Jennings Informal Reading Assessment

The Jennings Informal Reading Assessment, an informal reading inventory (IRI), was developed by Dr. Joyce Jennings. It was field-tested in the Reading Center of Northeastern Illinois University and in several schools in the Chicago metropolitan area with the help of graduate students in the Departments of Reading and Special Education at Northeastern Illinois University.

The word lists consist of 25 words each. They were developed using Basic Reading Vocabularies (Harris & Jacobson, 1982). Each word presented in the word lists is included in the passages read by the students. For those words appearing in the oral reading passages, you can compare students' ability to recognize words in isolation and in context.

The reading passages consist of two passages per level: Preprimer through Grade 8. One set of these graded passages can be used to assess students' oral reading, and the other can be used to assess silent reading. You may also wish to use the silent reading passages to assess students' listening comprehension.

Abbreviations used in this instrument include:

Lit. = Literal	Ind. = Independent Level
Inf. = Inferential	Inst. = Instructional Level
Comp. = Comprehension	Frustr. = Frustrational Level

When you have completed the IRI, use the Summary Record Sheet to record your results. Then determine the oral, silent, and estimated overall reading levels as described in Chapter 3.

Jennings Informal Reading Assessment:

Humphrey Jennings and British Documentary Film: A Re-assessment Philip C. Logan, 2016-05-13 Humphrey Jennings ranks amongst the greatest film makers of twentieth century Britain Although a relatively unknown figure to the wider public his war time documentaries are regarded by many including Lord Puttnam Lindsay Anderson and Mike Leigh as amongst the finest films of their time Groundbreaking both in terms of their technique and their interest in and respect for the everyday experiences of ordinary people these films are much more than mere government propaganda Instead Jennings work offers an unparalleled window into the British home front and the hopes fears and expectations of a nation fighting for its survival Yet until now Jennings has remained a shadowy figure with his life and work lacking the sustained scholarly investigation and reassessment they deserve As such film and social historians will welcome this new book which provides an up to date and thorough exploration of the relationships between Jennings life ideas and films Arguing that Jennings s film output can be viewed as part of a coherent intellectual exercise rather than just one aspect of the artistic interests of a wide ranging intellectual Philip Logan paints a much fuller and more convincing picture of the man than has previously been possible He shows for the first time exactly how Jennings s artistic expression was influenced by the fundamental intellectual social and cultural changes that shook British society during the first decades of the twentieth century Combining biography social history and international artistic thought the book offers a fascinating insight into Jennings his work the wider British documentary film movement and the interaction between art and propaganda Bringing together assessments of his tragically short life and his films this book is essential reading for anyone with an interest in British cinema or the social history of Britain in the 1930s and 40s

Lerner, 2006 Would the world be a better place if human societies were somehow able to curb their desires for material goods Saleem Ali s pioneering book links human wants and needs by providing a natural history of consumption and materialism with scientific detail and humanistic nuance It argues that simply disavowing consumption of materials is not likely to help in planning for a resource scarce future given global inequality development imperatives and our goals for a democratic global society Rather than suppress the creativity and desire to discover that is often embedded in the exploration and production of material goods which he calls the treasure impulse Ali proposes a new environmental paradigm one that accepts our need to consume treasure for cultural and developmental reasons but warns of our concomitant need to conserve In evaluating the impact of treasure consumption on resource rich countries he argues that there is a way to consume responsibly and alleviate global poverty □□□□□□:□□□□□□□□ □□□, □□□, □□□□□,2005-01-01

Personnel Selection and Assessment Heinz Schuler, James L. Farr, Mike Smith, 2013-03-07 The impetus for this volume came from the editors belief that most current research and thinking about personnel selection and assessment in organizations considered only the perspective of the employer The job applicant seeking to join the organization or the employee being considered for promotion or reassignment was typically given little attention from the designers of employment or assessment systems They believed that this imbalance had several negative implications 1 Organizational selection and assessment appeared to be the principal area within work and organizational psychology that had forgotten a basic tenet of the profession of psychology namely that the welfare of the individual is paramount 2 A lack of concern for the individuals who were being assessed could result in additional criticisms of psychological assessment in employment settings 3 The acceptability of selection and assessment devices and systems may impact in largely unknown ways on the decisions of individuals to apply for jobs or transfers thus affecting the selection ratio and potential utility of such systems 4 Individual reactions to the characteristics of assessment and selection devices could affect the accuracy of the information obtained about those individuals adversely affecting the reliability and validity of resulting personnel decisions Informally discussing these concerns with their professional colleagues the editors found that others were similarly troubled Their next response was to organize a three day conference bringing together a number of researchers in applied psychology to present papers and participate in discussions related to balancing individual and organizational needs in selection and assessment Revisions of the papers presented at this conference form the core of this volume
