Resources in Education ,1982-10 Library of Congress Catalog: Motion Pictures and Filmstrips Library of Congress,1968 Lost Worlds Jonathan Dewald,2007-08-09 Today's interest in social history and private life is often seen as a twentieth century innovation Most often Lucien Febvre and the Annales school in France are credited with making social history a widely accepted way for historians to approach the past In Lost Worlds historian Jonathan Dewald shows that we need to look back further in time into the nineteenth century when numerous French intellectuals developed many of the key concepts that historians employ today According to Dewald we need to view Febvre and other Annales historians as participants in an ongoing cultural debate over the shape and meanings of French history rather than as inventors of new topics of study He closely examines the work of Charles Augustin Sainte Beuve Hippolyte Taine the antiquarian Alfred Franklin Febvre himself the twentieth century historian Philippe Ariès and several others A final chapter compares specifically French approaches to social history with those of German historians between 1930 and 1970 Through such close readings Dewald looks beyond programmatic statements of historians intentions to reveal how history was actually practiced during these years A bold work of intellectual history Lost Worlds sheds much needed light on how contemporary ideas about the historian's task came into being Understanding this larger context enables us to appreciate the ideological functions performed by historical writing through the twentieth century
