Windisch, Claus Tieber, Phil Powrie, 2023-05-02 This open access collection deals with musical moments in film as one of the most pivotal and compelling issues of current film music research Musical moments as defined by Amy Herzog occur when a musical number inverts the normal relationship between the image track and the soundtrack in a film in such a way that what we see is determined by what we hear As one potential approach this definition provokes a variety of perspectives to investigate the disruptive potential of these moments and numbers as a creative device in the production of audiovisual narratives In this sense the book responds to a need for an anthology that introduces students as well as scholars of cinema musicology media studies and cultural studies more broadly to recent discourses in film music scholarship The volume includes contributions by early career researchers as well as by established experts in the fields of musicology film studies media studies and cultural studies promoting cross disciplinary collaboration in film music research

Black Ephemera Mark Anthony Neal, 2022-03-08 PROSE Award Music and Performing Arts Category Winner A framework for understanding the deep archive of Black performance in the digital era In an era of Big Data and algorithms our easy access to the archive of contemporary and historical Blackness is unprecedented That iterations of Black visual art such as Bert Williams's 1916 silent film short A Natural Born Gambler or the performances of Josephine Baker from the 1920s are merely a quick YouTube search away has transformed how scholars teach and research Black performance While Black Ephemera celebrates this new access it also questions the crisis and the challenge of the Black musical archive in a moment when Black American culture has become a global export Using music and sound as its primary texts Black Ephemera argues that the cultural DNA of Black America has become obscured in the transformation from analog to digital Through a cross reading of the relationship between the digital era and culture produced in the pre digital era Neal argues that Black music has itself been reduced to ephemera at best and at worst to the background sounds of the continued exploitation and commodification of Black culture The crisis and challenges of Black archives are not simply questions of knowledge but of how knowledge moves and manifests itself within Blackness that is obscure ephemeral fugitive precarious fluid and increasingly digital Black Ephemera is a reminder that for every great leap forward there is a necessary return to the archive Through this work Neal offers a new framework for thinking about Black culture in the digital world

Open Water Caleb Azumah Nelson, 2021-04-13 WINNER OF THE COSTA FIRST NOVEL AWARD A NATIONAL BOOK FOUNDATION 5 UNDER 35 WINNER OF THE BRITISH BOOK AWARD FOR DEBUT FICTION Open Water is tender poetry, a love song to Black art and thought, an exploration of intimacy and vulnerability between two young artists learning to be soft with each other in a world that hardens against Black people. Yaa Gyasi, author of Homegoing. In a crowded London pub, two young people meet. Both are Black British, both won scholarships to private schools where they struggled to belong, both are now artists: he a photographer, she a dancer, and both are trying to make their mark in a world that by turns celebrates and rejects them. Tentatively, tenderly, they fall in love. But two people who seem destined to be together can still be torn apart by fear and violence, and over the course of a year they find their relationship tested by forces beyond their control. Narrated with deep intimacy, Open Water is at once an achingly beautiful love story and a potent insight into race and masculinity that asks what it means to be a person in a world that sees you only as a Black body, to be vulnerable when you are only respected for strength, to find safety in love only to lose it. With gorgeous, soulful intensity and blistering emotional intelligence, Caleb Azumah Nelson gives a profoundly sensitive portrait of romantic love in all its feverish waves and comforting beauty. This is one of the most essential debut novels of recent years, heralding the arrival of a stellar and prodigious young talent.

The Visual Cultures of Childhood Karen Wells, 2020-03-20 Some of the most iconic images of the twentieth century are of children: Dorothea Lange's Migrant Mother depicting farm worker Frances Owens Thompson with three of her children, six-year-old Ruby Bridges flanked by U.S. marshals walking down the steps of an all-white elementary school she desegregated, Hu nh C ng t s' photograph of nine-year-old Phan Thi Kim Phuc fleeing a South Vietnamese napalm bombing. These iconic images, with their juxtaposition of the innocent in the sense of not culpable figure of the child and the guilty perpetrators of violence, both structural and interpersonal, are arresting. The power of the image of the child to arrest the spectator, to demand a response from her, has given the representation of children a central place in
