In the Trenches David A. Harris, 2000. Speeches and writings of David Harris, the executive director of the American Jewish Committee, these speeches chronicle his life of American and world Jewry from 1979-1999. The Story of the Synagogue Meyer Levin, Toby K. Kurzband, 1957. Ethnic Women Vasilikie Demos, 1994. This book introduces the study of ethnic women and contributes to our understanding of the relationships among gender, race, ethnicity, and social class. The social scientific study of gender has grown exponentially for more than two decades. Until recently, however, little attention has been paid to the diversity among women. The social scientific literature on ethnicity has experienced a revival in the same decades, yet women have frequently been overlooked or misrepresented in that literature. When ethnic women do appear, they are typically depicted as selfless wives and mothers or passive victims. These twenty original essays challenge myths and stereotypes. The authors, social scientists, social service professionals, and other scholars, explore a broad range of racial, ethnic, and social class circumstances. Communities represented include the Hmong in Wisconsin, Cuban Jews in Florida, and Samoans in Hawaii. Patterns of immigration and social mobility, communal institutions, and maintenance of ethnic traditions are among the topics which reflect the multiple status reality of ethnic women.

We Refuse to Be Enemies Sabeeha Rehman, Walter Ruby, 2021-04-20. For readers of The Faith Club, Sons of Abraham, and The Anatomy of Peace, a call for mutual understanding and lessons for getting there. We Refuse to Be Enemies is a manifesto by two American citizens: a Muslim woman and Jewish man concerned with the rise of intolerance and bigotry in our country along with resurgent white nationalism. Neither author is an imam, rabbi, scholar, or community leader, but together they have spent decades doing interfaith work and nurturing cooperation among communities. They have learned that through face-to-face encounters, people of all backgrounds can come to know the Other as a fellow human being and turn her or him into a trusted friend. In this book, they share their experience and guidance. Growing up in Pakistan before she immigrated to the United States, Sabeeha never met a Jew, and her view was colored by the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. In his youth, Walter never met a Muslim, and his opinion was shaped by Leon Uris's Exodus. Yet together they have formed a friendship and collaboration. Tapping their own life stories and entering into dialogue within the book, they explain how they have found commonalities between their respective faiths and discuss shared principles and lessons: how their perceptions of the Other have evolved and the pushback they faced. They wrestle with the two elephants in the room: the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and polarizing material in their holy texts and history. And they share their vision for reconciliation offering concrete principles for building an alliance in support of religious freedom and human rights As members of the two largest minority faith communities in America we must stand together at a portentous moment in American history Neither of our communities will be able to prosper in an America characterized by xenophobia and bigotry Sabeeha Rehman and Walter Ruby

Judaism, Christianity, and Islam Sander L. Gilman, 2014-11-01 Islam Christianity and Judaism share several common features including their historical origins in the prophet Abraham their belief in a single divine being and their modern global expanse Yet it is the seeming closeness of

Sons of Abraham Rabbi Marc Schneier, Imam Shamsi Ali, 2015-06-16 A prominent rabbi and imam each raised in orthodoxy overcome the temptations of bigotry and work to bridge the chasm between Muslims and Jews Rabbi Marc Schneier the eighteenth generation of a distinguished rabbinical dynasty grew up deeply suspicious of Muslims believing them all to be anti Semitic Imam Shamsi Ali who grew up in a small Indonesian village and studied in Pakistan and Saudi Arabia believed that all Jews wanted to destroy Muslims Coming from positions of mutual mistrust it seems unthinkable that these orthodox religious leaders would ever see eye to eye Yet in the aftermath of 9 11 amid increasing acrimony between Jews and Muslims the two men overcame their prejudices and bonded over a shared belief in the importance of opening up a dialogue and finding mutual respect In doing so they became not only friends but also defenders of each other s religion denouncing the twin threats of anti Semitism and Islamophobia and promoting interfaith cooperation In Sons of Abraham Rabbi Schneier and Imam Ali tell the story of how they became friends and offer a candid look at the contentious theological and political issues that frequently divide Jews and Muslims clarifying erroneous ideas that extremists in each religion use to justify harmful behavior Rabbi Schneier dispels misconceptions about chosenness in Judaism while Imam Ali explains the truth behind concepts like jihad and Shari'a And on the Israeli Palestinian conflict the two speak forthrightly on the importance of having a civil discussion and the urgency of reaching a peaceful solution As Rabbi Schneier and Imam Ali show by reaching a fuller understanding of one another's faith traditions Jews and Muslims can realize that they are actually more united than divided in their core beliefs Both traditions promote kindness service and responsibility for the less fortunate and both religions call on their members to extend compassion to those outside the faith In this sorely needed book Rabbi Schneier and Imam Ali challenge Jews and Muslims to step out of their comfort zones find common ground in their shared Abrahamic traditions and stand together and fight for a better world for all
