Interactions between Animals and Humans in Graeco-Roman Antiquity Thorsten Fögen, Edmund V. Thomas, 2017-08-21
The seventeen contributions to this volume written by leading experts show that animals and humans in Graeco Roman antiquity are interconnected on a variety of different levels and that their encounters and interactions often result from their belonging to the same structures networks and communities or at least from finding themselves together in a certain setting context or environment wittingly or unwittingly Papers explore the concrete categories of interaction between animals and humans that can be identified in what contexts they occur and what types of evidence can be productively used to examine the concept of interactions Articles in this volume take into account literary visual and other types of evidence A comprehensive research bibliography is also provided

Animal Sacrifice in the Ancient Greek World Sarah Hitch, Ian Rutherford, 2017-08-24 This volume brings together studies on Greek animal sacrifice by foremost experts in Greek language literature and material culture Readers will benefit from the synthesis of new evidence and approaches with a re evaluation of twentieth century theories on sacrifice The chapters range across the whole of antiquity and go beyond the Greek world to consider possible influences in Hittite Anatolia and Egypt while an introduction to the burgeoning science of osteo archaeology is provided The twentieth century emphasis on sacrifice as part of the Classical Greek polis system is challenged through consideration of various ancient perspectives on sacrifice as distinct from specific political or even Greek contexts Many previously unexplored topics are covered particularly the type of animals sacrificed and the spectrum of sacrificial ritual from libations to lasting memorials of the ritual in art
