buscar y esperar siempre lo mejor de la vida European Kinship in the Age of Biotechnology Jeanette Edwards,Carles Salazar,2009-03-01 Interest in the study of kinship a key area of anthropological enquiry has recently reemerged Dubbed the new kinship this interest was stimulated by the new genetics and revived interest in kinship and family patterns This volume investigates the impact of biotechnology on contemporary understandings of kinship of family and belonging in a variety of European settings and reveals similarities and differences in how kinship is conceived What constitutes kinship for different publics How significant are biogenetic links What does family resemblance tell us Why is genetically modified food an issue Are genes and blood interchangeable It has been argued that the recent prominence of genetic science and genetic

Del silencio al estruendo Sara Sefchovich, 2021-02-16. Soslayada, despreciada o francamente ignorada a lo largo de la historia, en los años más recientes la literatura escrita por las mujeres ha cobrado un auge inédito y ahora en revistas y suplementos, en sellos editoriales y publicaciones físicas y virtuales, las escritoras han ganado espacios hasta llegar al extremo opuesto: el de sobrevalorar cualquier cosa publicada por una mujer. Sara Sefchovich, académica y escritora reconocida por sus trabajos sobre el papel y la relevancia de las mujeres en los diversos aspectos del entorno social y de la vida cotidiana, hace aquí una revisión del tránsito de la literatura escrita por mujeres durante el siglo XX y lo que va del XXI, poniendo el énfasis en los mecanismos y procesos por los cuales se pasó de la invisibilización de las autoras y sus obras a su visibilidad excesiva. En sus propias palabras, este libro nace del interés por conocer a las escritoras y por pensar sobre si la literatura femenina es diferente a la de los hombres y en caso de que lo sea, en qué consiste su diferencia.
