Assessing Math Concepts Kathy

Richardson,2003 Assessing math concepts is a continuum of assessments that focuses on important core concepts and related critical learning phases that must be in place if children are to understand and be successful in mathematics This assessment series is based on the premise that teachers will be able to provide more effective instruction and ensure maximum learning for each of their students when they are aware of the essential steps that children move through when developing an understanding of foundational mathematical ideas The data that is gathered and organized using the assessment tools presented here provides teachers with the information that is needed to determine precisely what children need to learn Students progress confidently when teachers are able to provide appropriately challenging learning experiences for individuals and classroom groups Back cover

Improving Teacher Knowledge in K-12 Schooling Xiaoxia A. Newton, 2018-03-15 This volume examines how several key components of the mathematics education system in the United States fail to provide teachers with adequate and effective tools to teach mathematics in K 12 classrooms These components consist of teachers own learning experiences as students in K 12 classrooms their undergraduate or graduate trainings in mathematics and their in service professional development trainings Newton argues that unless we improve these system components as a whole and recognize the importance of teaching future mathematics teachers explicitly and rigorously the topics they are expected to teach teachers will continue to recycle a body of incoherent and incomprehensible mathematical knowledge to their students because these are the only types of mathematical knowledge they have at their disposal both in terms of what they themselves have learned as K 12 students and in terms of the mathematical resources available to them including the textbooks they rely on to teach as mathematics teachers
