, 2017-12-07 Contrary to popular opinion the bulk of Islamic law does not come from the Quran but from hadith first hand reports of the Prophet Muhammad s words and deeds passed from generation to generation However with varying accounts often only committed to paper a century after the death of Muhammad Islamic scholars past and present have been faced with complex questions of historical authenticity In this wide ranging introduction Jonathan A C Brown explores the collection and criticism of hadith and the controversy surrounding its role in modern Islam This edition revised and updated with additional case studies and attention to the very latest scholarship also features a new chapter on how hadiths have been used politically both historically and in the Arab Spring and its aftermath Informative and accessible it is perfectly suited to students scholars and general readers interested in this critical element of Islam Hadith Jonathan ebook is a static version of an article from Oxford Bibliographies Online Islamic Studies a dynamic continuously updated online resource designed to provide authoritative guidance through scholarship and other materials relevant to the study of the Islamic religion and Muslim cultures Oxford Bibliographies Online covers most subject disciplines within the social science and humanities for more information visit www.aboutobo.com Sufism and Zen in the West Saeko Yazaki, Michael Conway, 2025-02-20 Historically and culturally Sufism and Zen may not seem to have anything in common However in the West their spiritual messages are often perceived as strikingly similar In this book scholars analyse the ways in which Sufism and Zen were introduced to and developed in the West The collection shows that the popularity of these religions arose not because of the substantive shared elements within the two traditions but because their promoters in the West employed similar strategies to respond to the interests of a modern Western audience The first book to make a close comparison of Sufism and Zen this study is an important contribution to understanding Western religious life and processes of easternisation It sheds new light on how Sufism and Zen came to represent a spirituality that is both countercultural and in touch with modern sensitivities Routledge Handbook of Religion and Politics Jeffrey Haynes, 2023-05-30 This third edition of the successful Routledge Handbook of Religion and Politics provides a definitive global survey of the interaction of religion and politics From the United States to the Middle East from Asia to Africa and beyond religion continues to be an important factor in political activity and organisation Featuring contributions from an international team of experts this volume examines the political aspects of the world's major religions including crucial contemporary issues such as religion and climate change religion and migration and religion and war Each chapter has been updated to reflect the latest developments and thinking in the field and the handbook also includes new chapters on topics such as religious freedom religion and populism proselytizing humanism and politics and religious soft power The four main themes addressed are World religions and politics Religion and governance Religion and international relations Religion security and development References at the end of each chapter guide the reader towards the most up to date information on these key topics This book is an indispensable source of information for students academics and the wider public interested in the dynamic relationship between politics and religion Possessed by the Right Hand Bernard K. Freamon, 2019-05-20 In Possessed by the Right Hand the first comprehensive legal history of slavery in Islam ever offered to readers Bernard K Freamon an African American Muslim law professor provides a penetrating analysis of the problems of slavery and slave trading in Islamic history After examining the issues from pre Islamic times through to the nineteenth century Professor Freamon considers the impact of Western abolitionism arguing that such efforts have been a failure with the notion of abolition becoming nothing more than a cruel illusion He closes this ground breaking account with an examination of the slaving ideologies and actions of ISIS and Boko Haram asserting that Muslims now have an important and urgent responsibility to achieve true abolition under the aegis of Islamic law See Bernard Freamon live at Rutgers Law School October 8 2019 Listen to Possessed by the Right Hand

An Interview with Prof Bernard Freamon from Network ReOrient on Anchor God in Islamic Theology Mehmet Ozalp, 2023-05-15 Theology is a rational endeavor to understand everything about God from within a faith tradition and its scriptures and in response to problems posed by the conditions of a particular time and place God in Islamic Theology Tawhid in Classical Islamic Theology and Said Nursi's Risale i Nur engages and gleans classical and contemporary understandings on the central tenets of God in Islam The book makes a substantive contribution to Islamic Studies in four main ways First it grasps and justifies the use of the language and genre of theology in relation to scholarly efforts to relate Qur'anic teachings about God to human understanding The development of Islamic theology and its evolving scope are explored to produce a fresh framework in the study of Islamic theology Second it directly addresses some of the challenges facing Islam including its multi-layered theological positions and how these influence its internal coherence and its external relations especially with Abrahamic faith traditions and Western philosophy generally Third presenting a new understanding of Islamic epistemology it drives to the prime essential of Islamic theology in its attempting to prove the existence oneness and relatability of God Fourth it highlights and justifies the place of Said Nursi as an informed and theologically rigorous contemporary source in Islamic theology Euthanasia and Assisted Suicide Michael J. Cholbi, 2017-01-26 This book addresses key historical scientific legal and philosophical issues surrounding euthanasia and assisted suicide in the United States as well as in other countries and cultures Euthanasia was practiced by Greek physicians as early as 500 BC In the 20th century legal and ethical controversies surrounding assisted dying exploded Many religions and medical organizations led the way in opposition citing the incompatibility of assisted dying with various religious traditions and with the obligations of medical personnel toward their patients Today these practices remain highly controversial both in the United States and around the world Comprising contributions from an international group of experts this book thoroughly investigates euthanasia and assisted suicide from an interdisciplinary and global perspective It presents the ethical arguments for and against assisted dying highlights how assisted dying is perceived in various cultural and philosophical traditions for example South and East Asian cultures Latin American perspectives and religions including Islam and Christianity and considers how assisted dying has both shaped and been shaped by the emergence of professionalized bioethics Readers will also learn about the most controversial issues related to assisted dying such as pediatric euthanasia assisted dying for organ transplantation and suicide tourism and examine concerns relating to assisted dying for racial minorities children and the disabled

Longing for the Lost Caliphate Mona Hassan, 2018-08-14 In the United States and Europe the word caliphate has conjured historically romantic and increasingly pernicious associations Yet the caliphate's significance in Islamic history and Muslim culture remains poorly understood This book explores the myriad meanings of the caliphate for Muslims around the world through the analytical lens of two key moments of loss in the thirteenth and twentieth centuries Through extensive primary source research Mona Hassan explores the rich constellation of interpretations created by religious scholars historians musicians statesmen poets and intellectuals Hassan fills a scholarly gap regarding Muslim reactions to the destruction of the Abbasid caliphate in Baghdad in 1258 and challenges the notion that the Mongol onslaught signaled an end to the critical engagement of Muslim jurists and intellectuals with the idea of an Islamic caliphate She also situates Muslim responses to the dramatic abolition of the Ottoman caliphate in 1924 as part of a longer trajectory of transregional cultural memory revealing commonalities and differences in how modern Muslims have creatively interpreted and reinterpreted their heritage Hassan examines how poignant memories of the lost caliphate have been evoked in Muslim culture law and politics similar to the losses and repercussions experienced by other religious communities including the destruction of the Second Temple for Jews and the fall of Rome for Christians A global history Longing for the Lost Caliphate delves into why the caliphate has been so important to Muslims in vastly different eras and places No Truth Without Beauty Leena El-Ali, 2021-12-01 In this comprehensive open access book written for readers from any or no religious background Leena El Ali does something remarkable Never before has anyone taken on every last claim relating to Islam and women and countered it not just with Qur'anic evidence to the contrary but with easy to use tools available to all How can a woman's testimony be worth half of a man's How can men divorce their wives unilaterally by uttering three words And what's with the obsession with virgins in Paradise Find the chapter on any of the seventeen topics in this book and you will quickly learn where the myth came from and how to bust it The methodology pursued is simple First the Qur'an is given priority over all other literary or scriptural sources Second the meaning of its verses in the original Arabic is highlighted in contrast to English translations and or widespread misunderstanding or misinterpretation
