Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture

Language for Those Who Have Nothing Peter Good, 2006-04-11 The aim of Language for those who have Nothing is to think psychiatry through the writings of Mikhail Bakhtin Using the concepts of Dialogism and Polyphony the Carnival and the Chronotope a novel means of navigating the clinical landscape is developed Bakhtin offers language as a social phenomenon and one that is fully embodied Utterances are shown to be alive and enfolded and their meanings realised in the context of given social dimensions The organisation of this book corresponds with carnival practices of taking the high down to the low before replenishing its meaning anew Thus early discussions of official language and the chronotope become exposed to descending levels of analysis and emphasis Patients and practitioners are shown to occupy an entirely different spatio-temporal topography These chronotopes have powerful borders and it is necessary to use the Carnival powers of cunning and deception in order to enter and to leave them The book provides an overview of practitioners who have attempted such transgression and the author records his own unnerving experience as a pseudopatient By exploring the context of psychiatry's unofficial voices its terminology jokes parodies and everyday narratives the clinical landscape is shown to rely heavily on unofficial dialogues in order to safeguard an official identity A Dictionary of Modern Critical Terms Roger Fowler, 2016-09-19 This book first published in 1987 differs from many other dictionaries of criticism in concentrating less on time honoured rhetorical terms and more on conceptually flexible powerful terms Each entry consists of not simply a dictionary definition but an essay exploring the history and full significance of the term and its possibilities in critical discourse This title is an ideal basic reference text for literature students of all levels Dictionary of the Theatre Patrice Pavis, 1998-01-01 An encyclopedic dictionary of technical and theoretical terms the book covers all aspects of a semiotic approach to the theatre with cross referenced alphabetical entries ranging from absurd to word scenery Bartók and the Grotesque Julie A. Twark, 2007 Explores the Eastern German literary trend of the 1990s employing humor and satire to come to terms with socialism's failure and a difficult unification process This title surveys ten novels including works by Brussig Schulze and Hensel These contemporary texts help define Germany today from a specific East German perspective Dennis Kelly Aloysia Rousseau, 2024-08-01 Dennis Kelly explores Kelly's unusual career path and sheds light on his eclectic approach to the arts characterised by a refusal to write texts that people can fit within neat categories This is the first monograph on Kelly's work for stage and screen and brings to light his essential contribution to contemporary British drama and his huge range of work including his rise to international fame with Matilda the Musical Drawing on Kelly's published and unpublished texts his work in production reviews original interviews with directors actors and with Kelly himself as well as critical theory Dennis Kelly examines and reappraises key motifs in his work such as his preoccupation with violence the complex relationship between the individual and the community or his emphasis on storytelling It also offers new insights into overlooked aspects of Kelly's work by setting out to explore his traumatic narratives and his post-romanticism In keeping

Bartók and the Grotesque Julie Brown, 2017-07-05 The grotesque is one of art's most puzzling figures transgressive comprising an unresolvable hybrid generally focussing on the human body full of hyperbole and ultimately semantically deeply puzzling In Bluebeard's Castle 1911 The Wooden Prince 1916 17 The Miraculous Mandarin 1919 24 rev 1931 and Cantata Profana 1930 Bartók engaged scenarios featuring either overtly grotesque bodies or closely related transformations and violations of the body In a number of instrumental works he also overtly engaged grotesque satirical strategies sometimes as in Two Portraits Ideal and Grotesque indicating this in the title In this book Julie Brown argues that Bartók concerns with stylistic hybridity high low East West tonal atonal modal the body and the grotesque are interconnected While Bartók developed each interest in highly individual ways and did so separately to a considerable extent the three concerns remained conceptually interlinked All three were thoroughly implicated in cultural constructions of the Modern during the period in which Bartók was composing

Russian Writers and the Fin de Siècle Katherine Bowers, Ani Kokobobo, 2015-06-17 Russian literature has a reputation for gloomy texts especially during the late nineteenth century This volume argues that a fin de siècle mood informed Russian literature long before the chronological end of the nineteenth century in ways that had significant impact on the development of Russian realism Some chapters consider ideas more readily associated with fin de siècle Europe such as degeneration theory bieterminism Freudian psychoanalysis or apocalypticism alongside earlier Russian realist texts by writers such as Turgenev Dostoevsky or Tolstoy Other chapters explore the changes that realism underwent as modernism emerged examining later nineteenth century or early twentieth century texts in the context of the earlier realist tradition or their own cultural moment Overall a team of emerging and established scholars of Russian literature and culture present a wide range of creative and insightful readings that shed new light on later realism in all its manifestations
