Keeping in Touch With Pragma-Dialectics Eveline T. Feteris, Bart Garssen, A. Francisca Snoeck

Henkemans, 2011-01-01 Keeping in touch with Pragma Dialectics is written to honor Frans van Eemeren and his work in the field of argumentation theory on the occasion of his retirement. The volume contains 17 contributions from teams of authors consisting of a combination of a pragma dialectician and one or two researchers with a different background in the field of argumentation. In this volume comparisons between the pragma dialectical approach and other approaches are made, aspects of strategic maneuvering such as the use of presentational techniques, adaptation to the audience and the selection of topics are dealt with, and the influence of specific institutional contexts such as politics, medicine, and internet forums on strategic maneuvering are discussed.

Contextualizing Pragma-Dialectics Frans H. van Eemeren, Wu Peng, 2017-12-12
Contextualizing Pragma Dialectics contains a selection of 18 articles reporting on research conducted in the past decade in which the institutional context in which argumentative discourse takes place is systematically taken into account. Some articles provide relevant theoretical backgrounds, other articles make clear how the extended pragma dialectical theory can be used to analyse and evaluate argumentative discourse in specific institutional contexts. Next to argumentative discourse in the legal domain and the medical context of health communication, a great deal of attention is paid to various argumentative practices in the political domain or dealing with specific social issues. A contribution on multimodal argumentation is also included. All contributing authors are actively engaged in the International Learned Institute for Argumentation Studies (ILIAS).

The Pragmatics of Political Discourse Anita Fetzer, 2013-01-29 The volume promotes a pragmatic perspective to the analysis of political discourse as multilayered mediated discourse. The chapters cross the disciplinary and methodological boundaries of speech act theory, social positioning theory, and argumentation theory and rhetorics. They address the strategic use of address terms and irony, the form and function of questions, and the expression of certainty in the contexts of parliamentary discourse, interview, talkshow, phone-in programme, and motion of support across different discourse domains. Different cultural contexts are represented, including Africa, the Middle East, different parts of Europe, and the United States.

Verbal Communication Andrea Rocci, Louis de Saussure, 2016-03-07 Common sense tells us that verbal communication should be a central concern both for the study of communication and for the study of language. Language is the most pervasive means of communication in human societies especially if we consider the huge gamut of communication phenomena where spoken and written language combines with other modalities such as gestures or pictures. Most communication researchers have to deal with issues of language use in their work. Classic methods in communication research from content analysis to interviews and questionnaires not to mention the obvious cases of rhetorical analysis and discourse analysis presuppose the understanding of the meaning of spontaneous or elicited verbal productions. Despite its pervasiveness verbal communication does not currently define one cohesive and distinct subfield within the communication discipline. The Handbook of Verbal Communication seeks to address this gap. In doing so it draws not only on the communication discipline but also on the rich interdisciplinary research on language and communication that developed over the last fifty years as linguistics interacted with the social sciences and the cognitive sciences. The interaction of linguistic research with the social sciences has produced a plethora of approaches to the study of meanings in social context from conversation analysis to critical discourse analysis while cognitive research on verbal communication carried out in cognitive pragmatics as well as in cognitive linguistics has offered insights into the interaction between language inference and persuasion and into cognitive processes such as framing or metaphorical mapping. The Handbook of Verbal Communication volume takes into account these two traditions selecting those issues and themes that are most relevant for communication scholars. It addresses background matters such as the evolution of human verbal communication and the relationship between verbal and non verbal means of communication and offers an extensive discussion of the explicit and implicit meanings of verbal messages with a focus on emotive and figurative meanings. Conversation and fundamental types of discourse such as argument and narrative are presented in depth as is the key notion of discourse genre. The nature of writing systems as well as the interaction of spoken or written language with non verbal modalities are devoted ample attention. Different contexts of language use are considered from the mass media and the new media to the organizational contexts. Cultural and linguistic diversity is addressed with a focus on phenomena such as multilingual communication and translation. A key feature of the volume is the coverage of verbal communication quality. Quality is examined both from a cognitive and from a social perspective. It covers topics that range from the cognitive processes underlying deceptive communication to the methods that can be used to assess the quality of texts in an organizational context.

Argumentation Theory: A Pragma-Dialectical Perspective Frans H. van Eemeren, 2018-07-27 The book offers a compact but comprehensive introductory overview of the crucial components of argumentation theory. In presenting this overview argumentation is consistently approached from a pragma dialectical perspective by viewing it pragmatically as a goal directed communicative activity and dialectically as part of a regulated critical exchange aimed at resolving a difference of opinion. As a result the book also systematically explains how the constitutive parts of the pragma dialectical theory of argumentation which are discussed in a number of separate publications hang together The following crucial topics are discussed 1 argumentation theory as a discipline 2 the meta theoretical principles of pragma dialectics 3 the model of a critical discussion aimed at resolving a difference of opinion 4 fallacies as violations of a code of conduct for reasonable argumentative discourse 5 descriptive research of argumentative reality 6 analysis as theoretically motivated reconstruction 7 strategic manoeuvring aimed at combining achieving effectiveness with maintaining reasonableness 8 the conventionalization of argumentative practices 9 prototypical argumentative patterns 10 pragma dialectics amidst other approaches Argumentation Theory A Pragma Dialectical Perspective is clearly written and makes argumentation theory understandable to all scholars and advanced students interested in argumentation research argumentation in the health care domain Argumentation and Health is a collection of essays by argumentation theorists reflecting on the way in which the institutional context of health care shapes the argumentative interaction The volume provides for the first time an overview of the most important recent developments and achievements of the study of argumentation in medical and public oriented health communication In Argumentation and Health attention is paid to argumentation in different forms of health communication such as the medical consultation direct to consumer drug advertising health brochures and health risk communication This book is of interest to argumentation theorists health communication scholars healthcare practitioners students of medicine and health related fields and all other researchers and practitioners interested in the function and characteristics of argumentation in health communication Originally published in Journal of Argumentation in Context Vol 1 1 2012

Rigour and Reason: Essays in Honour of Hans Vilhelm Hansen J. Anthony Blair ,Christopher W. Tindale,2020-06-11 Built in the centre of Copenhagen and noted for its equestrian stairway the Rundetaarn Round Tower was intended as an astronomical observatory Part of a complex of buildings that once included a university library it affords expansive views of the city in every direction towering above what surrounds it The metaphor of the towering figure who sees what others might not whose vantage point allows him to visualize how things fit together and who has an earned stature of respect and authority fits another Danish stalwart Hans Vilhelm Hansen whose contributions to the fields of informal logic and argument theory have earned the gratitude of his colleagues and inspired this collection of essays written to express the appreciation of its authors and of the many many colleagues they represent

Inside Arguments Henrique Jales Ribeiro,2012-04-25 This volume includes a collection of eighteen essays that provide a decisive input to the study of logic and argumentation theory by some of the finest specialists in these areas covering the main schools of thought and contemporary trends at the beginning of the 21st century In these essays the authors clarify the status of what we currently call ambiguously and problematically logic and argumentation theory and discuss the no less controversial issue of the relationship between these two concepts when applied to the study of argumentation and its problems At the same time they take stock of the most recent developments of argumentation theory considered as an ongoing research subject It is the first time in the last few decades that a work this comprehensive and up to date on such matters has been published This volume is an essential tool for all of those interested in the study of the relations between logic and argumentation particularly at the university level It provides not only an introduction to these subjects but also the necessary framework for further specialised research development in the future

Contemporary Critical Discourse Studies Christopher Hart,Piotr Cap,2014-11-07 CDS is a multifarious field constantly developing different methodological frameworks for analysing dynamically evolving aspects of language in a broad range of socio political and institutional contexts This volume is a cutting edge interdisciplinary account of these theoretical and empirical developments It presents an up to date survey of Critical Discourse Studies CDS covering both the theoretical landscape and the analytical territories

that it extends over It is intended for critical scholars and students who wish to keep abreast of the current state of the art The book is divided into two parts In the first part the chapters are organised around different methodological perspectives for CDS history cognition multimodality and corpora among others In the second part the chapters are organised around particular discourse types and topics investigated in CDS both traditionally e g issues of racism and gender inequality and only more recently e g issues of health public policy and the environment This is altogether an essential new reference work for all CDS practitioners 2012 ,2013-03-01 Particularly in the humanities and social sciences festschrifts are a popular forum for discussion The IJBF provides quick and easy general access to these important resources for scholars and students The festschrifts are located in state and regional libraries and their bibliographic details are recorded Since 1983 more than 659 000 articles from more than 30 500 festschrifts published between 1977 and 2011 have been catalogued Reflections on Theoretical Issues in Argumentation Theory Frans H. van Eemeren,Bart Garssen,2015-08-08 This volume presents a selection of papers reflecting key theoretical issues in argumentation theory Its six sections are devoted to specific themes including the analysis and evaluation of argumentation argument schemes and the contextual embedding of argumentation The section on general perspectives on argumentation discusses the trends of empiricization contextualization and formalization offers descriptions of the analytical and evaluative tools of informal logic and highlights selected principles that argumentation theorists do and do not agree upon In turn the section on linguistic approaches to argumentation focuses on the problem of distinguishing between explanation and argument while also elaborating on the role of verbal indicators of argument schemes All essays included in this volume point out notable recent developments in the study of argumentation

Reasoning and Public Health: New Ways of Coping with Uncertainty Louise Cummings,2015-03-27 This book argues that in order to be truly effective public health must embrace a group of reasoning strategies that have traditionally been characterized as informal fallacies It will be demonstrated that these strategies can facilitate judgements about complex public health issues in contexts of uncertainty The book explains how scientists and lay people routinely resort to the use of these strategies during consideration of public health problems Although these strategies are not deductively valid they are nevertheless rationally warranted procedures Public health professionals must have a sound understanding of these cognitive strategies in order to engage the public and achieve their public health goals The book draws upon public health issues as wide ranging as infectious diseases food safety and the potential impact on human health of new technologies It examines reasoning in the context of these issues within a large scale questionnaire based survey of nearly 900 members of the public in the UK In addition several philosophical themes run throughout the book including the nature of uncertainty scientific knowledge and inquiry The complexity of many public health problems demands an approach to reasoning that cannot be accommodated satisfactorily within a general thinking skills framework This book shows that by developing an awareness of these reasoning strategies scientists and members of the public can have a more productive engagement with public health problems      Inference in Argumentation Eddo Rigotti, Sara Greco, 2018-12-10 This book investigates the role of inference in argumentation considering how arguments support standpoints on the basis of different loci The authors propose and illustrate a model for the analysis of the standpoint argument connection called Argumentum Model of Topics AMT A prominent feature of the AMT is that it distinguishes within each and every single argumentation between an inferential procedural component on which the reasoning process is based and a material contextual component which anchors the argument in the interlocutors cultural and factual common ground The AMT explains how these components differ and how they are intertwined within each single argument This model is introduced in Part II of the book following a careful reconstruction of the enormously rich tradition of studies on inference in argumentation from the antiquity to contemporary authors without neglecting medieval and post medieval contributions The AMT is a contemporary model grounded in a dialogue with such tradition whose crucial aspects are illuminated in this book      Multimodal Argumentation and Rhetoric in Media Genres Assimakis Tseronis, Charles Forceville, 2017-12-15 This collection advances the study of context dependent characteristics of argumentative discourse by examining a variety of media genres in which text and image and other semiotic modes combine to create meaning The chapters have been written by an international group of senior and junior scholars researching multimodal argumentation in the last two decades In each chapter a specific approach to argumentation and rhetoric is combined with insights from visual studies metaphor theory scientific visualization cognitive science semiotics conversation analysis or documentary film theory in order to explain how multimodal genres function argumentatively and rhetorically Together the chapters present a state of the art in the analysis of multimodal argumentation in such diverse genres as print advertisements news photographs scientific illustrations political cartoons documentaries film trailers political TV advertisements public debates and political speeches The volume will be of interest to advanced students and scholars in argumentation studies rhetoric and multimodal communication      The Language of Argumentation Ronny Boogaart, Henrike Jansen, Maarten van Leeuwen, 2021-01-20 Bringing together scholars from a broad range of theoretical perspectives The Language of Argumentation offers a unique overview of research at the crossroads of linguistics and theories of argumentation In addition to theoretical and methodological reflections by leading scholars in their fields the book contains studies of the relationship between language and argumentation from two different viewpoints While some chapters take a specific argumentative move as their point of departure and investigate the ways in which it is linguistically manifested in discourse other chapters start off from a linguistic construction trying to determine its argumentative function and rhetorical potential The Language of Argumentation documents the currently prominent research on stylistic aspects of argumentation and illustrates how the study of argumentation benefits from insights from linguistic models ranging from theoretical pragmatics politeness theory and metaphor studies to models of discourse coherence and construction grammar

Visual Metaphor Gerard J. Steen, 2018-12-15 Metaphor has recently been reconceptualised as a fundamental part of the human conceptual system It can hence be expressed in language but also in other modalities and media of communication including gesture and body language sound and music and film and visuals In spite of this theoretical landslide however the wide range of nonverbal metaphor and its processing has neither been empirically investigated on the same scale nor with the same rigour as metaphor in language The overarching goal of this book is to report on the findings of a research program aimed at exploiting the vast cognitive linguistic and psycholinguistic expertise on metaphor in language for a new behaviourally founded approach to the structure and processes of metaphor in one of these nonverbal manifestations namely static visuals The book presents concepts and methods for the identification and analysis of metaphor in document structure as well as new approaches to the study of visual metaphor processing Its results are intended to further the development of an encompassing and robust cognitive scientific theory of metaphor by including visual metaphor while also enriching our understanding of the communicative possibilities and effects of visual metaphor in multimodal discourse

Authoritarianism on the Front Page Dimitris Serafis, 2023-03-15 This volume offers a critical discursive argumentative framework that scrutinizes the discursive construction and moreover the argumentative justification of authoritarian attitudes on newspaper front pages in highly polarized times of multiple crises in Greece At the same time it aspires to outline novel research avenues for scholars working in the fields of critical discourse and argumentation studies multimodality and communication studies that go beyond the study of the meaning potential of multimodal artifacts and focus on the study of the argumentative inferences that are triggered by multimodal discourses in polarized contexts It frames the theoretical discussion based on concepts such as Nikos Poulantzas authoritarian statism as well as Antonio Gramsci's hegemony and intellectuals Methodologically it draws on the agenda of multimodal critical discourse analysis integrating principles and tools from social semiotics and multimodal argumentation studies with a particular focus on inference in argumentation
