Where Is the God of Justice? Michael E. W. Thompson, 2011-06-08 What does the Old Testament say about the problem of suffering Though

Christians believe themselves to be held in the care of the God of love and strength they yet find that sufferings come their way Moreover whole communities even whole nations experience terrible sufferings all of which frequently raises the question Where is the God of justice Those parts of the Old Testament that deal with this question are here considered and discussed both those that understand suffering as due to human sinfulness and those that raise serious questions about that sort of understanding Further here are Jeremiah s questions about why he as the Lord s prophet must suffer the gentler questions in Ecclesiastes the perplexing life experiences of Joseph the agonized prayer of Habakkuk those most urgent questions in the book of Job the outspoken words of psalmists the radical talk about a suffering servant and the confident hope expressed in Daniel Thompson argues that while the Old Testament cannot always give us answers it does point us to God for hope in the midst of suffering

Risking Truth Scott A. Ellington,2008-09-01 Ours is a world characterized by change Often the most fundamental changes in our lives result from experiences of profound suffering and loss as we are wrenched from our familiar world and driven into one that is alien In the midst of such loss we are compelled to choose between trying to cling to the remnants of a reality that is passing away and trying to make a home in a strange new world Biblical prayers of lament wait for us at this crossroad of loss and newness Prayers of lament are marked both by loss and by the inexplicable silence of God Everything we believe about God s justice and goodness is placed in doubt by his hiddenness The cry of lament is an act of tremendous risk To lament is to abandon the sinking ship of religious certainty and strike out in a small dingy amidst stormy seas in search of a hidden God Faced with God s silence the biblical writers are willing to place at risk their most fundamental beliefs and to lament The Psalm writers risk the loss of the Exodus story by crying out to a God who has failed to save demanding that he once more part the chaotic waters and make a way in the desert Job risks the loss of a moral God by confronting God with his injustice Jeremiah risks the loss of the covenant by calling out for God to return yet again to a faithless partner and a failed marriage Matthew and John the Revelator recognize that the coming of Messiah is impelled by the cries of innocent sufferers Throughout the Bible lament risks the possible loss of relationship with God and presses for a new though uncertain experience of God's presence
