Jewish Insights on Death and Mourning Jack Riemer, 2012-11-28 Forward by Sherwin B Nuland As Jack Riemer demonstrates in this collection of Jewish resources for mourning and healing the Jewish tradition has much to offer those who seek its help in time of need Here are personal as well as practical writings by contemporary authors about the Shiva period Kaddish Yizkor Yahrzeit and less familiar practices to honor the dead and comfort the living Some writers describe new rituals that were created to fill special needs Others raise questions about the tradition Do Jews believe in an afterlife How do we mourn the stillborn child Should we always strive to prolong life Reflections on these and other issues related to death and dying make this an indispensable resource for coping with some of life s most difficult and sacred moments

Jewish Passages Harvey E. Goldberg, 2003-10-17 Goldberg s breadth of knowledge is particularly impressive Here is a scholar who has read everything and has produced a rich first rate book that is both comprehensive and accessible making Jewish customs meaningful even to non specialists A scholarly achievement that is also a great bar mitzvah gift with tremendous value for anyone in Jewish Studies including rabbis and members of synagogue study groups Jack Kugelmass Irving and Miriam Lowe Professor and Director Jewish Studies Program at Arizona State University Sweeping in its reach and richly informative in its details Jewish Passages offers a treasury of wonderfully interesting information This is a work that will not be lost Samuel C Heilman author of When a Jew Dies Managing Death: International Perspectives Gerry R. Cox, Neil Thompson, 2022-09-23 There is a huge collection of literature relating to death grief and bereavement but one aspect that has received relatively little attention is that of death management practices by which we mean the various ways of managing the circumstances of the death ritually acknowledging it and sensitively handling the disposal of the body and so on While ways of disposing of the dead and grief practices have been thought of as based upon individual responses grief and bereavement practices can be understood not only by looking at psychological and medical frameworks but also by examining people as part of a complex structure of social arrangements institutions structures and patterns By examining the social and institutional structures of various groups around the world we provide an international framework for a better understanding of the study of dying death and bereavement This book highlights the significance of these matters in an international context reflecting common themes and important differences It will highlight common themes across diverse cultures and national settings while also drawing attention to significant differences If professionals working in the field of death grief and bereavement are not aware of such differences their practice can be insensitive discriminatory and therefore ineffective if not actually counterproductive As such the book provides an invaluable resource for a wide variety of professionals and students including medicine and health care social work counselling and psychotherapy chaplaincy and pastoral work and of course those involved in the funeral industry In addition students of sociology psychology and anthropology will find much of interest here in terms of appreciating the diversity of ways in which funerals and other death management practices are managed and integrated into social life Death, Bereavement, and Mourning Samuel C. Heilman, 2018-02-06 An encounter with the death of another is often an occasion when the bereaved need to be sustained in their loss relieved of the anxiety that the meeting with death engenders and comforted in their grief It is a time when those left behind often seek to redress wrongs in themselves or in the relationships that death has shaken and upset In both collective and individual responses to the trauma of encountering death we witness efforts to counter the misfortune and to explain the meaning of the loss to turn memory into blessing to reconcile life with death to regenerate life and redeem both the bereaved and the dead Sometimes loss may transform the bereaved in ways that lead to growth and maturity other times a loss leads to unrelenting anger or melancholia There may be a variety of spiritual expressions that the bereaved experience in their time of loss but there appears to be some common elements in all of them Overtime survivors feelings are transformed into growing exploration of the spiritual a profound sense of rebirth newfound feelings of self mastery or confidence and a deeply held conviction that life goes on The contributions to this volume are based on a conference held in New York on the first anniversary of September 11 2001 Contributors include Peter Metcalf Robert Jay Lifton Ilana Harlow Robert A Neimeyer Samuel Heilman and Neil Gillman This sensitive and heartfelt volume relates specifically to issues of death bereavement and mourning in the aftermath of the attack on the World Trade Center but the applications to other individual and catastrophic events is obvious The contributions do not simply explore how people deal with bereavement or are psychologically affected by extreme grief they address how people can try to find meaning in tragedy and loss and strive to help restore order in the wake of chaos The multidisciplinary perspectives include those of anthropology psychology theology social work and art Death and Religion in a Changing World Kathleen Garces-Foley, 2022-06-01 Death and Religion in a Changing World is a comprehensive and accessible study of the intersection of death and religion examining how everyday people enact religious responses to death in the twenty first century With contributions from leading religious studies scholars this book moves away from the field's focus on traditional beliefs to explore how religious traditions evolve in relation to their changing social contexts Employing an ethnographic approach Death and Religion in a Changing World further details how people from a wide variety of religious traditions and people without religious affiliation draw on and adapt religious practices as they respond to death in modern societies Every chapter in this second edition has been thoroughly updated and new chapters on the ethical issues of dying including life prolonging medical treatments palliative care physician assisted suicide and euthanasia and the modern hospice movement have been added This book also covers emerging social and religious phenomena such as public shrines the Covid 19 pandemic funeral celebrants death with dignity spiritual bereavement groups and online funeral practices This cutting edge work is essential reading for students and scholars of religion who are approaching the subjects of death and religion and ritual studies Death, Dying and Bereavement Donna Dickenson, Malcolm Johnson, Jeanne Katz, 2000-09-28 The fully revised and updated edition of this bestselling collection combines academic research with professional and personal reflections Death Dying and Bereavement addresses both the practical and the more metaphysical aspects of death Topics such as new methods of pain relief guidelines for breaking bad news and current attitudes to euthanasia are considered while the mystery of death and its wider implications are also explored A highly distinctive interdisciplinary approach is adopted including perspectives from literature theology sociology and psychology There are wide ranging contributions from those who come into professional contact with death and bereavement doctors nurses social wo
