Transition towards an ecosystem approach to fisheries in the Mediterranean Sea Vasconcellos, M., Unal, V. (eds.),2022-01-18

FAO has promoted the ecosystem approach to fisheries EAF as an appropriate framework for the sustainable development and management of fisheries worldwide With a view to contribute to the identification of lessons and good practices for EAF implementation this publication documents nine case studies that attempted to put into practice some of the key principles and tools of the approach in the Mediterranean Sea The case studies were selected to cover a broad range of contexts including smallscale and industrial fisheries operating at local national and sub regional scales It was not within the scope of the publication to evaluate the level of implementation of the ecosystem approach A specific tool for monitoring implementation is proposed and exemplified Case studies were analysed with a view to draw preliminary lessons regarding the enabling factors that facilitated the progress made as well as the challenges faced in the transition towards EAF based management systems Attention is drawn to key enabling conditions such as favourable policies legislation and regulatory frameworks the existence of regional mechanisms for cooperation favourable market dynamics and social processes and the relatively low complexity of the fishery systems analysed A set of factors emerged that contributed to progress during implementation such as the clear definition of fishing rights the enhancement of mechanisms for compliance scientific monitoring and adaptation of management measures as well as the explicit consideration of biological and socioeconomic aspects in management actions Further progress in the transition towards sustainable management systems is hampered by external and internal factors External factors are related for instance to environmental changes the poor regulation and control of competing sectors consumer behaviour and the governance environment Issues such as stakeholder representation knowledge gaps and the availability of sustainable sources of funding are among common internal factors The authors also discuss how slow progress in the implementation of management plans can generate discredit with the institutions and add additional challenges for any future initiatives to engage stakeholders in participatory management The case based results and lessons of how the ecosystem approach to fisheries was considered developed and implemented in the fisheries discussed in this publication not only contribute to the documentation of current practices in the Mediterranean but may also guide future attempts to further develop the field

Management Peter H. Dutton, Mark Meekan, Lars Bejder, Lisa Marie Komoroske, 2020-01-16 Marine Mammals: the Evolving Human Factor Giuseppe Notarbartolo di Sciara, Bernd Würsig, 2022-06-08 The seventh volume in the series Ethology and Behavioral Ecology of Marine Mammals describes aspects of the often complex relationship between humans and marine mammals From a primeval condition of occasional predators during the last century humans have become a major factor negatively affecting the status of most marine mammals through over hunting habitat encroachment and environmental degradation This has led to the extirpation of many marine mammal populations and even to the extinction of species However in parallel to this destructive drive since antiquity humanity has been influenced by a strong fascination for marine mammals which contributes today to an increased human appreciation of the natural world admixed with widespread concern for its degrading condition The special status occupied by marine mammals in human imagination and affection stands in stark contrast with the current predicament of many populations still threatened by the doings of Homo sapiens a condition emblematic of the relationship of humanity with nature and key to understanding where humanity is heading

Big, Bold and Blue James Fitzsimons, Geoff Wescott, 2016-07 The world's oceans cover about 70% of our planet To safeguard the delicate ecological and environmental functions of the oceans and their remarkable biodiversity networks of marine protected areas are being created In some of these areas human activity is restricted to non exploitative activities and in others it is managed in a sustainable way Australia is at the forefront of marine conservation with one of the largest systems of marine protected areas in the world Big Bold and Blue Lessons from Australia's Marine Protected Areas captures Australia's experience sharing important lessons from the Great Barrier Reef and many other extraordinary marine protected areas It presents real world examples leading academic research perspectives on government policy and information from indigenous sea country management non governmental organisations and commercial and recreational fishing sectors The lessons learnt during the rapid expansion of Australia's marine protected areas both positive and negative will aid and advise other nations in their own marine conservation efforts The Wildlife Techniques Manual Nova J.
