Making In America From Innovation To Market:

Making in America Suzanne Berger, 2013-08-23 How America can rebuild its industrial landscape to sustain an innovative economy America is the world leader in innovation but many of the innovative ideas that are hatched in American start ups labs and companies end up going abroad to reach commercial scale Apple the superstar of innovation locates its production in China yet still reaps most of its profits in the United States When innovation does not find the capital skills and expertise it needs to come to market in the United States what does it mean for economic growth and job creation Inspired by the MIT Made in America project of the 1980s Making in America brings experts from across MIT to focus on a critical problem for the country MIT scientists engineers social scientists and management experts visited more than 250 firms in the United States Germany and China In companies across America from big defense contractors to small machine shops and new technology start ups these experts tried to learn how we can rebuild the industrial landscape to sustain an innovative economy At each stop they asked this basic question When you have a new idea how do you get it into the market They found gaping holes and missing pieces in the industrial ecosystem Even in an Internet connected world proximity to innovation and users matters for industry Making in America describes ways to strengthen this connection including public private collaborations new government initiated manufacturing innovation institutes and industry community college projects If we can learn from these ongoing experiments in linking innovation to production American manufacturing could have a renaissance

Transforming Industrial Policy for the Digital Age Patrizio Bianchi, Clemente Ruiz Durán, Sandrine Labory, 2019 This book argues that digital globalization is inducing deep and productive transformations making industrial policy necessary in order to reorientate development towards inclusive and more sustainable growth The book also demonstrates that industrialization remains an important development process for emerging countries Regarding the future of jobs the authors show how the substitution of labour in automation is not inevitable since technology is also complementary to human capital Policymakers should pay more attention to the new skills that will be required A particular concern is the rapid change in technology and business compared to institutions which take time to adapt Territories have an important role to play in order to speed up institutional adaptation providing they can act coherently with the other levels of government

Making Sustainability Work Marc J. Epstein,Adriana Rejc Buhovac,2014-04-02 Most companies today have some commitment to corporate social responsibility but implementing these initiatives can be particularly challenging While a lot has been written on ethical and strategic factors there is still a dearth of information on the practical nuts and bolts And whereas with most other organizational initiatives the sole objective is improved financial performance sustainability broadens the focus to include social and environmental performance which is much more difficult to measure Now updated throughout with new examples and new research this is a complete guide to implementing and measuring the effectiveness of sustainability initiatives It draws on Marc Epstein s and new coauthor Adriana Rejc Buhovac s solid academic foundation and extensive consulting work and includes best practices from dozens of companies in Europe Asia North America South America Australia and Africa This is the ultimate how to guide for corporate leaders strategists academics sustainability consultants and anyone else with an interest in actually putting sustainability ideas into practice and making sure they accomplish their goals

Prophet of Innovation Thomas K. McCraw,2010-03-30 Schumpeter made his mark as the prophet of incessant change Drawing on all of Schumpeter s writings including many intimate diaries and letters never before used this biography paints the full portrait of a magnetic figure who aspired to become the world's greatest economist, lover and horseman and admitted to failure only with the horses. The First Freedoms and America's Culture of Innovation Narain D. Batra, 2013-10-18 This is a book about the dynamics of the aspirational society. It explores the boundaries of permissible thought deviations and transgressions that create constant innovations. When confronted with a problem, an innovative mind struggles and brings forth something distinctive: new ideas, new inventions and new programs based on unconventional approaches to solve the problem. But this can be done only if the culture creates large breathing spaces by leaving people alone, not as a matter of state generosity but as something fundamental in being an American. Consequently, the Constitutional mandate of Congress shall make no law that has encouraged fearless speech, unrestrained thought and endless experimentation leading to newer developments in science, technology, the arts and not least socio-political relations. Most of all, the First Freedoms liberate the mind from irrational fears and encourage an environment of divergent thinking, non-conformity and resistance to a collective mindset. The First Freedoms encourage Americans to be iconoclastic, to be creatively crazy, to be impure, thus enabling them to mix and re-mix ideas to design new technologies and cultural forms and platforms, anything from experimental social relations and big data explorations to electing our first black president. Making of a Level 5 Design Thinker Shankar Thayumanavan, 2019-09-30 Powerful insights from 40 Level 5 Design Thinking practitioners across 12 countries.
