Terrorism Risk Assessment Instruments Raymond Corrado, Ariel Merari, 2021-03-15 The search for a distinct terrorist profile has been going on for many years and while it is generally agreed that nobody is born a terrorist, there is plenty of disagreement about why a person might become one. Whereas personal and situational push and pull factors can be combined to determine how and why young people become involved in terrorism, preventing an individual from following a path that ends in violence without moral restraint poses an enormous challenge, especially in an open society. This book presents papers from the NATO Advanced Research Workshop titled 'A Review of the Utility of Existing Terrorism Risk Assessment Instruments and Policies: Is there the Need for Possible New Approaches?' held in Berlin, Germany, on 29-30 November 2019. Researchers were asked to present papers for discussion sessions with invited participants and practitioners from a number of NATO member and partner countries. Various assessment instruments for identifying problematic individuals at an early stage were presented by experts. It was generally agreed that due to cultural, religious, and other differences, there is no simple way to identify the relatively few high-risk individuals among the larger population of politically radicalized but not necessarily violent individuals who pose no threat. Framed by an Introduction and Conclusion, the 16 chapters in the book are divided into three parts: Theory and Risk Threat Assessment Instrument Policy Themes; Implementation of Politically Motivated Terrorism Protocols and Personality Traits Disorders; Anti-State Terrorism Profiles and the DSM-5 Personality Trait Instrument. This practice-oriented book will be of interest to all those tasked with protecting and Co-regulation as Governance Solutions José Sixto-García, Bella Palomo, Carmen Peñafiel, 2024-12-27 The governance of media infrastructures in the European Union has always been a particularly complex affair A notable factor contributing to this complexity is a framework that features a dual funding model where public and private media exist side by side

Increasing concerns over the politicization of the media as well as the lack of transparency concerning their ownership have made things even more complex The European Union's Media Pluralism Monitor has highlighted the weaknesses of information pluralism in a context where researchers are compelled to study the role that artificial intelligence automation is playing in both the creation of content and the development of spyware technologies for the surveillance of journalists In response to these concerns the European Commission has proposed the adoption of a new set of rules known as the Media Freedom Act the chief purpose of which is to protect media pluralism and independence within the bloc The Act raises a number of important questions however For example it is not prima facie clear whether media independence can or should be regulated some might even go so far as to argue that doing so would be a plain contradiction in terms and just how much pluralism there should be within a committee whose job is to evaluate information pluralism The Cosby Cohort Cherise A.
