

PHYSICAL ASSESSMENT: HEAD TO TOE

Physical assessment

- Is a process by which a nurse obtains a data that describes a person's responses to actual or potential health problems which is analyzed to form pertinent diagnosis.
- Is a head-to-toe review of each body system that offers objective information about the client and allows the nurse to make clinical judgment.

Importance of physical assessment

- To early detect and treat diseases and disorders.
- To identify actual and potential health problems.
- To establish a data based from which the subsequent phases of the nursing evolve.
- To assess the client's impact of activity and exercise on the client's overall level of health.
- To assess the client's routine exercise pattern and observe how the client's body system response to activity and exercise.
- To establish the client-nurse relationship.
- To obtain information about the client's health including, physiologic, psychological, socio-cultural, cognitive, developmental and spiritual aspects.
- To identify the client's strength and weaknesses.

Purpose of physical assessment

- To supplement, confirm or refute data obtained in the nursing history.
- To confirm and identify nursing diagnosis.

- To make clinical judgments about a client's changing health status and management.
- To evaluate the physiological outcome of care.
- To obtain and gather data about the client's health basis of data for future assessment.
- An excellent way to evaluate an individual's current health status.

Four basic techniques in physical assessment

1. Inspection

- It is the use of one's senses of vision and smell to consciously observe the patient.
- It is also known as concentrated watching.
- It is a close, careful scrutiny; first of the individual as a whole and then of each body system.

2. Palpation

- It is the act of touching a patient in a therapeutic manner to elicit specific information.
- It follows and often confirms points you noted during inspection.

Palpation applies your sense of touch to assess these factors

- Texture
- Temperature
- Moisture
- Organ location and size
- Any swelling, vibration or pulsation
- Rigidity or spasticity
- Crepitation
- Presence of lumps or masses
- Presence of tenderness or pain.

Two distinct types of palpation

a. Light palpation

Resources in Education, 1993-10 Coordinating Instruction in Two Comprehensive School Reforms Danae de los Ríos, 2007 Leadership from the Ground Up Michele A. Acker-Hocevar, Marta I. Cruz-Janzen, Cynthia L. Wilson, 2012-01-01 This book chronicles the journey of seven schools serving students of poverty English Language Learners ELLs and students of color which were able to sustain school improvement for a decade on either state and or national criteria that measure student performance outcomes The book shares stories of these seven schools and demonstrates that it takes an entire school working together with their communities adding to the social and cultural capital of their students and families to create and nurture what we call a Learning Partnership for sustainable school improvement The answers for how these schools sustained school improvement and are effective schools is evident from their school student metrics that validate the school's ability to meet and sustain external mandates of high performance over time The seven individual case stories illustrate that what matters most is what happens in the school itself It is the internal culture of caring and respecting each other and working from an additive perspective of valuing students for their unique gifts and abilities rather than exclusively focusing on increasing test scores that makes these school stories unique This is not about heroic leadership but leadership spread out and shared among professionals working together to achieve common goals around shared values and beliefs This book is about using resources in ways that value human capital as the greatest asset in the school to ensure that educators feel a sense of commitment connection and passion for their work together with students their families and their communities that enable them to excel together We offer readers seven cases that demonstrate there is no cookie cutter approach to having an effective school Rather there is a theory in practice that grounds the Learning Partnership depicted as a tree within a sustainable school improvement culture This sustainable culture connects shared leadership and accountability resourcefulness a humanistic philosophy additive schooling and results in an organization synergy that sustains organizational and collective efficacy for achieving results in these schools that other educators in schools with similar demographics are often unable to sustain or attain

The Achievement Gap in Reading Rosalind Horowitz, S. Jay Samuels, 2017-04-07 In this volume prominent scholars experts in their respective fields and highly skilled in the research they conduct address educational and reading research from varied perspectives and address what it will take to close the achievement gap with specific attention to reading The achievement gap is redefined as a level at which all groups can compete economically in our society and have the literacy tools and habits needed for a good life Bringing valuable theoretical frameworks and in depth analytical approaches to interpretation of data the contributors examine factors that contribute to student achievement inside the school but which are also heavily influenced by out of school factors such as poverty and economics ethnicity and culture family and community stratifications and approaches to measurement of achievement These out of school factors present possibilities for new policies and practice The overarching theme is that achievement gaps in reading are complex and that multiple perspectives are necessary to address the problem The breadth and depth of perspectives and content in this volume and its conceptualization of the achievement gap are a significant contribution to the field

Safety at the Sharp End Rhona Flin,Paul O'Connor,2017-05-15 Many 21st century operations are characterised by teams of workers dealing with significant risks and complex technology in competitive commercially driven environments Informed managers in such sectors have realised the necessity of understanding the human dimension to their operations if they hope to improve production and safety performance While organisational safety culture is a key determinant of workplace safety it is also essential to focus on the non technical skills of the system operators based at the sharp end of the organisation These skills are the cognitive and social skills required for efficient and safe operations often termed Crew Resource Management CRM skills In industries such as civil aviation it has long been appreciated that the majority of accidents could have been prevented if better non technical skills had been demonstrated by personnel operating and maintaining the system As a result the aviation industry has pioneered the development of CRM training Many other organisations are now introducing non technical skills training most notably within the healthcare sector Safety at the Sharp End is a general guide to the theory and practice of non technical skills for safety It covers the identification training and evaluation of non technical skills and has been written for use by individuals who are studying or training these skills on CRM and other safety or human factors courses The material is also suitable for undergraduate and post experience students studying human factors or industrial safety programmes
