Iskenderoglu,2022-06-13 This volume examines the approaches of Fakhr al D n al R z d 1209 and Thomas Aquinas d 1274 to the question of the eternity of the world which was one of the most heated issues of debate between theologians and philosophers in the Middle Ages The first chapter of the book gives some background to the discussion from Greek philosophy early Judaeo Christian and Muslim traditions The second and the third chapters discuss the approaches of R z and Aquinas respectively to the question of the eternity of the world The last chapter compares their approaches brings out some similarities of their approaches between them as well as in relation to their own traditions Islam and Christianity respectively The book tries to show that though they were theologians both R z and Aquinas were more in line with the philosophers than their fellow theologians Vermeer and Plato Robert D. Reimers,2006 The Soul of the Person is a contemporary account of the metaphysical basis for the transcendence of the human person In being directed toward truth beauty and goodness the human person transcends the physical order and reveals himself as a spiritual as well as a material being The Archetype of the Dying and Rising God in World Mythology Paul Rovang,2023-01-09 The Archetype of the Dying and Rising God in World Mythology is the first global treatment of the dying and rising god archetype since that classification was called into serious doubt in the final decades of the twentieth century While assaults on the concept have focused on the Classical and ancient Near Eastern Biblical traditions this study goes beyond but also includes these areas to encompass world mythology Beginning with an interrogation of the most influential criticisms the author then examines evidence for the archetype s validity by analyzing dying and rising god myths from ancient Near Eastern Classical and non Classical sources from around the world He treats implications of the archetype for religious studies literature and psychology both in discussing the myths themselves and in separate chapters dedicated to these fields The focused treatment on single myths makes this book a useful reference source At the same time its inductive approach to evidence provides a conclusive argument on the question with applications that warrant reading it from cover to cover Additional distinctive features of this book include a thematic interpretation of T S Eliot s Waste Land a new perspective on the Jungian archetypes and a call for a neo archetypal approach to literary criticism

Petrine Theology Douglas W. Kennard, 2022-09-23 Using a similar method to Kennard s biblical theology of Jesus Hebrews and Isaiah Kennard s Petrine Theology makes contributions to Peter s theology including Peter s Jewish heritage bridging from Jesus to Paul expressing compatible sovereignty and free will high Christology missional Trinity Hebraic anthropology Jewish atonement redemption and new exodus gospel as allegiance to Christ contextual sociological ecclesiology suffering and spiritual warfare in a narrow virtuous way to kingdom and nuanced consistent eschatology The companion volume Petrine Studies fills out background issues narrative biographical theology and practical life concerns from Mark Following a combination of Mark Peter s sermons in Acts and Petrine epistles Gene Green claims that Petrine theology makes unique contributions to Christian theology Pheme Perkins concurs Peter is the universal foundation for all the churches There is no figure who compasses more of that diversity than Peter F J Foakes Jackson concluded the very fact that Peter was singled out by the unanimous voice of the writers of the NT for pre eminence is sufficient reason why he should demand our serious attention James Dunn celebrated Peter was probably in fact and effect the bridge man pontifex maximus who did more than any other to hold together the diversity of first century Christianity

Ricoeur and Theology Dan R. Stiver, 2012-09-27 Paul Ricoeur 1913 2005 has been heralded as one of the most notable philosophers of the twentieth century Like a stone skipping across the philosophical pond he would write a major work in one field then move on to another As a consequence he is among the most inter disciplinarian of philosophers whose work not only explores such areas as existentialism phenomenology hermeneutics structuralism psychoanalysis metaphor narrative and political ethics it also bridges the gulf between Continental and Anglo American philosophy Despite this diversity one can identify continuous threads running through Ricoeur s work that make him a major representative of hermeneutical philosophy developing it much further in a critical direction One of the areas to which he contributed greatly almost in passing was the philosophy of religion where he made notable contributions in the areas of symbol metaphor and epistemology Ricoeur s work has been appropriated in theology but often in an indirect way This book will help the reader grasp the breadth of a complex philosopher indicating the increasing relevance and appropriation of Ricoeur s work in theology Death, Society, and Human Experience Robert Kastenbaum, Christopher M. Moreman, 2018-03-29 Providing an overview of the myriad ways that we are touched by death and dying both as an individual and as a member of society this book will help readers understand our relationship with death Kastenbaum and Moreman show how various ways that individual and societal attitudes influence both how and when we die and how we live and deal with the knowledge of death and loss This landmark text draws on contributions from the social and behavioral sciences as well as the humanities such as history religion philosophy literature and the arts to provide thorough coverage of understanding death and the dying process Death Society and Human Experience was originally written by Robert Kastenbaum a renowned scholar who developed one of the world's first death education courses Christopher Moreman who has worked in the field of death studies for almost two decades specializing in afterlife beliefs and experiences has updated this edition Death, Society and Human Experience (1-download) Robert Kastenbaum, 2015-07-22 Providing an understanding of the relationship with death both as an individual and as a member of society This book is intended to contribute to your understanding of your relationship with death both as an individual and as a member of society Kastenbaum shows how individual and societal attitudes influence both how and when we die and how we live and deal with the knowledge of death and loss Robert Kastenbaum is a renowned scholar who developed one of the world's first death education courses and introduced the first text for this market This landmark text draws on contributions from the social and behavioral sciences as well as the humanities such as history religion philosophy literature and the arts to provide thorough coverage of understanding death and the dying process Learning Goals Upon completing this book readers should be able to Understand the relationship with death both as an individual and as a member of society See how social forces and events affect the length of our lives how we grieve and how we die Learn how dying people are perceived and treated in our society and what can be done to provide the best possible care Master an understanding of continuing developments and challenges to hospice palliative care Understand what is becoming of faith and doubt about an afterlife Nondescriptive Meaning and Reference Wayne A. Davis, 2005-07-14 Nondescriptive Meaning and Reference extends Wayne Davis's groundbreaking work on the foundations of semantics Davis revives the classical doctrine that meaning consists in the expression of ideas and advances the expression theory by showing how it can account for standard proper names and the distinctive way their meaning determines their reference He also shows how the theory can handle interjections syncategorematic terms conventional implicatures and other cases long seen as difficult for both ideational and referential theories The expression theory is founded on the fact that thoughts are event types with a constituent structure and that thinking is a fundamental propositional attitude distinct from belief and desire Thought parts ideas or concepts are distinguished from both sensory images and conceptions Word meaning is defined recursively sentences and other complex expressions mean what they do in virtue of what thought parts their component words express and what thought structure the linguistic structure expresses and unstructured words mean what they do in living languages in virtue of evolving conventions to use them to express ideas The difficulties of descriptivism show that the ideas expressed by names are atomic or basic The reference of a name is the extension of the idea it expresses which is determined not by causal relations but by its identity or content together with the nature of objects in the world Hence a name's reference is dependent on but not identical to its meaning A name is directly and rigidly referential because the extension of the idea it expresses is not determined by the extensions of component ideas The expression theory thus has the strength of Fregeanism without its descriptivist bias and of Millianism without its referentialist or causalist shortcomings The referential properties of ideas can be set out recursively by providing a generative theory of ideas assigning extensions to atomic ideas and formulating rules whereby the semantic value of a complex idea is determined by the semantic values of its components Davis also shows how referential properties can be treated using situation semantics and possible worlds semantics The key is to drop the assumption that the values of intension functions are the referents of the words whose meaning they represent and to abandon the necessity of identity for logical modalities Many other pillars of contemporary philosophical semantics such as the twin earth arguments are shown to be unfounded

Categorization by Humans and Machines, 1993-10-22 The objective of the series has always been to provide a forum in which leading contributors to an area can write about significant bodies of research in which they are involved The operating procedure has been to invite contributions from interesting active investigators and then allow them essentially free rein to present their perspectives on important research problems The result of such invitations over the past two decades has been collections of papers which consist of thoughtful integrations providing an overview of a particular scientific problem The series has an excellent tradition of high quality papers and is widely read by researchers in cognitive and experimental psychology

- 2 Biological information is more than the material structures that embody it
- 3 Conventional chemical and evolutionary mechanisms seem insufficient to fully explain the labyrinth of information that is life By exploring new perspectives on biological information this volume seeks to expand encourage and enrich research into the nature and origin of biological information Petrine Studies Douglas W. Stone, Robert L. Stivers, 2004 Resistance and Theological Ethics collects the edited and updated essays that emerged from the meeting of the Theological Educators for Presbyterian Social Witness in Geneva Switzerland and southern France in 1999 These writings from educators and ethicists combine to sound a clarion call for the church to stand in resistance to social economic and political forces that threaten while embracing those that foster social justice peace and human welfare Each author emphasizes a specific call to resistance against powers grounded in particular forms of sin religious pride greed violence and domination Divided into three parts the book details social forces to be resisted presents historical and biblical examples of resistance and concludes with theological analysis and advocacy for action in contemporary American society The Tyranny of Heaven Michael Bryson, 2004 The Tyranny of Heaven argues for a new way of reading the figure of Milton's God contending that Milton rejects kings on earth and in heaven. Though Milton portrays God as a king in Paradise Lost, he does this neither to endorse kingship nor to recommend a monarchical model of deity. Instead, he recommends the Son, who in Paradise Regained, rejects external rule as the model of politics and theology for Milton's fit audience, though few. The portrait of God in Paradise Lost serves as a scathing critique of the English people and its slow but steady backsliding into the political habits of a nation long used to living under the yoke of kingship, a nation that maintained throughout its brief period of liberty the image of God as a heavenly king and finally welcomed with open arms the return of a human king.

Michael Bryson is a Visiting Assistant Professor of English at Northwestern University. Structure of International Society Geoffrey Stern, 2000-02-01. This second edition of this textbook places in context key world events since 1945. While not neglecting the significant developments of the last 50 years, this book has a broad historical and conceptual range. It provides students with a historical analysis of the origins, development, and early networks of IR and an exposition of the diverse ways in which modern international society has been defined and interpreted. Tackling a range of international concerns, Geoffrey Stern explores and clarifies such concepts as sovereignty, the balance of power, national interest, and interdependence, illustrating his text with reference to both historical and contemporary world events.

Opportunity Donald Morris, 2006. Can you recognize an opportunity when it comes your way? Even though the concept seems fairly basic, most people harbor regrets about missed opportunities that in retrospect might have significantly improved their lives. This book will give you the critical tools to sort through the complexities that often obscure the perception of an opportunity and help you take full advantage of what author Donald Morris calls high-end opportunities: pivotal situations that can change your life for the better. Morris begins by developing a model of opportunity in the abstract, analyzing its elements and the contexts and frameworks that affect our recognition of opportunities. Drawing from a wide range of applications, including investing, business law, criminology, gambling, and even religion, he shows how opportunities can be defined in various contexts. He also examines highly undesirable situations where opportunity is lacking, such as poverty and historical instances of slavery, to further illustrate by way of contrast the defining characteristics of opportunity. How does a significant opportunity differ from a simple option? How does taking advantage of opportunities differ from being an opportunist? Does our ability to predict the future affect our opportunities? What do we mean by equality of opportunity? By addressing these and other probing questions, Morris shows how to develop more critical perceptions of real opportunities.
