Partridge, 1909 Book-prices Current , 1909 The Haitians Jean Casimir, 2020-09-29 In this sweeping history leading Haitian intellectual Jean Casimir argues that the story of Haiti should not begin with the usual image of Saint Domingue as the richest colony of the eighteenth century Rather it begins with a reconstruction of how individuals from Africa in the midst of the golden age of imperialism created a sovereign society based on political imagination and a radical rejection of the colonial order persisting even through the U S occupation in 1915 The Haitians also critically retheorizes the very nature of slavery colonialism and sovereignty Here Casimir centers the perspectives of Haiti's mounde and the largely African descended rural peasantry Asking how these systematically marginalized and silenced people survived in the face of almost complete political disenfranchisement Casimir identifies what he calls a counter plantation system Derived from Caribbean political and cultural practices the counter plantation encompassed consistent reliance on small scale landholding Casimir shows how lakou small plots of land often inhabited by generations of the same family were and continue to be sites of resistance even in the face of structural disadvantages originating in colonial times some of which continue to be maintained by the Haitian government with support from outside powers The Bloomsbury Handbook of Radio Kathryn McDonald, Hugh Chignell, 2023-01-26 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Radio presents exciting new research on radio and audio including broadcasting and podcasting Since the birth of radio studies as a distinct subject in the 1990s it has matured into a second wave of inquiry and scholarship As broadcast radio has partly given way to podcasting and as community initiatives have pioneered more diverse and innovative approaches so scholars have embarked on new areas of inquiry Divided into seven sections the Handbook covers Communities Entertainment Democracy Emotions Listening Studying Radio Futures The Bloomsbury Handbook of Radio is designed to offer academics researchers and practitioners an international comprehensive collection of original essays written by a combination of well established experts new scholars and industry practitioners Each section begins with an introduction by Hugh Chignell and Kathryn McDonald putting into context each contribution mapping the discipline and capturing new directions of radio research while providing an invaluable resource for radio studies Auction catalogues of books Puttick and Simpson (messrs.),1846 Hating Empire Properly Sunil M.

Agnani,2013-05-09 In Hating Empire Properly Sunil Agnani produces a novel attempt to think the eighteenth century imagination of the West and East Indies together arguing that this is how contemporary thinkers Edmund Burke and Denis Diderot actually viewed them This concern with multiple geographical spaces is revealed to be a largely unacknowledged part of the matrix of Enlightenment thought in which eighteenth century European and American self conceptions evolved By focusing on colonial spaces of the Enlightenment especially India and Haiti he demonstrates how Burke s fearful view of the French Revolution the defining event of modernity as shaped by prior reflection on these other domains Exploring with sympathy the angry outbursts against injustice in the writings of Diderot he nonetheless challenges recent understandings of him as a univocal critic of empire by showing the persistence of a fantasy of consensual colonialism in his thought By looking at the impasses and limits in the thought of both radical and conservative writers Agnani asks what it means to critique empire properly Drawing his method from Theodor Adorno s quip that one must have tradition in oneself in order to hate it properly he proposes a critical inhabiting of dominant forms of reason as a way forward for the critique of both empire and Enlightenment Thus this volume makes important contributions to political theory history literary studies American studies and postcolonial studies Translating Knowledge in the Early Modern Low Countries Harold John Cook,Sven Dupré,2012 Knowledge of nature may be common to all of humanity yet it is written in many tongues The story of the Tower of Babel is not only an etiology of the multitude of languages it also suggests that a confusion of tongues confounds communication However as the contributors to this volume show translation is always a transformation This book examines how such transformations generate new knowledge and how translations helped to establish a new science Situated at the border of the Germanic and Romance languages home to a highly educated population the Low Countries fostered multilingualism and became one of the chief sites for translation Series Low Countries Studies on the Circulation of Natural Knowledge Vol 3

Bibliographical and Historical Description of the Rarest Books in the Oliveira Lima Collection at the Catholic University of America Catholic University of America. Library,1927 Montaigne Dikka Berven,1995 Word Study in Montaigne s Essais Modern readers in need of a precise understanding both of the changes in the French language over the last 400 years since the Essais was written and of the idiosyncracies of Montaigne s usage will appreciate these articles exploring the nuances and fluctuations in the meaning of many of Montaigne s words These critical studies of Montaigne s vocabulary and its shifting contexts will aid in understanding how Montaigne s choice of words reflects his ability to take elements from his background of wide ranging life long classical reading and blend them with his own original unflagging curiosity and speculation about matters relating to contemporary life Amerasia Elizabeth Horodowich,Alexander Nagel,2023-09-05 A connected world as imagined by early modern European artists mapmakers and writers where Asia and the Americas were on a continuum America and Asia mingled in the geographical and cultural imagination of Europe for well over a century after 1492 Through an array of texts maps objects and images produced between 1492 and 1700 this compelling and revelatory study immerses the reader in a vision of a world where Mexico really was India North America was an extension of China and South America was marked by a variety of biblical and Asian sites It asks further What does it mean that the Amerasian worldview predominated at a time when Europe itself was coming into cultural self definition Each of the chapters focuses on a particular artifact map image or book that illuminates aspects of Amerasia from specific European cultural milieus Amerasia shows how it was possible to inhabit a world where America and Asia were connected either imaginatively when viewed from afar or in reality when traveling through the newly encountered lands Readers will learn why early modern maps regularly label Mexico as India why the Amazonas region was named after a race of Asian female warriors and why artifacts and manuscripts that we now identify as Indian and Chinese are entangled in European collections with what we now label Americana Elizabeth Horodowich and Alexander Nagel pose a dynamic model of the world and of Europe's place in it that was eclipsed by the rise of Eurocentric colonialist narratives in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries To rediscover this history is an essential part of coming to terms with the emergent polyfocal global reality of our own time

The Making of the Nations and Cultures of the New World Gérard Bouchard, 2008 Between the sixteenth and nineteenth centuries the Americas Australia and New Zealand emerged as nations Through conquest and violent appropriation European immigrants settled these lands and soon developed a sense of belonging most potently expressed in identity memory and the belief in utopias Many of these new collectivities or founding nations succeeded in breaking their colonial links to achieve political and cultural emancipation from their European mother country The Making of the Nations and Cultures of the New World explores the question of how a culture a collective imaginary is born Gérard Bouchard compares the historical itineraries of New World collectivities which were driven by a dream of freedom and sovereignty and finds major differences as well as striking commonalities in their formation and evolution He also considers the myths and discursive strategies devised by the elites to unite and mobilize very diversified populations The first English translation of Genèse des nations et cultures du Nouveau Monde winner of a Governor General's Literary Award in 2000 this acclaimed book provides important insights for contemporary nations in crisis

Disguise in George Sand's Novels Françoise Gillebaert, 2009 Sandian heroines swirl around men in their sororal and sartorial disguises like moths around candle flames However as Disguise in George Sand's Novels illustrates the disguise is not an instrument to seduce men but rather to assert the heroines' true selves The portrayal of female and androgynous protagonists in Rose et Blanche 1831 Indiana 1832 Lélia 1833 39 Gabriel 1839 Consuelo 1842 and La Comtesse de Rudolstadt 1844 is a metaphor to demonstrate the continuity of identities before and after the disguise as George Sand stipulates in her theory of the metempsychosis Disguise in George Sand's Novels explores the maturation process of Romantic and artistically inclined heroines and highlights the spiritual meaning of the disguise as a rite of passage for the birth of a new type of protagonist spiritual self assertive and dedicated to erasing gender inequality and helping the poor
