Harlem Gallery And Other Poems Of Melvin B Tolson:

"Harlem Gallery" and Other Poems of Melvin B. Tolson Melvin Beaunorus Tolson, 1999 The poet Melvin B Tolson 1898 1966 was once recognized as one of black America s most important modernist voices Playful fluent and intellectually sophisticated his poems stirred up significant praise and some lively criticism during his lifetime but have been out of print for decades and essentially left out of the literary canon With the publication of this first complete collection of his work Tolson can finally be given his proper place in American poetry This volume brings together Tolson s three books of poetry Rendezvous with America 1944 Libretto for the Republic of Liberia 1953 and Harlem Gallery 1965 as well as fugitive poems after 1944 His work has at times been controversial because of his historical intellectual subject matter and his commitment to the priorities of art rather than the imperatives of politics However a fresh reading of his challenging masterpiece Harlem Gallery a poem in 24 cantos reveals an urgent meditation on the plight of the black artist in a white society and a concern with social justice that locates Tolson in the mainstream of African American writing Such powerful themes as well as his range of tone and mesmerizing imagery have won Tolson a growing number of enthusiastic admirers who place him alongside such legendary black poets as Langston Hughes Gwendolyn Brooks and Robert Hayden While his peers Hughes and Countee Cullen were part of the Harlem Renaissance Melvin B Tolson was not identified with any particular movement and his legacy in American literature has been elusive This book enhanced by a moving introduction by Rita Dove and useful notes by editor Raymond Nelson provides the text for a renewed appreciation of one of the great talents in African American poetry

Farnsworth, 1984 In this biography of Tolson Robert M Farnsworth has gathered much new information on the poet from family papers from reminiscences of friends acquaintances and relatives and from scholarly analyses of his work to create a clarifying and insightful account of the poet's life The events and preoccupations of Tolson's life in turn provide a useful context for examining Tolson's major poems Moreover Farnsworth has determined the chronology of most of Tolson's writings many of which were before either unknown or known only through obscure references University of Missouri Press — African American Authors, 1745-1945 Emmanuel S. Nelson, 2000-01-30 There has been a dramatic resurgence of interest in early African American writing Since the accidental rediscovery and republication of Harriet Wilson's Our Nig in 1983 the works of dozens of 19th and early 20th century black writers have been recovered and reprinted There is now a significant revival of interest in the Harlem Renaissance of the 1920s and in the last decade alone several major assessments of 18th and 19th century African American literature have been published Early African American literature builds on a strong oral tradition of songs folktales and sermons Slave narratives began to appear during the late 18th and early 19th century and later writers began to engage a variety of themes in diverse genres A central objective of this reference book is to provide a wide ranging introduction to the first 200 years of African American literature Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 78 black writers active between 1745 and 1945 Among these writers are essayists novelists short story writers poets playwrights and autobiographers Each entry is written by an expert contributor and provides a biography a discussion of major works and themes an overview of the author's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies The volume concludes with a selected general bibliography
