Making A New Nation The Formation Of Slovenia:

Making a New Nation Danica Fink Hafner, John R. Robbins, 1997 A description and analysis of the transition process in Slovenia Creating New States Aleksandar Pavkovic, Peter Radan, 2016-05-13 Secession is the creation of a new independent state out of an existing state This key volume examines the political social and legal processes of the practice of secession Following an analysis of secessionist movements and their role in attempts at secession eight case studies are explored to illustrate peaceful violent sequential and recursive secessions This is followed by a look at the theoretical approaches and a discussion that focuses on the economic causes Normative theories of secession are discussed as well as the status of secession in legal theory and practice The book systematizes our present knowledge of secessions in an accessible way to readers not familiar with the phenomenon and its consequences It is ideal as a supplementary text to courses on contemporary political and social movements applied ethics and political philosophy international relations and international law state sovereignty and state formation Building Democracy in the Yugoslav Successor States Sabrina P. Ramet, Christine M. Hassenstab, Ola Listhaug, 2017-05-15 Building democracy in societies that have known only authoritarian rule for half a century is complicated Taking the post Yugoslav region as its case study this volume shows how success with democratisation depends on various factors including establishing the rule of law the consolidation of free media and society s acceptance of ethnic religious and sexual minorities Surveying the seven successor states the authors argue that Slovenia is in a class by itself as the most successful with Croatia and Serbia not far behind The other states Bosnia Herzegovina Macedonia Montenegro and Kosovo are all struggling with problems of corruption poverty and unemployment The authors treat the issue of values as a policy problem in its own right debating the extent to which values have been transformed by changes in education and the media how churches and women s organisations have entered into the policy debate and whether governments have embraced a programme designed to effect changes in values The Quality of Democracy in Eastern Europe Andrew Roberts, 2010 This book presents a positive assessment of democratic quality as it has developed in ten postcommunist countries Contemporary Theatres in Europe Joe Kelleher, Nicholas Ridout, 2006-09-27 With specific examples and case studies by specialist writers academics and a new generation of theatre researchers this collection of specially commissioned essays is the perfect introduction to contemporary theatre practices in Europe Transforming Gender Citizenship Éléonore Lépinard, Ruth Rubio-Marín, 2018-07-19 Explains the adoption diffusion of and resistance to gender quotas in politics corporate boards and public administration across Europe The Break-up of Yugoslavia and International Law Peter Radan, 2004-01-14 The demise of the former Yugoslavia was brought about by various secessionist movements seeking international recognition of statehood This book provides a critical analysis from an international law perspective of the break up of Yugoslavia Although international recognition was granted to the former Yugoslav republics of Slovenia Croatia Bosnia Hercegovina and Macedonia the claims of secessionist movements that sought a revision of existing internal federal borders were rejected The basis upon which the post secession international borders were accepted in international law involved novel applications of international law principles of self determination of peoples and uti possidetis This book traces the developments of these principles and the historical development of Yugoslavia s internal borders

The Fragmentation of Yugoslavia A. Pavkovic, 2000-07-24 War World War I created the state of Yugoslavia in 1918 and in a series of wars starting in 1991 Yugoslavia was replaced by several new and smaller states The victors had always presented these wars as wars of national liberation each war was fought for the sacred cause of national liberty The book traces the origins of ideologies appealing to the cause of national liberty and outlines their use in the creation of new states and new political regimes in the Balkans The Future of NATO Expansion Zoltan Barany, 2003-07-21 In 1999 three East Central European states Poland Hungary and the Czech Republic gained membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Professor Barany argues that once it began the Alliance should continue the enlargement process Nevertheless he maintains that only states that satisfy NATO s membership criteria should be allowed to join Through an extensive analysis of four countries Bulgaria Romania Slovakia and Slovenia who at the time of the book s original publication in 2003 were NATO aspirants Barany demonstrates that they were in several important respects unprepared for membership and that there was no pressing reason for NATO s haste Barany argues that while NATO should be clear that its doors remain open to qualified candidates the Alliance should hold off further expansion until prospective members will become assets rather than liabilities Media Discourse and the Yugoslav Conflicts Pål Kolstø, 2016-04-29 In spite of the growing literature on discourse analysis the relationship of discourse to violent non violent outcomes of conflict is an under researched area This book combines theories on ethnic conflict identity construction and discourse analysis with a comprehensive and inclusive survey of the countries of the former Yugoslavia It presents an understanding of the interrelationship between words and deeds grounded through an extensively close analysis of film television and newspapers samples taken from the period This combination of ground breaking applications of theory with detailed empirical case studies will make Media Discourse and the Yugoslav Conflicts of key interest to scholars across a range of social sciences including sociology discourse analysis media conflict and peace studies as well as those concerned with ethno-political conflict Faces on the Ballot Alan Renwick, Jean-Benoit Pilet, 2016-02-05 One of the key shifts in contemporary politics is the trend towards greater personalization Collective actors such as political parties are losing relevance Citizens are slowly dealigning from these actors and individual politicians are therefore growing in importance in elections in government within parties and in media reporting of politics A crucial question concerns how this new pattern could be restructuring politics over the long run notably whether the personalization of politics is changing the institutional architecture of contemporary democracies The authors show that the trend towards personalization is indeed changing core democratic institutions Studying the evolution of electoral systems in thirty one European democracies since 1945 they demonstrate that since the 1990s there has been a shift towards more personalized electoral systems Electoral systems in most European countries now allow voters to express preferences for candidates not just for political parties And the weight of these voters preferences in the allocation of seats has been increased in numerous countries They examine the factors that appear to be driving this evolution finding that the personalization of electoral systems is associated with the growing gap between citizens and politics Politicians and legislators appear to perceive the personalization of electoral systems as a way to address the democratic malaise and to restore trust in politics by reducing the role of political parties in elections The book also shows however that whether these reforms have had any success in achieving their aims is far less clear
