

3.7 Ignition voltage measurement

The optional ignition voltage measurement system MONIC is also connected to DIA.NE XT via the CAN Bus. MONIC considerably reduces the time required to check the ignition voltage regularly. The most important advantage of the system, however, is the fact that the automatic ignition voltage measurement makes it possible to monitor the ignition voltage via DIA.NE WIN and thus by remote data transfer. If the ignition-voltage threshold values (which can be parameterised) are exceeded or underrun, a corresponding warning will be generated in the alarm management system. This warning, which can be issued on-site or can be automatically transferred by remote data transfer, is channelled through the Hermes auto alarm activation to indicate the necessity of maintenance.

4 Summary

DIA.NE XT is the perfect combination of powerful and flexible control electronics with a user-friendly operation concept.

As DIA.NE XT is based on a powerful industrial control system using standardised programming languages in conformity with IEC 61131, it can be customised during the project-preparation phase and if the installation is converted or modified at a later point in time.

The multi-colour and graphic information display makes DIA.NE XT into a particularly user-friendly man/machine interface, thus making the installation easier to operate for both the operator and the service and maintenance staff.

The numerous ways of connecting DIA.NE XT to central control systems or to DIA.NE WIN make it easy to integrate into superimposed control systems or to monitor the installation remotely. The optimal compatibility with DIA.NE WIN means that GE Jenbacher are able to offer a state-of-the-art remote maintenance system using DIA.NE XT.
