

Half-Caste by John Agard - MT 5

Excuse me
standing on one leg
I'm half-caste.

Explain yuself
wha yu mean
when yu say half-caste
yu mean when Picasso
mix red an green
is a half-caste canvas?
explain yuself
wha yu mean
when yu say half-caste
yu mean when light an shadow mix in de sky
is a half-caste weather?
well in dat case
england weather
nearly always half-caste in fact some o dem cloud half-caste till dem overcast so spiteful dem don't want de sun pass
ah rass?

wha yu mean
when yu say half-caste
yu mean tchaikovsky
sit down at dah piano
an mix a black key
wid a white key
is a half-caste symphony?

wha yu mean
Ah listening to yu wid de keen half of mih ear Ah looking at yu wid de keen half of mih eye
an when I'm introduced to yu I'm sure you'll understand why I offer yu half-a-hand

1. What is the effect of all this repetition?

an when I sleep at night I close half-a-eye
consequently when I dream I dream half-a-dream
an when moon begin to glow I half-caste human being cast half-a-shadow
but yu must come back tomorrow wid de whole of yu eye
an de whole of yu ear
an de whole of yu mind.

an I will tell yu
de other half of my story.

2. Write down
any patterns
you notice in the repletion.

The Social Construction of Meaning John Yandell, 2013-09-27 This book takes a fresh look at secondary urban English classrooms and at what happens when students and their teachers explore literature collaboratively By closely examining what happens in English lessons minute by minute it reveals how literary texts function not as a valorised heritage to be transmitted but as a resource for the students work of cultural production and contestation The reading that is undertaken in classrooms has tended to be construed as either a poor substitute or merely a preparation for other reading particularly for that paradigmatic literacy event the absorbed and simultaneously discriminating consumption of the literary text by the independent private reader This book argues for a different understanding of what constitutes reading an understanding that is informed by historical and ethnographic perspectives and by psychological and semiotic theory It presents the case for a conception of reading as an active collaborative process of meaning making and for a fully social model of learning Drawing extensively on data gathered through classroom observation and filming of English lessons taught over the course of a year by two teachers in a London secondary school the book explores students engagement with literary texts and the pedagogy that facilitates this engagement The book offers new insights into reading and reading literature in particular It challenges the paradigm of reading that is offered in government policy and the assumption common to much work within the field of new literacies that schooled literacy is the already known the default against which the alternative literacy practices of homes and communities can be defined It will be valuable reading for researchers teachers teacher educators and postgraduate students and will have particular appeal for those with an interest in the fields of English studies and literacy

Education and the Discourse of Global Neoliberalism John Gray, John P. O'Regan, Catherine Wallace, 2021-05-22 This book investigates neoliberalism in education and explains how it is a complex phenomenon which takes on local characteristics in diverse geopolitical economic and cultural settings while retaining a core commitment in all its manifestations to market fundamentalism Neoliberalism that set of beliefs and practices which has become the economic orthodoxy of global preference since the 1980s appears remarkably resilient despite the US financial crisis of 2008 and the subsequent implementation of austerity in the massively indebted nations of the European Union This book addresses the phenomenon of neoliberalism in education and focuses on school and higher education settings in Ireland the UK Singapore and Hong Kong Specifically it addresses the role of language and semiosis in the reconfiguration of global educational practices along increasingly marketised lines At the same time the nature of the counter hegemonic discourses also in circulation in these sectors is also considered Collectively the chapters in the book seek to shed light on the possibilities for resistance and the prospect of change from a variety of theoretical and inter cultural perspective The chapters in this book were originally published in a special issue of the journal Language and Intercultural Communication Researching and Teaching Reading Gabrielle Cliff Hodges,2015-08-20 Many agree that engaging in research is what makes a teacher s professional development sustainable and Researching and Teaching Reading studies the ways in which research and teaching are entwined both within and beyond the classroom Gabrielle Cliff Hodges encourages readers to deepen their understanding of reading through high quality teaching and research activities designed to engage young learners and generate rich research data in the expectation that teachers will wish to adapt or develop them further within their own contexts The author explores how teachers research and critical reading can further develop their understanding of their students reading practices and argues that innovative approaches to teaching integrated with research enable English teachers to re construct ideas and change how reading is taught Key issues considered in this book include Studying reading in terms of extending young people s ability to interpret and enjoy texts The idea of reading as a social practice The concept of culture in relation to reading Why historical and spatial theoretical perspectives matter when researching and teaching reading This book is a valuable resource for any student teachers or practising English teachers wishing to learn more about the connection between researching and teaching reading how to combine them in the classroom and the positive effect bringing the two together can have on their own professional development Derailed by History Alister Renaux,2017-08-23 The surname is obviously French but you are Indian That is confusing uttered the American gentleman at our second meeting I explained my mixed heritage while watching a face whose eyes gleamed brighter and whose smile grew more incredulous with the passing of each word He had never come across an Anglo Indian before or even if he had he hadnt heard the story Working with the English Anthology for AQA A, 2004-2006 Imelda Pilgrim,Lindsay McNab,Peter Thomas,2002 This resource supports the texts in the AQA A English anthology for 2004 with glossaries notes background information and stepped activities There are also exam practice materials to help students prepare for the assessment

Revise the English and English Literature Anthology for AQA A Tony Childs,2002 This revision guide supports the AQA A English Anthology for 2004 2006 with glossaries notes and questions to prepare students for the exam The practice questions are accompanied by advice on how students can plan structure and write successful answers Black Mixed-Race Men Remi Joseph-Salisbury,2018-08-06 This book offers a corrective to pathological and stereotypical representations of mixedness generally and Black mixed race men specifically By introducing the concept of post racial resilience the book shows that Black mixed race men are active and agentic as they resist the fragmentation and erasure of multiplicitous identities
