Making the Arrows James Richard McLeod, 2015 From Now On Clarence Major, 2015-04-01 Clarence Major is a consummate artist whose work in poetry fiction and painting has been widely recognized He has been part of twenty eight group exhibitions has had fifteen one man shows and has published fourteen collections of poetry and nine works of fiction Major s works and this collection in particular are distinguished by his poetic sociability and his unblinking but generous and affectionate portraiture In From Now On a retrospective of poems from the 1950s to the present including selections from each of Major s previous books of poetry as well as a generous selection of new poems Major creates a vivid gallery of nimbly drawn characters Here he establishes a voice that is singular and musical one that draws witty moving and empathetic portraits of African American urban and country dwellers Ultimately this collection maintains Major s intimate conversational poetry while simultaneously becoming more eclectic multicultural and cosmopolitan Major s poetry is affable but it suggests an insistence that we can connect with history and social change through the dynamic lives of the people we encounter daily

While reading transforms texts through memories associations and re imaginings translation allows us to act out our reading experience inscribe it in a new text and engage in a dialogic and dynamic relationship with the original In this highly original new study Clive Scott reveals the existential and ecological values that literary translation can embody in its perceptual transformation of texts The transfer of a text from one language into another is merely the platform from which translation launches its larger ambitions including the existential expansion and re situation of text towards new expressive futures and ways of inhabiting the world Recasting language as a living organism and as part of humanity s ongoing duration this study uncovers its tireless capacity to cross perceptual boundaries to multiply relations between the human and the non human and to engage with forms of language which evoke unfamiliar modes of psycho perception and eco modelling
