Jervis McEntee Kerry Dean Carso, David Schuyler, Lee A. Vedder, 2015 Redefines McEntee's place in the history of nineteenth century American landscape painting

Sketching the Adirondacks Edward I. Pitts, 2025-05-16 In 1851 two aspiring landscape artists Jervis McEntee and Joseph Tubby set out for the Adirondacks on a sketching expedition that would test not only their mettle as artists but as outdoorsmen. Heading into the still rugged wilderness not yet fully explored and sparsely inhabited, the two artists ventured across about one hundred seventy miles of terrain sketching what they saw for future painting reference. In Sketching the Adirondacks, the artists' unique journey is brought to life by author Edward Pitts, who drew on McEntee's journal to reimagine the expedition as a series of letters home to friends and family. These fictionalized letters, all richly annotated with historical facts and context about the region, recount the pair's real adventures and the artistic inspirations that inspired their work as Hudson River School artists. Following their trip, McEntee and Tubby were artists first, not natural outdoorsmen, and the letters describe the challenges they faced as well as many of the famous guides and Adirondack characters who assisted them during the trip. Sketching the Adirondacks renders McEntee and Tubby's journey in vivid detail and reveals how their artwork inspired so many others, blending a unique creative approach with rigorous historical accuracy.

The Arch of Titus Steven Fine, 2021-05-25 The Arch of Titus, from Jerusalem to Rome and Back, explores the shifting meanings and significance of the Arch of Titus from the Jewish War of 66-74 CE to the present. For Romans, Christians, and especially for Jews, built by triumphant Romans, this triumphal monument was preserved by medieval Christians, lauded by modern visitors and dictators, and imitated around the world. The Arch of Titus has special significance for the once-defeated Jews; its menorah is now the national symbol of modern Israel. The Arch of Titus, from Jerusalem to Rome and Back, assembles an international array of scholars to explore the Arch in all of its complexity. This volume celebrates an exhibition mounted at Yeshiva University Museum and is the final statement of the Yeshiva University Arch of Titus Project.

Hudson River School Visions Sanford Robinson Gifford, 2003 Sanford Gifford, American 1823-1880, a leading Hudson River School landscape painter and a founder of The Metropolitan Museum of Art, was so esteemed by the New York art world that at his untimely death, the Museum mounted a show of his work, the first monographic exhibition accorded any artist, and published a Memorial Catalogue that for nearly a century remained the principal source on his oeuvre. Gifford's art, which was inspired by the work of Thomas Cole, the founder of the Hudson River School, and by that of British artist J. M. W. Turner, and enriched by his travels in Europe from 1855 to 1857 and from 1868 to 1869, came to be called "air painting" for he made the ambient light of each scene color-saturated and atmospherically potent, the key to its expression. His approach to painting and his unique style gave rise to a highly distinctive body of work with enchanting and mesmerizing effect. This publication examines seventy paintings by the artist and includes comparative illustrations of related works by Gifford, his Hudson River School mentors and colleagues, and those painters in addition to Cole and Turner who exerted influence on his art including Frederic Edwin Church and John F Kensett The essays discuss Gifford s place in the Hudson River School his numerous Catskill Mountain subjects his experiences and perceptions as a traveler both at home and abroad and the variety of his patrons Metropolitan Museum of Art website Sanctified Landscape David Schuyler,2012-04-27 The Hudson River Valley was the first iconic American landscape Beginning as early as the 1820s artists and writers found new ways of thinking about the human relationship with the natural world along the Hudson Here amid the most dramatic river and mountain scenery in the eastern United States Washington Irving and James Fenimore Cooper created a distinctly American literature grounded in folklore and history that contributed to the emergence of a sense of place in the valley Painters led by Thomas Cole founded the Hudson River School widely recognized as the first truly national style of art As the century advanced and as landscape and history became increasingly intertwined in the national consciousness an aesthetic identity took shape in the region through literature art memory and folklore even gardens and domestic architecture In Sanctified Landscape David Schuyler recounts this story of America s idealization of the Hudson Valley during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Schuyler s story unfolds during a time of great change in American history At the very moment when artists and writers were exploring the aesthetic potential of the Hudson Valley the transportation revolution and the rise of industrial capitalism were transforming the region The first generation of American tourists traveled from New York City to Cozzens Hotel and the Catskill Mountain House in search of the picturesque Those who could afford to live some distance from jobs in the city built suburban homes or country estates Given these momentous changes it is not surprising that historic preservation emerged in the Hudson Valley the first building in the United States preserved for its historic significance is Washington s Headquarters in Newburgh Schuyler also finds the seeds of the modern environmental movement in the transformation of the Hudson Valley landscape Richly illustrated and compellingly written Sanctified Landscape makes for rewarding reading Schuyler expertly ties local history to national developments revealing why the Hudson River Valley was so important to nineteenth century Americans and why it is still beloved today Collecting the Pre-Raphaelites Margaretta Frederick Watson,2018-12-17 First published in 1997 and written by leading scholars of the day these fifteen essays examine aspects of the reception and collecting of Pre Raphaelite Art the social and cultural context in which the work was favoured and acquired Two major collections provide the focus for the investigation that of the Birmingham city Museums and Art Gallery in the United Kingdom and that of the American Samuel Bancroft Jr now part of the Delaware Art Museum The study of these two collections both formed in the late 1890 places Pre Raphaelite Art at nexus of contemporary cultural issues that touched the lives of both the city council intent on establishing a public gallery of national importance and a wealthy American businessman indulging a private passion for the work of these artists The contributors approach the issue in a variety of ways These include the study of the ambitions and self perception of collectors of the period an analysis of the impact of John Ruskin s campaign to establish Pre Raphaelite painting as the Art of England and its impact on notions of civic and national identity the examination of individual painting in relation to such issues as the portrayal of women the nude and of religious subjects and the study of the Victorian preoccupation with Renaissance Italy and the attempt by Ruskin Charles Fairfax Murray advisor to the two collections and the Grosvenor Gallery to proclaim the Pre Raphaelite artists as the true inheritors of the genius of Renaissance Italian artists These essays were first presented at a symposium held at the Delaware Art Museum during the exhibition there of the paintings of Birmingham City Museums and Art Gallery McEntee & Company Jervis McEntee,1997 Candace Wheeler Amelia Peck,Carol Irish,2001 This publication which accompanies an exhibition held at The Metropolitan Museum of Art contains a biographical essay and a catalogue of about one hundred designs for textiles wallpaper and other interior furnishings by Wheeler and her associates
