Body-States: Interpersonal and Relational Perspectives on the Treatment of Eating Disorders Jean Petrucelli, 2014-08-07 In this edited volume Jean Petrucelli brings together the work of talented clinicians and researchers steeped in working with eating disordered patients for the past 10 to 35 years Eating disorders are about body states and their relational meanings The split of mind/body functioning is enacted in many arenas in the eating disordered patient s life Concretely a patient believes that disciplining or controlling his or her body is a means to psychic equilibrium and interpersonal effectiveness The collected papers in Body States Interpersonal and Relational Perspectives on the Treatment of Eating Disorders elaborates the essential role of linking symptoms with their emotional and interpersonal meanings in the context of the therapy relationship so that eating disordered patients can find their way out and survive the unbearable. The contributors bridge the gaps in varied protocols for recovery illustrating that at its core trust in the reliability of the humanness of the other is necessary for patients to develop, regain or have for the first time a stable body. They illustrate how embodied experience must be cultivated in the patient-therapist relationship as a felt experience so patients can experience their bodies as their own to be lived in and enjoyed rather than as an other to be managed. In this collection Petrucelli convincingly demonstrates how interpersonal and relational treatments address eating problems, body image and problems in living. Body States: Interpersonal and Relational Perspectives on the Treatment of Eating Disorders will be essential reading for psychoanalysts, psychotherapists, psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers and a wide range of professionals and lay readers who are interested in the topic and treatment of eating disorders.

Sanctified Sex Noam Sachs, 2021-08. Sanctified Sex draws on two thousand years of rabbinic debates addressing competing aspirations for loving intimacy, passionate sexual union and sanctity in marriage. What can Judaism contribute to our struggles to nurture love relationships? What halakhic precedents are relevant and how are rulings changing? The rabbis of course seldom agree. Underlying their arguments are perennial debates: What kind of marital sex qualifies as ideal, sacred, self-control of sexual desire or the holiness found in emotional and erotic intimacy? Is intercourse degrading in its physicality or the highest act of spiritual, mystical union? And should women or men or both wield ultimate say about what transpires in bed? Noam Sachs, Zion guides us chronologically and steadily through fraught terrain: seminal biblical texts and their Talmudic interpretations; Talmud tales of three unusual rabbis and their marital bedrooms; medieval codifiers and mystical commentators; ultra-Orthodox rabbis clashing with one another over radically divergent ideals; and finally contemporary rabbis of varied denominations wrestling with modern transformations in erotic lifestyles and values. Invited into these sanctified and often sexually explicit discussions with our ancestors and contemporaries we encounter innovative Jewish teachings on marital intimacy, ardent lovemaking techniques and the art of couple communication vital for matrimonial success.

Interreligious Reflections, Six Volume Set Alon Goshen-Gottstein, 2018-08-08. This set includes all six volumes of Interreligious Reflections. ABOUT VOLUME ONE Friendship is an outcome of as well as a condition for advancing interfaith relations. However for friendship to advance there must be legitimation from within and a theory of how interreligious relations can be justified from the resources of different faith traditions. Friendship Across Religions explores these very issues seeking to develop a robust theory of interreligious friendship from the resources of each of the participating traditions. It also features individual cases as models and precedents for such relations; in particular the friendship of Gandhi and Charlie Andrews, his closest personal friend. Contributors: Balwant Singh, Dhillon, Timothy J. Gianotti, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Maria Reis, Habito, Ruben L. F. Habito, Ryan McAnnally, Linz, Stephen Butler Murray, Eleanor Nesbitt, Anantanand Rambachan, Meir Sender, Johann M. Vento and Miroslav Volf. ABOUT VOLUME TWO This book tackles the core problem of how painful historical memories between diverse religious communities continue to impact even present day relations. Its operative notion is the healing of memory developed by John Paul II. Chapters explore how painful memories of yesteryear can be healed and so address some of the root causes. Strategies from six different faith traditions are brought together in what is in some ways a cross religious brainstorming session that identifies tools to improve present day relations. At the other pole of the conceptual axis of this book is the notion of hope. If memory informs our past, hope sets the horizon for our future. How does the healing of memory open new horizons for the future? And what is the notion of hope in each of our traditions that could lead to a common vision of good? Between memory and hope, this book seeks to offer a vision of healing that can serve as a resource in contemporary interfaith relations.

ABOUT VOLUME THREE

The essays collected here, prepared by a think tank of the Elijah Interfaith Academy, explore the challenges associated with sharing wisdom, learning, teachings, messages for good living. How should religions go about sharing their wisdom? These chapters, representing six faith traditions: Jewish, Christian, Muslim, Hindu, Sikh, and Buddhist, explore what wisdom means in each of these traditions, why and how it should be shared internally and externally, and the role of love and forgiveness in sharing. This book offers a theory that can enrich ongoing encounters between members of faith traditions by suggesting a tradition based practice of sharing wisdom while preserving the integrity of the teaching and respecting the identity of anyone with whom wisdom is shared.

Contributors: Pal Ahluwalia, Timothy Gianotti, Alon Goshen Gottstein, Sallie B King, Anantanand Rambachan, Meir Sender, Miroslav Volf.

ABOUT VOLUME FOUR

All the world's religions are experiencing rapid change due to a confluence of social and economic global forces. Factors such as the pervasive intrusion of globalizing political and economic developments, polarized and morally equivalent presentations seen in the media, and the sense of surety demanded in and promised by a culture dominated by science are some of the factors that have placed extreme pressure on all religious traditions. This has stimulated unprecedented responses by religious groups ranging from fundamentalism to the syncretistic search for meaning. As religion takes on new forms, the balance between individual and community is disrupted and reconfigured. Religions often lose the capacity to recall their ultimate purpose or lead their adherents toward it. This is the situation we call the crisis of the holy. It is a confluence of threats, challenges, and opportunities for all religions. This volume explores the contours of pressures, changes, and transformations and reflects on how all our religions are changing. By identifying commonalities across religions as they respond to these pressures, The Crisis of the Holy recommends ways religious traditions might cope with these changes and how they might join forces in doing so.

Contributors: Vincent J Cornell, Alon Goshen Gottstein, Sidney H Griffith, Maria Reis Habito, B Barry Levy, Deepak Sarma, Michael von Br ck.
