John Searle And His Critics Philosophers And Their Critics:

John Searle and his Critics Ernest Lepore, Robert van Gulick, 1993-03-02 For more than three decades John Searle has been developing and elaborating a unified theory of language and mind. What has emerged is an impressive and detailed account of intentionality embracing both mental states and linguistic behaviour. Though the developing theory has been presented in a steady stream of books and articles over the last thirty years, two items stand out as major landmarks: the publication of Speech Acts in 1969 and of Intentionality in 1983. Both of these seminal books offer structural theories that analyze the items within their domains: speech acts and mental states as having a structure which allows for variation along a number of parameters. John Searle and His Critics proceeds from an analysis of the importance and influence of these two works to an overall assessment of Searle's impact in the philosophy of language, mind, social explanation, and of reference and intentionality. Each of the chapters has been newly commissioned from a leading scholar in the relevant field, and each section concludes with a summary and response from Searle himself.

Stich and His Critics Dominic Murphy, Michael A. Bishop, 2009-04-06 Through a collection of original essays from leading philosophical scholars, Stich and His Critics provides a thorough assessment of the key themes in the career of philosopher Stephen Stich. Provides a collection of original essays from some of the world's most distinguished philosophers. Explores some of philosophy's most hotly debated contemporary topics including mental representation, theory of mind, nativism, moral philosophy, and naturalized epistemology.

McDowell and His Critics Cynthia MacDonald, Graham MacDonald, 2008-04-15 The most comprehensive discussion available of the work of philosopher John McDowell. Contains newly commissioned papers by distinguished philosophers on McDowell's work along with substantial replies to each by McDowell himself. The contributors are philosophers with international reputations for their work in the areas in which they are contributing. Covers the whole of McDowell's philosophy including his contributions in ancient philosophy, moral philosophy, philosophy of mind, philosophy of language, metaphysics, and epistemology. McDowell's replies to the contributions in this volume contribute to the body of his work.

Dworkin and His Critics Justine Burley, 2008-04-15 Dworkin and His Critics provides an in-depth analytical discussion of Ronald Dworkin's ethical, legal, and political philosophical writings, and it includes substantial replies from Dworkin himself. Includes substantial replies by Ronald Dworkin, a comprehensive bibliography of his work, and suggestions for further reading. Contributors include Richard Arneson, G. A. Cohen, Frances Kamm, Will Kymlicka, Philippe van Parijs, Eric Rakowski, Joseph Raz, and Jeremy Waldron. Makes an important contribution to many ongoing debates over abortion, euthanasia, the rule of law, distributive justice, group rights, political obligation, and genetics.

The Reshaped Mind Lace Marie Williams-Tinajero, 2010-11-11 Employing John R. Searle's categories of language and mind, this book analyzes five NT texts from a speech act perspective: what certain NT writers and characters asserted and believed concerning the effects of Christ's blood at the literal and metaphorical levels.

Beyond Postmodernism Klaus Stierstorfer, 2012-05-02 After the veritable hype concerning postmodernism in the 1980s and early 1990s when questions about when it began what it means and which texts it comprises were apt to trigger heated discussions the excitement has notably cooled down at the turn of the century Voices are now beginning to be heard which seem to suggest a new episteme in the making which points beyond postmodernism while it remains at the same time very uncertain whether what appears as newness is not rather a return to traditional concepts theoretical premises and authorial practices Contributors to this volume propose to explore new openings and recent developments in anglophone literatures and cultural theories which engage with issues seen to be central in the construction of a postmodern paradigm but deal with them in ways that promise new openings or a new Zeitgeist

Searle's Philosophy and Chinese Philosophy Bo Mou, 2008-06-30 This volume investigates how through critical engagement the philosophy of John Searle in the Western analytic tradition and some thoughts and strands in Chinese philosophy can jointly contribute to the common philosophical enterprise and shows how such comparative methodology of constructive engagement is important or even indispensable in philosophical inquiry The anthology includes Searle's keynote essay and 15 engaging pairs of essay reply dialogues each of which consists of one previously unpublished essay by some expert's and Searle's engaging reply and which are organized into four subjects respectively on mind language morality and meta philosophical methodological issues The anthology also includes the volume editor's theme introduction on the constructive engagement movement in view of Searle's philosophy and Chinese philosophy Contributors include Robert E Allinson Chung ying Cheng Kim chong Chong Chris Fraser Yiu ming Fung Soraj Hongladarom Joel W Krueger B Jeannie Lum Aloysius P Martinich Bo Mou Anh Tuan Nuyen John R Searle Avrum Stroll Marshall D Willman Kai yee Wong and Yujian Zheng

Praxial Music Education David J Elliot, 2009-01-06 Praxial Music Education is a collection of essays by nineteen internationally recognized scholars in music education Each essay offers critical reflections on a key topic in contemporary music education The starting point of each essay and the unifying thread of this collection is the praxial philosophy of music education explained in Elliott's Music Matters A New Philosophy of Music Education OUP 1995 This philosophy argues for a socially and artistically grounded concept of music and music education challenging the field's traditional absolutist foundations Praxial Music Education is both a critical companion to Music Matters and an independent text on contemporary issues in music education Among the themes discussed are multicultural music education the nature of musical understanding early childhood music education the nature and teaching of music listening music curriculum development and musical creativity Praxial music education is a living theory This unique collection will not only enrich discussions that already use Music Matters as their core but will globalize current discussions and applications of the praxial philosophy and emphasize the positive and practical values of collaborative efforts in music education History of Cognitive Neuroscience M. R. Bennett, P. M. S. Hacker, 2012-08-15 History of Cognitive Neuroscience documents the major neuroscientific experiments and theories over the last century and a half in the domain of cognitive neuroscience and evaluates the cogency of the conclusions that have been drawn from them Provides a companion work to the highly acclaimed Philosophical Foundations of Neuroscience combining scientific detail with philosophical insights Views the evolution of brain science through the lens of its principal figures and experiments Addresses philosophical criticism of Bennett and Hacker's previous book Accompanied by more than 100 illustrations Speech Acts and Literary Theory Sandy Petrey, 2016-08-19 This book first published in 1990 combines an introduction to speech act theory as developed by J L Austin with a survey of critical essays that have adapted Austin's thought for literary analysis Speech act theory emphasizes the social reality created when speakers agree that their language is performative Austin's term for utterances like we hereby declare or I promise that produce rather than describe what they name In contrast to formal linguistics speech act theory insists on language's active prominence in the organization of collective life The first section of the text concentrates on Austin's determination to situate language in society by demonstrating the social conventions manifest in language The second and third parts of the book discuss literary critics' responses to speech act theory's socialisation of language which have both opened new understandings of textuality in general and stimulated new interpretations of individual works This book will be of interest to students of linguistics and literary theory Paradox, Aphorism and Desire in Novalis and Derrida Clare Kennedy, 2008 Building on recent investigations into affinities between early German Romanticism and French post structuralism this study brings together the work of Jacques Derrida with the writings of one of early Romanticism's most important theorists Friedrich von Hardenberg 1772-1801 better known as Novalis In contrast to recent criticism which traces the historical path from Romanticism to modern theory in broad strokes this book undertakes comparative readings of Novalis and Derrida's texts on literature and philosophy The book focuses on the significance both writers accord to paradox and argues that readings which are attuned to paradox can better appreciate the proximity of Romanticism and post structuralism As well as their affirmation of paradox the texts of Novalis and Derrida testify to a profound respect for the Other and the close readings of selected texts reveal remarkable similarities in their thinking on literature philosophy and representation and on the intricate interrelation between language identity and desire The Bloomsbury Encyclopedia of Philosophers in America John R. Shook, 2016-02-11 For scholars working on almost any aspect of American thought The Bloomsbury Encyclopedia to Philosophers in America presents an indispensable reference work Selecting over 700 figures from the Dictionary of Early American Philosophers and the Dictionary of Modern American Philosophers this condensed edition includes key contributors to philosophical thought From 1600 to the present day entries cover psychology pedagogy sociology anthropology education theology and political science before these disciplines came to be considered distinct from philosophy Clear and accessible each entry contains a short biography of the writer an exposition and analysis of his or her doctrines and ideas a bibliography of writings and suggestions for further reading Featuring a new preface by the editor and a comprehensive introduction The Bloomsbury Encyclopedia to Philosophers in America includes 30 new entries on twenty first century thinkers including Martha Nussbaum and Patricia Churchland With in depth overviews of Waldo Emerson Margaret Fuller Noah Porter Frederick Rauch Benjamin Franklin Thomas Paine and Thomas Jefferson this is an invaluable one stop research volume to understanding leading figures in American thought and the development of American intellectual history
