J.M.W. Turner David Blayney Brown, Amy Concannon, Sam Smiles, 2014 The EY Exhibition Tate Britain (Gallery), 2014

When Turner died in 1851 the general view of an artist's late work was one of decline. Indeed Turner's own painting from 1845 onwards was described as indulgent, eccentric and repulsive and even his devoted champion John Ruskin commented on its wholly inferior value. However from the early 1900s there was a major reassessment of Turner's later paintings and sketches. Commentators hailed his study of light as a visionary precursor to the ideas of the Impressionists. This continued into the twentieth century with curatorial choices in some museums presenting Turner's late and unfinished work as distinctly modern. Through a number of key themes and studies into his subject matter, technique and personal activities this new analysis challenges the historical conceptions of Turner's late style. The idea that as an elderly artist Turner was seen as introverted and detached by the Victorian art world is set against the fact that his paintings from 1835 were some of the most popular, accessible and intellectual that he created. Meanwhile questioning the notion that Turner's late work articulated a conclusive radical vision that was heedless of public reaction, the texts explore how Turner had a very firm idea of the workings of the art market at that time. Fully illustrated in colour and with contributions by some of the foremost Turner scholars, this book breaks new ground in the continuing study of the life and legacy of one of art's greatest masters. Late Turner Joseph Mallord William Turner, 2014 Creativity in Later Life David Amigoni, Gordon McMullan, 2018-12-07

This collection begins with two premises: that our understanding of the nature and forms of creativity in later life remains limited and that dialogue between specialists in gerontology, the arts and humanities can produce the crucial new insights that are so obviously needed. Representing the outcome of ongoing dialogue across the disciplinary divide, the contributions of this volume reflect anew on what we share and how we differ, creating new narratives so as to build an understanding of late life creativity that goes far beyond the narrow confines of the pervasively received idea of late style. Creativity in Later Life encompasses a range of personal reflections and discussions of the boundaries of creativity, including Canonical artistic achievements to community art projects, Narratives of carers for those living with dementia, Analyses of creative theory. Through these insightful chapters the authors consequently offer an understanding of creativity in later life as varied, socialised and above all located in the cultural and economic circumstances of the here and now. This title will appeal to academics, practitioners and students in the various gerontological, arts and humanities fields and to anyone with an interest in the nature of creativity in later life and the forms it takes. "Turner's Whaling Pictures" The Metropolitan Museum of Art Bulletin, v. 73, no. 4 (Spring, 2016) Alison Hokanson, 2016-05-02

This Bulletin centers around Turner's depictions of whaling and seascapes. These expressive paintings, created when the artist was in his seventies, exemplify the boldly inventive style of Turner's later years. The Bulletin explores Turner's interest in images of whaling, considers the connections to Herman Melville's Moby Dick and discusses the enduring appeal of these evocative marine scenes. Handbook of Winter Light Douglas J. Penick, 2025-02-28 In the contemporary West the elderly are regarded as somehow other no longer who they used to be no longer full members of the worlds they once inhabited Being old is seen as a medical management issue But old age is not a defective version of what preceded it it is like childhood adolescence and middle age its own time of life with its own challenges and gifts It is an unexpected experience and largely unknown terrain Winter Light On Late Life s Radiance is an exploration of old age as a time when sudden and uncontrollable losses reveal and clarify patterns of existence formerly obscured In this context Penick tells of the lives of artists musicians and others who in old age changed radically through visionary modes of experience that otherwise would not have been possible Near the end of their lives Titian Michelangelo Beethoven Rabindranath Tagore Jean Rhys Andrea Palladio Paul C zanne Leo Jan ek Igor Stravinsky and others found unforeseen paths and articulated subtleties and beauties never before encountered Their visions are now woven into our culture and the stories of their lives are signposts for us As Thoreau once said Not til we are lost not til we have lost the world do we begin to find ourselves and realize where we are and the infinite extent of our relations In five essays concerned respectively with body connection pattern loss and vision Winter Light explores irretrievable losses and dawning possibilities Penick gives voice to aspects of the inner life that in old age unfold with unanticipated depth breadth strangeness and light

The Mother of the Sri Aurobindo Ashram Patrick Beldio, 2024-12-15 The Mother of the Sri Aurobindo Ashram Co Creator of the Integral Yoga analyzes the contributions of the Mother n e Mirra Alfassa 1878 1973 to the Integral Yoga that she and Sri Aurobindo n Aurobindo Ghose 1872 1950 co created for his ashram Scholars have ignored Mirra for Aurobindo which prevents a full understanding of their spiritual practice Scholars have also avoided examining work Aurobindo produced after they began their partnership in 1920 until his death in 1950 and privileged the written output in his journal Arya from 1914 to 1921 In this initial fertile period he put forth his innovative teaching about what he called the Supermind an emergent human faculty that he said would manifest a new humanity and a new earth through Mirra s body Mirra claimed that after his death in 1956 this manifestation happened as he foretold Mirra s work in the ashram from his death until hers in 1973 reveals important ways that she both fulfilled and changed Aurobindo s initial vision These developments are chiefly based on her experiences of mental dissolution while her body gained a new supramental form and consciousness

Coastal Works Nicholas Allen, Nick Groom, Jos Smith, 2017-06-23 In all the complex cultural history of the islands of Britain and Ireland the idea of the coast as a significant representative space is critical For many important artists coastal space has figured as a site from which to braid ideas of empire nation region and archipelago They have been drawn to the coast as a zone of geographical uncertainty in which the self definitions of the nation founder they have been drawn to it as a peripheral space of vestigial wildness of island retreats and experimental living as a network of diverse localities richly endowed with distinctive forms of cultural heritage and as a dynamically interconnected ecosystem which is at the same time the historic site of significant developments in fieldwork and natural science This collection situates these cultures of the Atlantic edge in a series of essays that create new contexts for coastal study in literary history and criticism The contributors frame their research in response to emerging conversations in archipelagic criticism the blue humanities and island studies the essays challenging the reader to reconsider ideas of margin periphery and exchange These twelve case studies establish the coast as a crucial location in the imaginative history of Britain Ireland and the north Atlantic edge Coastal Works will appeal to readers of literature and history with an interest in the sea the environment and the archipelago from the 18th century to the present Accessible innovative and provocative Coastal Works establishes the important role that the coast plays in our cultural imaginary and suggests a range of methodologies to represent relationships between land sea and cultural work Turner and the Whale Jason

a highly accessible form the fundamental elements of a history of art and a beguiling review of recent cultural trends Old Age in Art Larry Silver, 2025-05-13 A sweeping history of aging in European art across centuries Old Age in Art shows how elders have been depicted from ancient Greece and Rome to the present century The book explores portraits including self portraits and stories of older figures in religion myth and history focusing on the theme of wisdom versus folly Larry Silver also discusses the concept of old age within the Middle Ages and early modern periods The final chapter examines how renowned artists like Michelangelo Titian and Monet turned to experimental forms and new subjects in their later years This book provides a comprehensive overview of old age in European art history Late Style and its Discontents Gordon McMullan, Sam Smiles, 2016-09-01 Late style is a critical term routinely deployed to characterise the work of selected authors composers and creative artists as they enter their last phase of production often but not only in old age Taken at face value this terminology merely points to a chronological division in the artist's oeuvre late being the antonym of early or the third term in the triad early middle late However almost from its inception the idea of late style or late work has been freighted with aesthetic associations and expectations that promote it as a special episode in the artist's creative life Late style is often characterised as the imaginative response made by exceptional talents to the imminence of their death In their confrontation with death creative artists critics claim produce work that is by turns a determination to continue while strength remains a summation of their life's work and a radical vision of the essence of their craft And because this creative phenomenon is understood as primarily an existential response to a common fate so late style is understood as something that transcends the particularities of place time and medium Critics seeking to understand late work regularly invoke the examples of Titian Goethe and Beethoven as exemplars of what constitutes late work proposing that something unites the late style of authors composers and creative artists who otherwise would not be bracketed together and that lateness per se is a special order of creative work The essays in this collection resist this position Ranging across literature the visual arts music and scientific work the material assembled here looks closely at the material biographical and other contexts in which the work was produced and seeks both to question the assumptions surrounding late style and to prompt a more critical understanding of the last works of writers artists and composers Turner and Constable Nicola Moorby, 2025-03-11 Born just fourteen months apart one in London and the other in rural Suffolk J M W Turner and John Constable went on to change the face of British art The two men have routinely been seen as polar opposites not least by their peers Differing in temperament background beliefs and vision they created images as dissimilar as their personalities Yet in many ways they were fellow travellers As children of the late 18th century both faced the same challenges and opportunities Above all they shared common cause as champions of a distinctively British art Through their work they fought for the recognition and appreciation of landscape painting and in doing so ensured their reputations were forever intertwined and interlinked Nicola Moorby offers us a fresh perspective on two extraordinary artists uncovering the layers of fiction that have embellished and disguised
